

POSTOFFICES TO CLOSE SUNDAYS

POSTAL APPROPRIATION DOES NOT PERMIT EMPLOYEES WORKING THE FULL SEVEN DAYS OF THE WEEK

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 28.—All first and second class postoffices will be closed on Sundays as a result of one provision of the new postal appropriation bill passed by congress and signed by President Taft.

Every important city in the United States is affected. Hereafter only special delivery letters will pass through on that day, and no mail will be placed in lock boxes.

Postoffices in several cities have been closed Sundays heretofore. The postmaster general has permitted that under a regulation of which it was evident that local sentiment demanded it. The closing is now compelled by law.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 28.—The postoffice authorities have issued orders slightly relaxing the order preventing Sunday delivery in first and second class offices. The opening of the carrier windows will be forbidden on Sunday, but box holders will have access to their mail.

MYSTERIOUS WOMAN TO APPEAR TONIGHT

No one won the $10 offered for identification of the woman who was to appear in men's wear at the Sparks theater last night. There was a good audience on hand, but there was not a crush of policemen bent on making an arrest. The management of the house insists that the woman was present, garbed in the modern man, as per advertisements.

The woman will appear in feminine attire at the Sparks theater tonight, when anyone who wishes to strive for the $10 by identifying her may do so. Tomorrow she will appear on the streets between 3 and 4 p. m. in another disguise, with a view to mystifying the public.

I have some fine diamonds in various sizes at reasonable prices. I carry these in stock all the time. I'd be pleased to show them to you.

DRYS WILL BE HERE MONDAY

PROHIBITION CANDIDATES ARRANGE SPEAKING DATES IN DISTRICT—WILL SPEAK IN THE COURT HOUSE SQUARE

B. Lee Padgett, prohibition candidate for United States Senate, and O. A. Millman of the same party, candidate for representative in congress, will be in Klamath county on their automobile canvass of the state on Monday, September 2, speaking at Bonanza at 10 o'clock a. m. on Monday, taking in Dairy on the way, Malin after leaving Bonanza, and reaching Merrill Monday evening, where they will address the voters at some hall selected by the local committee.

Tuesday they will go to Fort Klamath by way of the Agency, making one or two addresses at the Fort and the Agency, returning to hold a meeting in the court house square on Tuesday evening.

Mr. Stillman will arrive here on Saturday evening, and on Sunday will give three addresses: One in Mills Addition hall at 10 a. m., one in court house square at 2 p. m., and one in the evening at the same place, or, if the weather is unfavorable, in the pavilion.

WANTED—Experienced waitress at the Hall grill.

RE-APPORTION GIVES $50,000

Washington, D. C., Aug. 28.—The $50,000 just appropriated will be available for use at once, and the original plans of the project will be carried out.

With the appropriation made for the building of roads in Crater National Park of $50,000, there will be spent by the government in Klamath county during the coming year, in addition to the expenditures of the Klamath reclamation project, $109,000.

HORSEFLY BOARD OF ASSESSMENT

MEETING TO BE NEXT TUESDAY TO HEAR OBJECTIONS—SUPERVISING ENGINEER HOPSON TO ASSIST PROJECT ALL HE CAN

Next Tuesday the board of directors of the Horsefly Irrigation project will meet to act as a board of equalization for fixing the assessments on various properties involved, for the purpose of meeting the expenses of the project, which is aimed to reclaim by irrigation about 18,000 acres of land in the Bonanza and Langel valleys. The meeting of the board, will begin at 1 p. m., September 3, at the home of S. W. Reese, and will be continued until such objections to the assessment as can come before it are determined. It is hoped, though, to finish the work in two days. The assessment roll was completed some time since, and is in the custody of the secretary of the board, Francis J. Bowne.

