PLANS FOR FAIR BUILDING READY

FIRST STRUCTURE FOR FRISCO FAIR WILL BE IN COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION SOON—WILL COST $20,000.

Special to The Herald
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Plans for the Service Building, the first structure to be erected on the Panama-Pacific International Exposition site at Harbor View have been completed, and within the next week advertisements will be placed for bids for the construction of this important edifice.
This structure will be three stories in height, and will cost in the neighborhood of $20,000. It will be 150 feet square, with an interior court of 55 feet by 104 feet. It will face Fillmore street, and will be at least 300 feet west of that thoroughfare. The space between Fillmore street and the portion of the structure will be beautified by gardens, fountain and other landscape effects.
Through the center line of the entire court or light well is Francisco street, which, among other streets, has been closed by order of the board of supervisors.
It will be a frame structure, covered on the outside with staff and plaster, and its appearance will recall the early California style of architecture. It will also harmonize with the other buildings on the exposition site.

ADVERTISING PAYS, SAYS BEN SELLING

PROMINENT PORTLAND MERCHANT ATTRIBUTES MUCH OF HIS SUCCESS IN BUSINESS TO USE OF PRINTERS' INK

"I cannot understand how any merchant prospers in business without taking advantage of the advertising columns of the newspapers."
This was the declaration of Ben Selling of Portland, who left for home this morning.
"My advertising has cost me away up in six figures during my last ten years in merchandising," continued Mr. Selling, "and I attribute my success in business greatly to the fact that I have been liberal in the use of printers' ink."
"It is a mistaken idea that the merchant who advertises must charge more for his goods than the one who does not. In fact, the very reverse is the case. This has been repeatedly demonstrated. The selling cost of the merchant who advertises on each sale made is considerably less than that of the merchant who does not advertise, and this difference more than takes care of the advertising cost."
A thermos bottle is fine for summer trips, and is equally useful in winter. I have them.

ALL CREDITORS TO GET LITTLE CASH

THE SMALL SUM OF $,000 ON THE DOLLAR WILL BE PAID BY F. C. BAMBER, A BANKRUPT, OF THIS CITY

This is the date for the payment of the first and final dividend in the case of F. C. Bamber, bankrupt, by Referee in Bankruptcy James C. Rutanic. Bamber was formerly in the paint and oil business here, and went to the wall.
There remains to be divided between the remaining creditors but a few dollars, and apportioning the small amount to the various claims will give each claimant $,0036 on the dollar. This is the smallest "divy" that has ever been made in any case of bankruptcy before the referee here. Some failures have resulted in all funds being lost to the creditors, but for a genuine lilliputian dividend the Bamber case holds the record.

COMAN PLEASANT WITH OUR ROADS

ways over the entire route," continued Mr. Coman. "We found some very unusual scenery and the journey was delightful in the fullest sense of the word."
"Of all the interior Oregon features Crater Lake alone surpassed my expectations. It is magnificent far beyond description. I do not believe that anyone who has failed to visit Crater Lake can appreciate its wonders. On several former trips through interior Oregon I had missed going to Crater Lake, and this time I decided that if I saw nothing else I would go to this great body of water, cloud high and beautiful."
Mr. Coman says that the Central Oregon country is a vast region of hope. Crops this year are generally good. The season has been pleasant and the certainty of a great future for the country has added wonderfully to contentment.
The masquerade ball in the Pavilion Saturday night is certain to be a success. The music will start at 9:15 and the dancers will take off their disguises at 10 o'clock.
A real treat, "Fra Diavolo." Special orchestra music. Sparks tonight.
"Fra Diavolo" at Sparks Tonight
It has arrived. The big three-reel production of "Fra Diavolo" will be exhibited at the Sparks theater tonight for the first time. No late feature in photo plays has received such favorable comment from newspapers, critics and theatrical journals as "Fra Diavolo." It cost $25,000 to produce this great picture. We have had the pleasure of seeing it, and can truthfully say that it is a most wonderful portrayal of the photo players art. Brim full of refined comedy and thrilling scenes.
An orchestra of five pieces, introducing Mr. Chas. Lutton, violinist, will render a specially selected musical program. "Reconciled in Reno," a rip-roaring comedy, will conclude what can be termed a "most satisfactory program."
Two nights only, Thursday and Friday. On account of the extra expense of obtaining this feature of features the admission will be 15 cents, and well worth it.

