

Earnest Women Would Have Beautiful Yards in the City

Home Owners are Urged to Enter the Competition for Prizes and Aid Work

CONTEST OPEN TO EVERYONE

PRIZES TO BE AWARDED SEPTEMBER FIRST

Registrations Will Be Received by the Newspaper Offices Until August 20—Many Beautiful Lawns and Gardens in the City That Surely Would Capture the Prizes if the Owners Would Register

In spite of the elaborate prizes offered by the Women's Civic League, interest in the City Beautiful movement appears to be lagging. A number of contestants have registered at the newspaper offices, and are proceeding to prepare their yards and gardens for the test, but it is urged that in order to make the movement a complete success, every home owner in the city should participate.

The method of entering the contest is simple. All that is necessary is for the aspirant to call at one of the newspaper offices and announce his or her intention of entering. Then go home and prepare the yard or garden for the final judging, which will be on September 1st.

There are but a few days more within which registration will be received. On August 20th the registration books will be closed, and only those who have registered prior to that time will be eligible to compete for the prizes.

There are already gardens in the city that surely would capture prizes if the owners would only register. For some reason or other some of them have been neglected. These and others who desire to assist the earnest women in their endeavor to improve the appearance of the city are urged to compete.

NUISANCES WILL BE OBLITERATED

ORDINANCE INTRODUCED LAST NIGHT IN COUNCIL IS ADOPTED AND ENFORCED—IS OPPOSED BY DOTY

An ordinance defining nuisances and providing a penalty for them was introduced in council last night and passed first reading. Councilman Doty was opposed to it on the ground, so he contended, that it would permit hogs in the city, and did not debar dairies. He said there now exists a stench hole from a dairy heretofore contended to be clean, and wanted the ordinance to name dairies within the city limits as nuisances.

"The ordinance does not take in dairies, and no hogs may be allowed in the city if obnoxious, nor within 200 feet of a dwelling," declared Judge Drake, the city attorney. "If we say in the ordinance that no dairy shall be allowed the ordinance would not be worth the paper it is written on. It would be class legislation. If I am to draft ordinances on the personal whim of individuals, nothing doing. The ordinance must be broad enough to cover the matters desired, but not calculated to interfere with legitimate business. I drafted it thinking it would be sufficient to wipe out the old ones that conflict with each other and with the charter."

Among the things the ordinance mentions as undesirable are drains, vaults, cesspools, etc., pigs within 200 feet of dwellings, maintenance of slaughter houses or killing or slaughtering of animals in the city; unclean stables; depositing garbage in streets or alleys, throwing of cigars on sidewalks or in public buildings. A fine of $5 to $100 is provided, which, if unpaid, the convicted person may work out on the city streets.

REBELS GATHER; TROUBLE CLOSE

MUCH TIMBER IS AFFECTED

HOUSE PASSES INNOCENT PURCHASERS' BILL, AND SENATE EXPECTED TO CONCUR—WILL AID LOCAL PEOPLE

News of the passage of the Innocent Purchasers' bill by the house was received here last night with great satisfaction by a number of Klamath Falls people. The effect of this measure, when it is passed by the senate, will be that people who bought Southern Pacific grant lands and who acquired title prior to the institution of the government's forfeiture suit, will be permitted to quiet their title by payment to the government of $2.50 per acre.

Congressman Lafferty had proposed a number of amendments to the measure, but these failed of passage. He has announced, however, that he will not attempt to block the bill in the senate because of the failure of his amendments, but will work for its passage.

While there are some big timber interests affected by the bill, there are many individuals whose timber land has been tied up, pending the settlement of the suits. The passage of the bill will be a great relief to them, and will put on the market vast areas of timber, now as far removed from the use of the public as timber on a national park.

Newlyweds Entertained

With a cowbell attached to the rear axle, an automobile crowded with merry young people made the tour of Klamath Falls last night, and attracted considerable attention. The police started to interfere, but when it was found that the auto contained Claude Coseboom and his bride, just returned from a honeymoon trip, and some friends, practical jokers, they were allowed to leave their fun.

