

Immoral Women Seek to Escape Jail on Technicality Son of Chief Meets Death at Hands of Umpqua Man

MOTION TO QUASH INDICTMENT IS CAUSE OF DELAY

ATTORNEY FOR FOUR WOMEN BRING IN LAW

That Grand Jury Did Not Inscribe All the Names of Witnesses Examined is Given as Cause for Setting Aside the Charge Against Women Who Are Charged With Operating Hawdy Houses

When the cases against the four ladies of the houses in the restricted district were taken up by Judge Benson after the noon adjournment today, a motion for the quashing of the indictments was introduced by the attorneys for the defense, and the cases were continued until tomorrow morning.

These motions, all similar, asked that the cases be dismissed because the indictments were endorsed with all of the witnesses except one, who had appeared before the grand jury in connection with those cases. This one witness was Police Officer Sharpe.

The indictments are endorsed with the names of Messrs. Hamilton, Hall, Nichols, Joe Smith and Doty. Mad Evans, Dorothy Ward, Stella Rodgers and Rosette Murray were the names which were substituted for "John Doe" in the indictments, when the women were formally asked for information in the court this morning. The first three named were represented by Attorney Crane, and Rosette's interests were looked after by Attorney Oneill. The attorneys asked for time and the court gave them until 1 o'clock this afternoon within which to plead.

GRAHAM MAKES SERIOUS CHARGE

WOMEN CHARGED WITH OPERATING HAWDY HOUSES ASKED TO BE MOVED BACK TO THE RESTRICTED DISTRICT

A. F. Graham called on Judge Benson Saturday evening and contended that four women, denizens of the underworld, were being quarantined in the Schallcock home very much in the manner characteristic of the insanity.

Judge Benson explained that the women had been ordered taken to the Schallcock home temporarily, not the proper place for them, and that the judge would issue orders that the women be taken to one of the houses in the restricted district and kept there under guard.

UNABLE TO GET RAILROAD RATE

WOOD RIVER VALLEY CHARGES BRING IMMENSE KENNEL LIVESTOCK TO FAIR IS PLANNED

John Ellis, the well known Klamath booster and stockman in the city today to remain until the county fair. Mr. Ellis has down some stock for exhibition, also have a rider in the contest.

Unfortunately, on account of being unable to secure a reasonable rate from the Southern Pacific, the Wood River Valley will not be able to make as extensive an exhibit of livestock, according to Mr. Ellis, as was at first planned. "We expected to bring down three or four carloads of stock," said Mr. Ellis, "and after failing to get a rate from the railroad we planned to secure a barge, but this got stuck on the bar coming up, and we had to give up. It is impossible to drive milk cows and fat animals a distance of 40 miles without damage. We had some fine horses which we wanted to show at the fair, but without transportation on the railroad we are unable to get them here in good condition."

Mills, and his two sisters. The attorney asked for additional time in order to examine the indictment returned by the grand jury.

JUDGE CENSURES COURT OFFICERS

DELAY IN BRINGING WOMEN INTO COURT RESULTS IN JUDGE BENSON CRITICIZING THE OFFICE OF THE SHERIFF

Threats of punishment for contempt of court this morning had no terrors for four women of the underworld who are under indictment for operating a hawdy-house here, if hurrying meant any neglect of the proper placing of the fine feathers by which they apparently hoped to captivate. As a result Judge Benson severely censured the sheriff's office.
