NEW YORK PLANS ARE CARRIED OUT TO THE LETTER

Reports for the Colonel and Beveridge Deliver the Keynote Speech. Preacher Gets Long-Winded and Good Interruptions—Delegates are Pleased to Fusion With Others

Chicago, Aug. 5.—The Taft leaders in Kansas tried to drive the same steam roller, that swept everything before it at the Chicago convention into a partial gathering of the United States supreme court members, and that its progress was blocked by a mammoth legal boulder, was the interpretation Governor Stubbs, a Roosevelt man, placed on the decision rendered in the Kansas electoral cases by Justice Pitney and Vandewater.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—Colonel Roosevelt and party arrived here on the Twentieth Century Limited at 8:55 this morning. Five thousand people greeted him at the depot. He was taken to the Congress hotel in an auto.

Standing in the machine in front of the hostelry the Colonel said: "It is a pleasure to be in Chicago again at the birth of a new party, instead of at the death of an old one. By the 4th of next November, the ticket nominated here six weeks ago will no longer be a factor in national affairs."

"Americans will not tolerate fraud and theft. The day of bosses, crooked financiers behind the scenes, and crooked newspapers is past."

The convention was called to order at 12:45 by Senator Dixon of Montana. The Coliseum was packed. The convention hall was festooned with red, white and blue portraits of Washington, Lincoln and Jefferson, with a large picture of Roosevelt at one end.

Senator Dixon said: "Twenty-eight days ago in New York 42 men signed the call of 92,000,000 Americans for a convention here during the past four weeks the nation has seen a new alignment in politics."

A brief Roosevelt demonstration followed. Senator Dixon introduced O. K. Davis, who read the official convention call. Then Senator Beveridge delivered the keynote speech.

The Pennsylvania delegation arrived first. Maryland, Kentucky and Oregon followed, singing as they entered. All members of the delegations carried red bandanna handkerchiefs.

At 2:30 two women carrying banners bearing the inscription, "Votes for Women," arrived. They were wildly cheered.

LEGAL BOULDER BLOCKS STEAM ROLLER'S PROGRESS

United Press Service TOPEKA, Kans., Aug. 5.—That the Taft leaders in Kansas tried to drive the same steam roller, that swept everything before it at the Chicago convention into a partial gathering of the United States supreme court members, and that its progress was blocked by a mammoth legal boulder, was the interpretation Governor Stubbs, a Roosevelt man, placed on the decision rendered in the Kansas electoral cases by Justice Pitney and Vandewater.

"Now," said Governor Stubbs, "it is up to the people of Kansas to leave their plows standing in the fields next Tuesday and go to the polls and fight for freedom from political bosses and from trust controlled politics and government."

LOST MEN STORY WAS TAME AFFAIR

TWO SAN BERNARDINO MEN REPORTED LOST SIMPLY SOUGHT SHELTER DURING NIGHT FROM THE RAIN

As predicted in the Herald Saturday afternoon, the sensational story of the men lost in the wilds of the Klamath mountains, turned out to be a very tame affair, and both Dr. Lyman and Mr. Buckley feel very much chagrined at the notoriety given them and the anxiety caused their relatives and friends.

Robt. Hunsaker returned Saturday evening from the Lake of the Woods, where he was camped near the party from San Bernardino. As he was on the ground, and knew what took place his story of the affair is undoubtedly correct. He states that the two men left camp about 3 o'clock in the afternoon on Thursday, and it began to get dark before the men were ready to start for camp. In the darkness they were in doubt as to the location of the camp, and as it began to rain they decided to seek shelter for the night.

Instead of seventeen men starting on a search Friday morning, Hunsaker and Henry Stout, the only two men outside of the San Bernardino party who knew of the absence of the men, started out to look for them. When they returned a little later the men were in camp, none the worse for their experience.

Instead of Mrs. Lyman having hysterics and remaining in a critical condition until late Saturday night, Hunsaker states that while she was a little worried Thursday night, the matter was practically forgotten by Friday noon, and the entire party was greatly surprised when they learned on Saturday of the publicity given to the trivial affair.

McElhattan Moves to New Home T. G. McElhattan, the jeweler, has moved to the Slough building, and will occupy the building with the Whitman Drug company. Mr. McElhattan is fitting up with elegant new mahogany cases, and will double his stock of jewelry goods.

ATHLETICS WIN FASTEST GAME

OLIVER STARS CAPTURE SHORT END IN GAME FOR 100 AND THE CHAMPIONSHIP OF KLAMATH FALLS

In a game characterized by brilliant fielding and steady pitching, the Klamath Athletic Association ball players defeated the Oliver Stars yesterday afternoon, score 2 to 1.

Webb was on the mound for the Stars and Seton tossed for the Athletics. Each man was at his best, and stung with hits. Both had perfect control, as witness but two bases on balls during the entire game.

Considerable was attached to the game, because it was for, in addition to the honor of representing Klamath Falls in future baseball matches, a side bet of $100 and the gate receipts.

Local fans declare the game was the best ever played on the local diamond.