Mrs. Bean and Leona Bean are here from Bonanza.

BIG GRAFTERS, SAYS DETECTIVE

THREE PROMINENT MEN ARE IMPLICATED IN CRIME

Burns Is Hot on Trail, and Sensational Charges May Be Preferred Against Bosses With Usual Result. Regular Police and Private Detectives Are Engaged in a Race for Custody of the Paymaster.

United Press Service
NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The grand jury expects to immediately indict seven men in connection with the Rosenthal murder, and graft charges preferred against the New York police.

It is reported that W. J. Burns and his force of snitches have submitted testimony which involve three of the "higher-ups," one a prominent lawyer, another a prominent politician and the third a prominent hotel keeper. Their exposure will probably come within a few days.

Police representatives and District Attorney Whitman's private detectives are racing to Hot Springs for possession of Schapps, the alleged paymaster of the murderers of Rosenthal.

PROTESTS SENT ON CANAL BILL

FROM ENGLAND, IF PREDICTION IS CORRECT—PROSPECTS ARE NOW FOR EARLY AGREEMENT AND PRESIDENT'S APPROVAL

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 13.—Prospects are for an early agreement on the canal bill and that President Taft will sign it.

It is predicted that England will protest to The Hague. Senator Burton of Ohio opposes the bill. He said: "The measure is a palpable violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty."

Strict Sanitary Ordinance Will Govern Klamath Falls

Council Adopts Measure Providing Regulation of Sale and Handling of Food Stuffs; Conduct of Eating Places

City council last night adopted an ordinance for a more sanitary city. The measure was drawn up some time since by City Attorney Thomas Drake at the request of Dr. L. L. Truax, city physician, and others who believe that the fly is not the most desirable neighbor ever known.

The third reading of the measure came up at the request of Councilman Charles McGowan, who, after Police Judge Leavitt had finished the reading, moved the adoption of the ordinance.

"I think it is one of the finest ordinances I ever saw," he said.

"There is a good deal in it that cannot be compiled with," was the opinion of Councilman Miles. "Everybody has not a dumping ground for their tin cans, nor can they all get them. To enforce that ordinance in all its requirements you'd have everybody in town in jail, nearly."

"We need the money," declared Councilman McGowan.

"I know we do," admitted Miles. "Even if we can't get them to more than half way obey the ordinance we would be doing fairly well," reasoned McGowan. "We cannot get the ordinances we now have more than half obeyed. It does no harm to have the ordinance right."

The ordinance declares it unlawful for any person, firm or corporation keeping any public or private market, stall, shop, store, plant, cart, wagon or vehicle from which any meat, fish, oysters, birds, fowls, vegetables, fruit, milk or other provisions or products for human food may be offered for sale, to offer the contents for food unless they be clean, pure, wholesome and sanitary. The place where the foodstuffs are kept must be maintained in a pure, clean and sanitary condition.

Such foodstuffs must not be exposed except in covered receptacles which are designed to keep out dust and prevent flies from having contact with the foodstuffs. The containers must be kept clean and the wares must not be kept in the same room with a toilet nor where there is a toilet in an adjoining room, unless the adjoining room is sufficiently ventilated.

No one may bake or prepare food or drink for consumption in a cellar or basement which is not ventilated,

Hearing of Famous Bribery Case is to End Shortly

DESIRE STREET FIXED UP AGAIN

COMMITTEE HEDGES ON PROPOSITION TO SEE GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS AS TO WHETHER U. S. IS DONE WITH RUE DE MILL

Councilman M. R. Doty reported at last night's council meeting that the street committee did not see the government officials about getting Mill street in shape again for the city to use. He stated that the members of the committee thought it was not their place to see them, and that it ought to be put up to City Attorney Thomas Drake to perform the stunt.

Councilman Goeller said the street is on the bank of a ditch, and that any vehicles are liable to topple from it.

Councilman Doty explained that the object of the committee was to get from the government representatives a document saying that they were through with the street. The matter, he said, had been brought up several times in the council under the former administration, but that nothing was ever done.

It was moved by Councilman Goeller that the problem be placed in the city attorney's hands for handling.

