WANT CHANGE IN FISH LICENSE

PETITION ASKING $1 LICENSE FOR NON-RESIDENTS IS TO BE CIRCULATED AND PRESENTED TO COMMISSION

Some of the local sportsmen are preparing a petition which is to be circulated and presented to the state fish and game commission, asking for a measure providing for the reduction of the fishing license for non-residents to $1, the same as it is for residents of the state.

It is argued that the state, and particularly Klamath county, is losing a large revenue from tourists by compelling them to pay $5 for the pleasure of a few hours fishing. There are many commercial men and visitors coming to this city who would return over a day or so to enjoy the upper country resorts if they did not feel that they were being held up by being compelled to pay $5 for a fishing license for a few hours' fishing.

Many autoists traveling over this route would spend a day or so at the famous fishing resorts of the county, if they were encouraged by a reasonable license, and with fair treatment, would be sure to return and induce their friends to come here. It is figured that as great if not greater revenue would be received by the state from licenses if they were $1, as there is at the present, and there would be just as many fish in the streams.

McLEAN TELLS OF HORSE DEALS

out the mare claimed by Winnard as the one answering the description.

Veiled inferences of perjury were freely handed out during the session of court today, and there will probably be sensational developments before the case is finally concluded.

Charlie Walker was the star witness this morning. He was preceded by Frank Coburn and Mrs. Walker, who were called by the defense immediately after the prosecution suddenly rested.

Coburn and Mrs. Walker testified along the same line, concerning trips made to the desert country in Lake county.

Charlie Walker testified that he had resided in this section for nine or ten years, and had been engaged in ranching during that time. In 1910 he had taken a bunch of horses to the desert country, and had turned them on the range. In May, 1911, he had gone to that section and brought back what of his stock he could find. Among the others he had brought out of the range country a bay mare that he had been asked to pick up for McLean, the defendant.

This mare, the witness said, answered closely the description of the mare in dispute, as near as he could remember. On the trip, the mare and four of his own horses, the witness said, were in such poor condition, that he left them at Whiskey Creek for pasture, and on his return notified McLean of this fact. The next time the witness saw the mare she appeared larger and was in much better condition. In his opinion the mare in dispute and the one he brought back from the desert country are one and the same.

The witness said that the pig-pen brand was his own, and was adopted after he had discarded the brand used by his mother, an "F."

"There were too many horses on the range bearing the 'F' brand," said the witness.

"Is there any chance of your being mistaken in this mare," asked Mr. Shaw for the defense.

"I'd take her to be the same mare," was the reply.

"Do you know where the defendant got this mare?"

"He told me he got her from Fred Campbell. I know that he has made some trades with Fred."

The witness said that he had been called as a witness at the preliminary hearing of McLean, but had not been called to the stand.

He was asked to draw the pig-pen brand and the trunk handle brand, and did so. The two were introduced in evidence.

"Has Winnard, the complaining witness, any horses bearing your brand of pig-pen?"

"I don't know. I have traded horses considerable, and Mr. Winnard has also traded considerable."

The witness explained the difference in marks a brand might make on an animal by saying that the man doing the actual branding could control this by the manner in which the brand was applied.

NEW PASS FOR AUTOS OVER THE CASCADES

Brownville Men Go Over Cascades Via McKenzie Pass, and Report a Good Road—They Return by Different Route

BEND, July 29.—A new route for automobiles across the Cascade mountains has been discovered by two Brownville men, H. H. Hilleary and R. W. Tripp, president and secretary of the Commercial Club in that town. They came over the mountains the first of the week, and report that the McKenzie Pass, which has never been used by motorists, is in fine condition for automobile travel.

This road opens a new route into Central Oregon from the Willamette Valley. Heretofore it has been impossible for autoists to come over from the west side. They can go from the east by the Santiam route, but it is impossible to traverse this pass in the opposite direction, owing to sand on the west side of the mountains.

The McKenzie pass is similarly limited as regards travel from the east side. Hilleary and Tripp, after making a tour of Central Oregon, returned by the Santiam route.

CO-OPERATION BETWEEN BANKERS AND FARMERS

PLAN AT BEND HAS PROVED A SUCCESS, AND HAS GREATLY ENCOURAGED THE HOG RAISING INDUSTRY

Special to The Herald

PORTLAND, July 29.—Practical co-operation with the farmer by the banking interests has proved successful at Bend, where C. S. Hudson, cashier of the First National bank at that place, has greatly encouraged the hog raising industry. It seems the plan was originated by him, and it is growing in favor in many parts of the country. Mr. Hudson believed that the country around Bend was a good one for hog raising, arranged for the shipment of a carload of well-bred sows from the Middle West, distributed them to farmers in the vicinity of Bend, and took their notes in payment, these notes to run for one year.

The first year of this experiment has now passed, and Mr. Hudson is very much encouraged. In a letter just received by D. O. Lively, vice president of the Portland Union stock yards, Mr. Hudson says:

"I am glad to advise you that the hogs will prove to be a very profitable investment for the people who purchased them. I have had a report from each man, and taking the two litters of pigs from each sow, I believe they will average a profit of 100 per cent each or more. In two or three cases I know they made as much as 200 per cent."

ARE BACK FROM VISIT TO MINE

J. J. Keller, O. W. Robertson and Chas. Baldwin returned last evening from a visit to mining property they are interested in near Virginia City, Nevada. They left Susanville Sunday morning at 7:30, and arrived here in the evening at 8:30, which is a distance of 215 miles. During their absence since last Tuesday about noon, they traveled a distance of over 800 miles by auto and never experienced a breakdown or mishap. Full credit is given for this record to Chas. Baldwin, who drove the machine.

Each member of the party is enthusiastic over the possibilities of their mining proposition, and report that they found conditions just as represented by their engineer's report. Their claim adjoins the famous Pandora mine, from which $80,000 worth of ore has been recently taken. On the other side is the Consolidated Mining company's property, which has also yielded rich ore.

The party went by way of Lakeview, New Pine Creek, Alturas and Reno.

Gambler's Flee Country

United Press Service NEW YORK, July 29.—The corner of the borough of Manhattan, sitting as a magistrate, this morning resumed the Rosenthal inquiry.

The police are probing the report of a "get-away" fund raised to enable the actual murderers to leave the country. It is believed that they are still in hiding in this city.

The grand jury also resumed its investigations this morning.