"Yesterday's game was a sample of the sport we will give Klamath Falls if we can get the proper support," said Manager Rich of the Athletics.

"We had a fair crowd yesterday, but not in accord with the class of baseball provided. We will play Merrill next Sunday, and if we are given any support we will bring Medford and other teams from across the hills here before the close of the season."

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Martin and children are here from Merrill to remain a week or so. Mr. Martin will look after the Klamath Falls Roller Mills, while his brother, has J. Martin and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Erma Hooley go to Spring Creek on an outing.

With some other children, the little girl was shooting at a target at Pelican Bay yesterday with a .22 calibre revolver. Following instructions she held the pistol pointing toward the ground, when not actually pointing it toward the target. Accidentally she pulled the trigger and the bullet struck her foot.

The accident happened just before the departure of the boat, and she was brought to this city and taken to the office of Dr. Chilton, where the bullet was extracted. The ball had passed through the foot, and a small black spot showed its location on the bottom of the foot. She is getting along nicely today, and while she will have a very sore foot for some time, no serious consequences are expected.

Young Turks are Powerless; Peace Now Seems Probable

JOHN WILLING, BUT WAS SHORT

DEPUTY SHERIFF DID NOT HAVE MONEY TO SPARE TO BUY IN CONSIGNMENT OF LIQUOR SOLD AT AUCTION

John Schallock sold some booze this morning, and if he don't speak to you on the street for several days, don't mind it.

John is worried. He's afraid some of this liquor may drift into the hands of the Indians, and John is very careful when it comes to Indians.

If it had been possible, Mr. Schallock would have bought it himself, the entire consignment of liquor, which he was required, as an agent of the sheriff's office, to sell to satisfy the judgment secured by Maddox & Harris against Livermore.

Not that John wanted the liquor. No, he simply would have bought it to keep it out of the hands of redskins. And again, not that Maddox & Harris will sell it or give it away or otherwise dispose of it to Indians, but simply that John likes to keep a fatherly eye on the Indians he would have bought it if he had been able.

There were two barrels of whiskey and one barrel of wine in the lot, and although there were several bidders, Maddox & Harris offered the highest price and secured the wet goods.

WOOL BILL IS UP TO TAFT

WHEELER MAKES LONG JOURNEY

DEPUTY SHERIFF GOES TO KANSAS FOR IMPORTANT WITNESS BUT RETURNS UNABLE TO FIND ELUSIVE KELLY

After traveling more than 4,000 miles and having been on the trip lacking one day of three weeks, James H. Wheeler, deputy sheriff, arrived home Saturday afternoon from an unsuccessful quest for a witness in the Harris perjury case.

W. A. Kelly, well known here as "Arthur," successfully eluded the deputy sheriff, and now it appears that the perjury charge against Harris must be dropped because of the lack of evidence.

Kelly was the most important witness for the state. It was claimed that he knew all of the details of the alleged perjury, and could tell the story that would send Harris to the penitentiary. Word was received here not long ago that the missing witness was located in Kansas, and Mr. Wheeler was dispatched to bring him back. Advance word in a letter had been sent to the reluctant witness, and when the deputy sheriff arrived in Chinook, Kans., he found that Kelly had left.

Inquiry developed the fact that the witness had gone to Larned, Kans., 250 miles away. It was learned that he had been arrested there on a charge of gambling, but had been released from custody before the officer from this city arrived. Then the chase led through the cornfields of Kansas until all trace of Kelly was lost. Instead of adopting the ordinary methods of travel, Kelly had adopted the role of hobo, thereby making trailing extremely difficult.

Kelly is alleged to be the man who assisted Harris in placing the 10-cent piece in the forehead of a calf which was afterward branded by J. Arant, which the latter was accused of stealing. Following his acquittal on the charge of stealing the calf, Mr. Arant caused the arrest of Harris on the charge of perjury.

WORK PROGRESSING ON PIERS FOR PLUM

B. S. Grigby, who is in from his ranch near the Gap, states that the government work on the Fox Valley extension canal is progressing rapidly. A crew of about twenty men are at work building piers for the flume across Lost River, and also excavating the first section of the canal.

Bids are to be opened on August 20 for the construction of the several laterals, and unless the price is considered satisfactory the work will be done by force account.

Mr. Grigby states that the storm Friday night did not do any damage to crops in his neighborhood, as it did not hail.

WILL FURNISH UNIVERSITIES WITH FULL PRESS REPORTS

United Press Service MADISON Wis., Aug. 5.—Just prior to the conclusion of the sessions of the First National Editorial conference, which has just ended in this city, Roy W. Howard, chairman of the board of directors of the United Press Association, offered, free, to all universities having courses in journalism a full copy of the United Press report for the coming year.

Mr. Howard's proposal was that the report of the United Press should be received for analysis simultaneously with the newspapers taking the report, in order that the conference should have available accurate data next year to show how adequately the association is handling the news.

"It will give us a service worth thousands of dollars," said Dean Reber of the University of Wisconsin, "and will enable us to get tangible results next year. Should other universities avail themselves of the opportunity offered it means that the United Press will give away for scientific purposes more than $50,000 worth of news."