The Horsefly Irrigation project is the first one in this neighborhood to be undertaken under the new law which was made by the legislature of 1911, which provides that where public assistance is not available for the work the land owners may organize their own project. The territory embraced in the Horsefly district includes a large amount of land which was at one time under contemplation by the government for a part of the Klamath project, but finally Uncle Sam rejected it. However, the government did a great deal of preliminary work in engineering, the benefit of which will go to the Horsefly undertaking. Supervising Engineer Hopson of the reclamation service, with headquarters at Portland, has agreed to give the enterprise all the assistance he can in the way of information obtained by the government when it took up the matter.

CANDIDATE MAKES A RECORD RIDE

Senator from Oregon dismounted from the mysterious wagon, and proceeded to hold a pow-wow with the Indians.

"No, I did not see any of my old acquaintances," said Mr. Selling this afternoon, when asked concerning the circumstance, "but I heard of some of them. I have written a letter to one who will, probably, be pleased to hear from me."

It developed that this redskin named by Mr. Selling as "One-who-will-be-pleased-to-hear-from-me" is in dire straits, and the Portland man has sent him an order on one of Uncle Sam's postoffices which will be honored for cash.

Have you seen the "Luck Blue Bird" plan? They are the latest, and are very pretty.

Notice for Publication (Not Coal Lands) Department of the Interior, United States Land Office at Lakeview, Oregon, June 17, 1911.

Notice is hereby given that James Briscoe, whose postoffice address is Klamath Falls, Oregon, did, on the 24 day of January, 1911, file in this office sworn statement and application No. 05237, to purchase the SW 1/4 NW 1/4, Section 22, Township 22 S., Range 10 E., Willamette Meridian, and the timber thereon, under the provisions of the act of June 2, 1878, and acts amendatory, known as the "Timber and Stone Law," at such value as might be fixed by appraisal, and that, pursuant to such application, the land and timber thereon have been appraised at a total of

Dolman and Mikel Tell of Their Experience in Marsh

Young Men will be Out of Service for Several Days. Explanation of the Many Reports is Given by the Victims

Rosalter L. Mikel and Mahlon T. Dolman, respectively advertising manager and news editor of the Northwestern, who were reported lost in the marshes in the vicinity of Lower Klamath Lake, arrived in the city late yesterday afternoon by train from Worden.

The young men are confined to their apartments in the White Pelican hotel, according to information given from the Northwestern office.

"Of course they are badly sunburned, and, no doubt, a shave would improve their appearance," was the word from the office of the morning newspaper office. "They will not be expected to do any work during this week."

So far as can be ascertained, not a single member of the searching party has been lost. Most of the searchers received word of the re-appearance of the lost men before dark, and were able to return home last night. Some were disappointed in not having been on the rescue scene, but all expressed pleasure at the safe return of the young men.

Mr. Dolman has issued a statement in which he gives an authorized but uncopyrighted account of the sufferings of himself and Mr. Mikel. There is very little to add to the story printed in the Herald last night, except to contradict a statement made that the engine of the launch in which the young men left the city had been put out of business. It seems that, while the engine "bucked," it was always in commission until low water prevented the turning of the propeller.

Mr. Dolman in his statement tells of having sighted a farm house on Monday morning, which probably explains a statement made to The Herald by one of the members of the search party that left here Tuesday morning in an automobile.

"The only word we had of the lost men," said The Herald's informant, "was when we arrived at the Hopkins ranch. There we were informed that two young men, answering very closely the description of Mr. Dolman and Mr. Mikel appeared near the ranch in a boat. They called, and were answered. They asked where the landing place was. They were told, but instead of going in the direction indicated they went out in the lake again."

Monday morning came, and we discovered that we were near to a farm house on one shore of the lake. The farm house was in the middle of grain fields. I have since learned that this was the Merrill side of the lake. We ran over, thinking to land at the farm house, but to our surprise the shore was lined with tules, and at no place could we find a channel or a landing.

"We discussed making an effort to wade through the tules and reach the land, but Mr. Mikel's experience of the night before had taken our nerve and we did not make the attempt. We tied half a handkerchief, all that we had left, to the paddle, waved it in the air and shouted. No response came from the house. It looked inhabited, because a washing was hanging out on the line, but so far as we could tell there was no other sign of human habitation about the place. Our signals were not answered, and finally we turned away."