"Let me suggest, Mr. Doty, that the street committee co-operate with the city attorney," said Mayor Thomas F. Nicholas. "What do you think of that?"

"I think that's all right," replied Doty. "We will endeavor to do that."

PINE SIDEWALKS ARE PETITIONED

COUNCIL DISCUSSES PRO AND CON QUESTION OF IMPROVING THE STREET AS ASKED, BUT TAKEN NO ACTION IN MATTER

When a petition was read by Police Judge A. L. Leavitt to the city council last night asking for the establishment of sidewalks on the south side of Pine street from Eleventh to Esplanade street, where such sidewalks are not there, resulted in considerable discussion. The petition was signed by Arlie Worrell, Oscar Peyton, John C. Yaden, J. L. Yaden and B. V. Yaden, the last three names being spelled as indicated.

The discussion failed, however, to bring any results. The effort to establish sidewalks in the past has been somewhat fraught with difficulty, for the reason that part of the procedure necessary is to find out the owners of the property abutting, and notify them to build the sidewalk.

Sometimes it requires considerable search to find out just who are the owners, and if they are located and refuse or neglect to build as requested, measures have to be taken to establish liens against the property.

Councilman Doty explained that there are a couple of stretches of concrete walk along Pine street in the neighborhood referred to in the petition, and that in two places there are no sidewalks at all. It was moved that the matter be referred to the street committee.

Mayor Thomas F. Nicholas spoke to City Attorney Thomas Drake regarding the procedure, and it developed that it was necessary for the council to order sidewalks by resolution when they are wanted.

Councilman Miles suggested that there be a blanket resolution to cover the whole city.

No action was taken on the petition.

A raid was made on the night of August 4th on a gambling game in a room over the Chamber of Commerce. The hearing was set for Saturday, when the men were notified to appear at 4 o'clock Monday for trial.

DARROW IS ABLY LOOKED AFTER

BRIGHT ATTORNEY TELLS STORY OF BRISKY CASE

Franklin is Described in Absent Terms and Attention of Jury is Called to the Wide Difference of Testimony—Fact that Franklin's Testimony Stands Alone is Pointed Out

United Press Service

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 13.—Deploring that Clarence Darrow ever was brought to trial, Horace Appel opened his argument for the defense before Judge Hutton today.

"What a shame that Clarence Darrow, whose name is inscribed in the hearts of every laborer in the country, should in his declining years, be pointed at as a perjurer and a criminal," eloquently spoke the attorney. "What a shame that because the prosecution says that 'K' is on it, that acts of Darrow look suspicious, and that he should risk a cell in a dark penitentiary, and ultimately a grave with the headstone, 'He died in disgrace.'"

Discussing Detective Franklin, the attorney said:

"Judas Iscariot was a better man than Franklin or Harrington. He was a gentleman, and hanged himself after betraying his Master.

"Who besides Franklin told you that Franklin got bribe money from Darrow? Not a soul.

"Who else said Darrow told Franklin to bribe Lockwood? Not a living soul.

"The testimony of Franklin has been uncorroborated. Against his word stands the word of Harriman, the word of Darrow.

"Would you convict Darrow on the word of Franklin, who, by his own acts, is shown to be a monster?"

COLLINS' HORSE WILL CARRY HIM

EPISCOPAL CHURCH RECTOR'S OUTING WILL BE ENTIRELY AD LIBITUM, SO FAR AS ITINERARY IS CONCERNED

Rev. Henry C. Collins, rector of the Church of the Redeemer, leaves this evening on horseback for a unique outing. He proposes to travel just as leisurely or fast as circumstances make desirable, and will camp out at night wherever dusk overtakes him. His direction will be toward The Dalles and Hood River, a country with which he is familiar, he having formerly been located there.

County Judge William S. Worden returned last evening in his auto from a two-weeks' stay at his Wood River ranch. He will return to the country tonight, and may be in Klamath Falls again on Friday.

No Complaint Made
In all probability there will be no formal complaint made against the two women and two men who were arrested Sunday night in a room in a Main street block. In the meantime each of the quartette has given a bond of $350.