TEACH GIRLS TO SHOP, IS A FAD

SOCIETY WOMEN OF LONDON ACCOMPANY THEIR DAUGHTERS TO THE SHOPS AND INSTRUCT THEM IN BUYING

United Press Service
LONDON, Aug. 29.—"I am not buying today—I am only teaching my daughters how to shop," was the remark made by a fashionably dressed woman to a weary store clerk, who had been displaying the establishment's best wares for over an hour. The store clerk in question lost her temper, and was reported to the manager, but he intimated to the "shopping teacher" that the store wasn't run as a girl's school.
Inquiries made in the fashionable West End shopping centers, however, show that teaching the young ideas how to shop is quite the most popular pastime now in society's circles.
Whole family parties visit the stores, some times to escape the rain, and keep the clerks harassed racing around for hours, without the least intention of purchasing anything.

Grand Jury Holds
PORTLAND, Aug. 29.—The active business of the grand jury has been suspended until the legal status of the district attorney's office has been determined by the courts. Following the announcement of the dismissal of Cameron by Governor West a point was raised by the members of the jury as to the legality of any proceedings taken when Cameron was in the room. The fact that the courts have refused to sustain indictments when non-official persons were admitted to the jury room during the taking of evidence, was cited by some of the members.

C. W. MORSE, ON PAROLE, PROMOTES STEAMER LINE

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 29.—C. W. Morse, recently paroled from the Atlanta federal prison, it is understood is one of the promoters of a proposed new steamship line whose vessels will ply between here and New York.

MYSTERIOUS WOMAN STILL ELUDES CAPTURE

At the Sparks theater last night the mysterious woman whose identity is the subject of a $10,000 reward was present in feminine attire, but no one picked her out and spoke the words necessary to the apprehension of the ten. She will attend the theater tonight in disguise and alone who orates discreetly enough will be able to collect the money. She believes she will be able to defy detection, and the chances are that the mystery will be on tap all week at the picture house.

Hop Crop Tip-Top

PORTLAND, Aug. 29.—"The harvest is great, and laborers are plentiful," said one of the leading grower-dealers, commenting on the hop crop outlook. Others take a similar view. So far as can be learned the hop-growers of the valley are assured of all the help they will need in the gathering of the crop, which is one of the finest and biggest Oregon has ever produced.

54 BUSHELS OF WHEAT BY DRY FARMING METHOD

WALLOWA, Aug. 29.—What is claimed to be the record for dry land wheat farming in Wallowa county has been made by J. B. Gaston, near Wallowa. He has just harvested 54 bushels of wheat to the acre on 15 acres of land. The grain is of the Forty-Fold variety. Dry land farming in Wallowa county this year is better than has been recorded for a long time, and as a result dry hill land is becoming more valuable. Three or four years ago it was thought impossible to raise anything on this land.

MANN SAYS DEMS HAVE FAILED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—"Inefficient, disorganized, unprogressive and inactive" were words used today to describe the work of the democratic house by Congressman James R. Mann, republican leader, in a declaration reviewing the accomplishments of the lower chamber of the Sixty-second congress. Mann characterizes some of the democratic majority's work as stinky and silly, and other of its acts as pure extravagance.

GOVERNOR WILSON OPENS PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN

DEMOCRATIC STANDARD BEARER DENOUNCES BOTH ROOSEVELT AND TAFT—SAYS REPUBLICANS MISTREAT FARMERS

WILLIAM GROVE, Penn., Aug. 29. Woodrow Wilson fired the opening gun of the democratic campaign here today at the opening of the Pennsylvania state grange. He denounced Roosevelt and Taft, and said that the only way the people could learn of the operations of the republican party was by congressional investigations and court trials.
Professor Wilson denounced President Taft for vetoing the farmers' free list bill, and asserted that the republicans had never given the farmers a square deal.