According to John Schallock, one of the best informed men on distances in this section, it is about 200 yards from the channel to the high land at the Hopkins ranch, and there is a very good landing a little way north.

Charles Low, Oscar Breneman and Jesse Hart composed a motor search party that was about the last to return to the city. They left here yesterday afternoon, in response to the appeal for help, with blankets and provisions to last three days. They learned of the safe return of the missing men when they stopped at Worden.

Messrs. Mikel and Dolman expressed surprise when they learned that so many people had taken up the search for them. In his authorized interview Mr. Dolman states that he had expected Mr. Evans of the Northwestern to have been worried about them, and when they ascertained at Worden that many others had become interested, they made every effort to give publicity to their safety.

It seems that in addition to having been without food, and with water all about them, but not a drop to drink, the young men had only a few cigarettes, and this caused great inconvenience. To quote Mr. Dolman:

"We discovered our stock of cigarettes was low. We had had nothing to eat since shortly after noon, and cigarettes seemed to help our hunger. So we decided to divide each cigarette, each person smoking half. We took turn about as to which one should have the first half and which should have butts."

JUDGE BENSON TO BE VERY BUSY

From this time until the opening of court in Lakeview, the second Monday in October, Judge Benson will be literally "up to his ears" in work.

A jury term will commence here Tuesday, and there are enough cases on the docket to keep the machinery of justice in the circuit court buzzing constantly. Of course, there is a chance that there will be settlements made out of court, before Tuesday, but no intimation has yet been given.

There is not a single criminal case to be taken up, so far as the docket shows, but the fact that District Attorney has given notice that the grand jury will be called leads to the belief that there will be criminal trials held at this term of court.

Today Judge Benson was occupied with routine matters. "I am rounding out my vacation," said the judge. "Apparently the attorneys know this, and there has been nothing of importance before me since my return from the South."

DOWNWARD COURSE

Fast Being Realized by Klamath Falls People

A little backache at first. Daily increasing till the back is lame and weak.

Urinary disorders quickly follow; Dropsy and finally Bright's disease. This is the downward course of kidney ills.

Don't take this course. Klamath Falls people should profit by the following experience:

A. Bots, 130 Front street, Medford, Ore., says: "I am just as willing to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills today as I was in September, 1907, when I publicly told of my experiences with them. I suffered from kidney trouble for at least five years, and as time passed I grew worse, instead of better. Sharp pains darted through the small of my back and sometimes the attacks were so severe that I could hardly stoop. At night my back ached intensely, and sound sleep was out of the question. Being told to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box, and they soon gave me relief."

For sale by all druggers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Taft Traveling United Press Service BOSTON, Aug. 28.—President Taft and Major Rhodes, his military aide, arrived here today in an automobile. They boarded a train bound for Columbus. They expect to return to Beverly Friday evening.

Better have your umbrella recovered now and then, it will be useful when there is rain.

GOOD SHOOTING

There are ten ducks on the Upper Lake to be on the Lower Lake this season. I have been to both places this week.

Get aboard the mail boat Spray any day, and land at THE MALLARD CLUB, Agency Lake, where you can get the best shooting at the least possible loss of time. Special rate of $3.00 for the round trip, including bus fare to Helena Vista dock. The Spray will leave Saturday evening, August 31st. Get aboard. The Spray will also make special trips, leaving Saturdays at 9 p. m., returning after the Sunday evening shoot, for parties of eight or more, which can be arranged for at the O. K. Transfer office.

The eight-room ark will furnish good accommodations for hunters; fine meals, good beds, and is only five minutes' walk or row from the best shooting. No danger of getting lost! Will have final white light at entrance of Agency Straits and on ark for guidance of launch parties arriving after dark. Twelve and ten gauge shells in stock.

Come and let Captain Bob McCauley entertain you.
