GIVING OUT

The Struggle Discovers Many a Citizen of Klamath Falls

Around all day with an aching back; Can't rest at night; Enough to make any one "give out."

Doan's Kidney Pills have given renewed life to thousands. They are for kidney backache. For other kidney ills. Here is convincing proof of their worth:

M. Powell, 263 Oak street, Ashland, Oregon, says: "I suffered a great deal from kidney trouble and backache and sometimes I could hardly get around. On arising in the morning I was stiff and lame, and the kidney secretions annoyed me by their irregularity in passage. As soon as I commenced taking Doan's Kidney Pills I improved, and I am now in good health. I still use Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally, however, but more as a preventative than anything else. I always insist upon Doan's Kidney Pills, for no substitute could be as effective as they."

For sale by all druggists. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON
SATURDAY, JULY 13, 1912

SOMETHING TO WORK FOR

IT IS THE busy man that keeps out of trouble, and it is the busy city that has no time for local squabbles and fights. Klamath Falls has enough important matters in the way of entertainment of distinguished visitors and the securing of those improvements and accommodations that will bring the people and the dollars to this city, to keep every resident of the city busy every minute of the time for the rest of the summer. When these are accomplished there will be others of even greater importance, and in their energy the people will soon forget that there is any one end of town, but it will be just Klamath Falls, first, last, and all of the time. That is the feeling that is going to make this one of the greatest cities on the coast.

Take the seventy or more men who attended the dollar dinner yesterday. If they work as a body there is nothing that they could not accomplish for Klamath Falls. Anything that will benefit Klamath Falls will be of equal benefit to each one of these men. This city is today the liveliest place on the Pacific coast, and with every citizen, man and woman, working shoulder to shoulder, with one object and purpose in view, the upbuilding of Klamath Falls, there will be prosperity for every individual, and each will share in the benefits that come to the city.

The upbuilding of Klamath Falls means the upbuilding of the entire county, and must be accomplished by the development of all of southeastern Oregon. Klamath Falls must help Butte Valley to get that California state highway. It would be a direct benefit to the Butte Valley, but it is a thousand times more important to this city. Let everyone come to the front with the determination to win just this one undertaking. It will bring the people from every section of the city together, and once together there is nothing too great to be accomplished. There is everything to gain, and nothing to lose.

Too much credit cannot be given to the committee consisting of J. F. Maguire, S. B. Evans and F. L. Houston, who were responsible for the success of the gathering Friday. Few realize the amount of work they did in order to get such a representative body together. They personally visited every business and professional man in the city, but they got results, which shows that the people are ready to assist as soon as they realize the importance of the occasion.

PEOPLE YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

GENIAL CAPTAIN IS GOOD HAND SHAKER

Although many Klamath folks are confirmed in the belief that Captain J. P. Lee was the originator of the custom, history tells us that the practice of shaking hands on meeting a friend has been trying to evade taxes, or on a pleasure trip, he is always ready to grasp the hand of his friends in hearty fellowship.

For almost eight years Captain Lee has occupied the office of county assessor.

Subject, "Why Observe the Lord's Day?" Special offertory anthem. Sunday school Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Baptist Church—Eighth and Canal streets. J. D. Brendel, pastor. Sunday school at 10 a. m. C. R. De Lap, superintendent. Preaching at 11 a. m. Subject, "Sabbath Observance." Public cordially invited.

Mix 'n' Up

By Joe Bush

The audience in a Main street moving picture show were astounded last night when the lights were suddenly turned up to behold a female affectionately giving her escort a correct imitation of the "hammerlock." She did not seem to mind the illumination in the least, but gave a series of confectionary hugs and carresses that simply brought down the house.

"Just married," surmised a stout woman. "Brazen thing," sniffed a lean female. "Some class to that skirt," smiled a young man. The recipient of the intimate demonstration seemed to be as little aware of the side entertainment as his companion. In fact, he seemed to be entirely at ease. He was a man approaching middle-age, too, and this fact was responsible for the remark of a woman directly behind him: "He looks old enough to know better." Just at that time the couple apparently concluded that they had witnessed enough of the performance. They arose and started for the exit. Then there was an audible sigh of relief from the critics.

The female wore dresses to her knees. It was father and daughter.

ELECTRICITY FOR THE POOR MAN

There seems to be a time in the development of everything new when it apparently is intended for the rich alone. Before printing became perfected and books as cheap as they are now a library containing a score of volumes was considered to be a thing that could not enter into the calculations of one in the middle class. In later times the automobile has developed from a luxury to a commercial necessity, says Electric City Magazine.

Electricity has been still more progressive, for it has risen from the stage of experiment through the stage of luxury and has now become so economical and has grown to such an importance that it is available in practically every home in cities and towns in the United States. It is a necessity alike to the rich, the well-to-do and the poor, but in the homes of the latter class it may yet do its greatest work.

It is a great mistake to imagine that because one is poor and must economize one cannot have electricity; in fact, the poorer one is the worse he needs it. The electric iron, the washing machine driven by an electric motor, a sewing machine to direct the course of the seam, and a dozen convenient cooking devices are available for thousands today who hesitate to think them within their means. The woman who washes with an electric machine can direct her energies elsewhere while the work is being done. Her strength is saved for something more than hard mechanical labor. She who does her ironing with an electric iron avoids the discomfort of bending over a hot stove. Her iron is always hot, so that she can turn out her work to much advantage. Aside from first cost, these electric appliances and utensils for the home are the truest sources of economy.

It should be remembered that every electrical appliance that is used saves just so much dirt, labor and inconvenience. In the end dirt and inconvenience are costly; excessive housework and nerve exhausting home sewing by old methods are costly, as ill health always is their accompaniment.

In the modern linking up of small electric service enterprises into larger and more compact systems is seen one of the factors which tends to reduce costs, and therefore the price to the consumer. The other factor which helps toward the same end is the general increase in the use of electric service throughout the whole day, due to its more universal use in the home and in the business world.
