GREGORY SAYS CHARGES TRIVIAL

JUDGE HANFORD IS DEFENDED BY NOTED LAWYER

President of Bar Association Declares That Charges Against Seattle Judge Were Not of a Nature to Warrant Impeachment—Herald of Judges Is Not Favored by the Association's Leader.

United Press Service

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 27.—Stephen Gregory of Chicago, president of the American Bar Association, in opening the meeting of the association here today discussed the arbitration treaties and suggested trust legislation.

In discussing the recall of judges the speaker said:

"As to the election of judges for short terms, I consider this proposition. I am opposed to it in any form and under any circumstances. As to Judge Hanford, I venture to express the opinion, although I possibly should not, that the matter sought to be proved seems to have been for the most part of the most trivial nature, being far short of such high crimes and misdemeanors as to warrant the impeachment of a federal judge."

The executive committee reported that a proposal had been made to admit to membership three negroes. They are William Lewis, assistant attorney general; Butler Wilson of Massachusetts and William Morris of Minnesota.

Secretary of War Dickenson presented a resolution providing that hereafter all applications of negroes for membership must plainly state that the applicants are colored. The resolution was carried amidst confusion. The session then adjourned until tomorrow, when the real fight on the negro question will be made.

Green Car Attracts

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Keene of Medford arrived in the city last night by auto, after a trip to Crater Lake and Lakeview. They visited today with Mrs. Charles Low, Mrs. Keene's cousin. Dr. Keene's car, a large green automobile, attracted considerable attention on the streets.

The committee in charge of the fund for the improvement of Second street continues actively at work raising the money for the work, and expects within a short time to be able to report the entire amount of money necessary pledged. It is expected that as soon as the money is all in sight active work on the betterment of the highway will begin. The amount which is being sought now is very small, and when it is assured, there will be the full amount of $1,000 desired available for the work.

The senator carried a bulky package labeled "Documents regarding Roosevelt."

W. Maaten's ranch, where the next government camp is to be shortly established, as soon as the truss at Olene is completed.

This truss is a crossing for water constructed as part of the irrigation extension work being done the reclamation service. The truss will be finished in about two weeks, when the camp will be established at the Maaten ranch.

Young Men Sleep in Disabled Boat Two Nights, They Say

After Tramp Through the Tules, Dolman and Mikel Reach the Downing Ranch, and Then Make Way to Worden

Mahlon T. Dolman and Rossiter L. Mikel, who have been missing since Sunday morning, are safe.

Footsore, hungry and thirsty, they found their way to the Frank Downing ranch, about fifteen miles from Worden. Then they walked into Worden, where they arrived about 3 o'clock this afternoon. The two men will arrive here on the train this evening.

"The compression valve on the engine went wrong," said Mr. Dolman over the telephone this afternoon. "That was about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. We paddled the boat to a point that seemed to be nearest solid land. It was in a creek."

"We spent last night and Sunday night in the boat. At 6 o'clock this morning we left the boat on a long hike through the tules. Southeast of Worden we saw a high piece of ground, very rocky. We headed for this point."

"We tramped through about fifteen miles of tule land before we reached the Downing ranch."

"We have had nothing to eat since 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and had nothing to drink until we arrived at the Downing ranch."

"Of course we are weak and tired. It was very cold sleeping in the boat, and were wet most of the time."

"Not once did we see any sign of the searchers, and we did not know that we were being so anxiously sought until we arrived in Worden."

Mr. Dolman's voice was slightly cracked as he talked through the phone, bearing evidence of the cold he had acquired on the trip.

It was estimated this afternoon that there were fully sixty men out on the lake and in the marshes conducting the search.

Various theories for the complete disappearance of the men were advanced, but the one that seemed to gain support was that the gasoline engine exploded, causing the boat to sink and costing the two men their lives.

Sam Evans, proprietor of the Northwesters, by whom the two men were employed, left this city last night about 12 o'clock with Hunter Savage, Francis Olds and C. M. Ramey, determined to stay out until the fate of Dolman and Mikel had been determined. They had not been heard from up to 3:30 this afternoon.

Mr. Dolman has been in the city but a few weeks. He is reported to have expected to be married in a short time. Mr. Mikel is very well known here, and he also was to have been married shortly.

When they left the city Sunday morning they expected to be gone about four hours. They took with them only a light lunch.

One group of men who went in an auto came back shortly before noon today. It included William S. Fish, manager of the Big Basin Lumber company; Attorney Charles F. Stone and James H. Driscoll. These men reported that the fire burning in the tules at the east side of the lower lake, about half way down, had been burning since 11 o'clock Sunday night. This fire is believed to have been started by Dolman and Mikel, but no trace of either man nor the Telford & Son launch in which they started from Klamath Falls about 10 o'clock Sunday morning, has been found.

Frank W. Ritchie came back this morning from a search in which he toured the west side of the lake, but found no traces of the men. The smoke from the tules burning was not visible when he was out. He believes that Sheepy Creek might possibly be the cause of tules where the men had got lost, and thought that a search there would be worth while. He said that he had been lost in that stream once, and had a very difficult time getting out.

"I think one of the best ways to look for the men would be to take a field glass to the top of Stukel moun-

WHITE DEPOSIT IS NOT ALKALI

RANCHER OF THOUSAND SPRINGS VALLEY DEMONSTRATES THAT CROPS CAN BE RAISED IN THAT SECTION

L. D. Hoy of Thousand Springs Valley brought in samples of grain, hay and vegetables that again demonstrates what he is able to do on the wonderfully fertile soils that many in times past designated as alkali patches, says the Lakeview Herald. The truth of the matter is that so many use the term "alkali" when it is simply a white deposit near or on the surface, no matter what the mineral element is. That the alkali in the vicinity of Thousand Springs is the real article for growing plant life has never been shown to a better advantage than this year, when the visitors to the country are amazed at some of the samples shown in the high school display rooms that are fitted up nicely for that purpose. There is no doubt that the people that see this display and learn where it came from will go away with a better idea as to what all this unused country is able to do for the man that wants to take a home for himself where in a few years he may become independent. Mr. Hoy has also demonstrated that it is possible to raise cattle and sheep at the same time to the advantage of each. His dairy herd is what he buys autos with, while he is laying by a store for a "rainy day" with his bands of sheep that use the open country for a range.

John Kellerman, who was arrested with Sears and Hunter, was acquitted. The trial, by stipulation between the attorneys, was conducted without the presence of the two defendants who were convicted. Kellerman testified for the state.

He said that he had been promised regular employment by Sears and Hunter in the selling of wagons, and at the time of the arrest he was not receiving any remuneration, but accompanied the two men to learn the business.
