four women who were indicted by the grand jury and who are charged with conducting bawdy houses, contrary to the state law. These women had not been able to secure $500 cash bail each up to a late hour this afternoon, and were remanded into the custody of the sheriff.

With the indictment of the two councilmen after a thorough investigation by seven representative citizens of Klamath county, it is expected that Messrs. Savidge and Goeller will resign immediately as members of the city council. It is understood that their friends have advised them to take this notice.

The fact that Councilman Crisler was not indicted has caused considerable speculation on the streets. It seems that Mr. Crisler, while present when the original demand for graft was made, did not appear at the meeting when the money and notes were handed over, and it is supposed that the grand jury did not consider that there was sufficient evidence against him to secure a conviction of wrong doing.

Briefly the story of the charges against the two councilmen and Hunter Savidge is as follows:

The Livermore brothers, who were operating the Livermore hotel in this city, were not able to make both ends meet and the place was attached. The bar in connection was sold under a chattel mortgage and was bought by James Wheeler. Soon after the purchase, Hunter Savidge, accompanied by three councilmen, two of whom were his brother and Mr. Goeller, called at the Livermore bar and demanded that unless bills aggregating about $1,600 were paid, an effort to secure the transfer of the Livermore license to Wheeler by the city council would be defeated. In other words, the threat was made that unless Mr. Wheeler paid over about $1,600 the councilmen would, as members of the city council, defeat Wheeler in his effort to effect a license transfer, and by so doing, prevent him from carrying on the business he had just bought.

Wheeler was not able to pay the money at that time, but a day or two later another conference was held and Wheeler paid $150 in cash and gave two notes for enough to make up the total around $800, about half what was originally demanded. This money and the notes were placed in an envelope and given to Mr. Goeller, with instructions that if the license transfer was made, the money and notes were to be retained, but if it was not made, the envelope and contents were to be returned to Mr. Wheeler. The license transfer was properly made, and Mr. Wheeler did not again see his money.

Subsequently the affair was exposed by The Herald, and the grand jury was called to consider the charges, with the result that the indictments were returned, the charge against the two councilmen being "accepting and receiving a bribe," and against Hunter Savidge being extortion of money.

DROP DOWN

HALL'S GRILL

The Hotel Hall Grill is proving popular with the Klamath Falls public. A distinct feature is the merchants' lunch served at noon. The uniform price of 25 cents is charged, and the service compares favorably with that of any of the cafes in the big centers.

For some reason, the impression has prevailed that the prices charged here have been excessive, when, as a matter of fact, a comparison of the bill of fare with that of other cafes in the city show but little if any difference.

The management has made special arrangements for serving parties in afternoon or evening. The grill has been fitted up with a new particularly for this service.

Also, we would like to call your attention to our special Sunday dinner for 75 cents, which excels anything in the city for the price.

Social Events of the Week

As a forerunner of other enjoyable events during the forthcoming social season, Mrs. W. P. Johnson entertained this afternoon with bridge and "500" at the magnificent Johnson residence on Pacific Terrace. About seventy Klamath Falls ladies enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Johnson. The rooms were beautifully decorated with Oregon grape leaves and pink sweet peas, and in bowers of artistic composition the card tables were arranged. Mrs. Johnson was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. S. O. Johnson, Mrs. Gowan, Mrs. C. S. Moore and Mrs. L. Gerber. The guests were: Mesdames C. E. Worden, S. Mason, G. H. Merryman, S. Oberchain, L. F. Willets, W. S. Worden, F. I. Write, F. H. Mills, L. Gerber, J. H. Driscoll, E. R. Reames, R. M. Richardson, George Walton, C. F. Stone, W. E. Faught, D. J. Zumwalt, W. O. Smith, A. McDougall, Misses Louise Sargent, Maud Baldwin and M. Zieglerman.

The cello solo by Mr. Elliott was particularly pleasing, and the accompaniments were all well rendered.

Mrs. Charles S. Moore entertained six tables at "500" Thursday afternoon at her beautiful home on the West Side. The rooms were decorated with asters and sweet peas. A prize was awarded for the highest score at each table, and the following were the successful players: Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Meldrum, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Wattenburg, Mrs. Zumwalt, Mrs. John Moore and Mrs. Zim Baldwin. Punch was served during the afternoon, and at the close of the game refreshments were served to the following guests: Mesdames L. F. Willets, E. R. Reames, R. M. Richardson, Den Zumwalt, W. O. Smith, E. J. Murray, Will Baldwin, Zim Baldwin, E. B. Henry, F. H. Mills, W. Paul Johnson, L. Gerber, E. W. Gowan, Geo. Merryman, Elias Oberchain, Carpenter, R. E. Wattenburg, H. F. Murdoch, E. B. Hall, Geo. Wright, C. I. Roberts, Oscar Shive, C. E. Meldrum, John Moore and Miss Maud Baldwin.

Wednesday afternoon Margaret Hargus celebrated her eighth birthday with a party at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. O. Smith, on Conger avenue. The afternoon was spent in games on the lawn and ice cream and cake was served to the following: Marion Martin, Christine Murdoch, Mildred Lewis, Beatrice West, Melba Davenport, Bonnie Davenport, Frances McLane, Frances Wrenn, Henry Gerber, Billy Wrenn, Innis Roberts and Buford Hargus.

The ladies of the Jul Ni Yel Club entertained nine tables at "500" Monday afternoon at the Jericho Club. Ice cream and cake were served, and prizes for high scores awarded to Mrs. C. E. Meldrum and Mrs. L. Gerber.

Mrs. Gene Childers returned this week from the Rogue River Valley, where she has been visiting for several weeks.

Mrs. J. K. Ballard and Mrs. I. D. Applegate returned last evening from a several days' automobile trip and visit at Ashland and Medford. The Happy Hour Club was delightfully entertained on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Wee-don. The rooms were tastefully decorated with sweet peas and carnations, and a most enjoyable time was had. Those present were: Mesdames Geo. Humphrey, Geo. Behn, R. A. Emmitt, Geo. Hayden, F. M. Mundy, W. P. Johnson, W. H. North, Loy Hilyard, J. H. Monros, Henry Stout, B. Hardenbrook, C. H. Humphrey, J. Sparks and W. H. Weedon.

Mrs. S. E. Martin and two children and Mrs. Tenbrook of Merrill arrived in the city last night. They are guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Ramsby. Mrs. Martin's parents, Mrs. Tenbrook is en route to Marshfield.

Mrs. R. H. Henderson and two children, Mrs. Erma Hovey and Mrs. R. L. Dalton of Merrill arrived in the city last night to attend the musicals.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Adams arrived in the city yesterday afternoon from their Merrill home, to attend the concert and to visit friends for a few days.

PIANO BRIEFS

A piano in the home this winter will be an education for the children, and interest them and their musical friends in home life.

A piano in the home this winter means an amount of pleasure and entertainment for the whole family and calling friends.

A musical home means a home of refinement and education.

We will sell you any piano sold in Frisco or Portland (not represented here), and save you money and make terms of payment to suit your convenience.

We buy the same pianos from the same factories, pay the same prices and freight, but sell the pianos ourselves on a small selling expense.

Yours for Quality and Home Trade.
