

Wood Dealers Reported to Have Skipped the Country Fort Klamath Murder May Lead to Arrest of Several

SEVERAL ARE MIXED IN THE INDIAN MURDER

AUTHORITIES ARE INFORMED OF NEW DEVELOPMENT

Instead of Chenoweth Being Alone With Frank Jack on the Night of the Murder, It is Stated That There Were Several Other Redskins Who Each Took Shots at the Murdered Man

That others besides Charlie (Umpqua) Chenoweth were implicated in the murder of Frank Jack at Fort Klamath a few days ago was indicated last night when Garfield Jack and some Indian friends arrived in the city from the reservation. The Indians were in consultation today with officers and friends here, and it is expected that a thorough investigation will be started as soon as it is definitely determined whether Chenoweth is to be tried in the state or federal courts.

The murder is alleged to have been committed on the "white" side of Wood River, but so near the reservation that the federal authorities may take up the case, especially as all of the parties concerned are Indians and wards of the government.

Chenoweth has been confined in the county jail since the murder, and has refused to discuss the case with anyone. In fact, he has not talked about anything since his confinement. It is claimed that there were at least three other Indians involved in the murder of Frank Jack. A number of shots were fired, but the only one to take effect was the last, and it was fired by Chenoweth. The Indians had secured a bottle of whiskey in Fort Klamath, and had gone into the woods to drink it.

Trouble arose over something, possibly the question of who had been giving information leading to the making of complaints against the men on the reservation who have been furnishing liquor to the Indians. The entire party appeared to be against Jack, but it was the deadly aim of Chenoweth that brought him to the ground.

CROWDS REVEL WITHOUT BANDS

MARDI GRAS FEATURE OF THE KLAMATH COUNTY FAIR WAS NOT AS SUCCESSFUL AS IT HAD BEEN PROMISED.

The spirit of revelry prevailed on the streets last night, in spite of the fact that the promise to have two brass bands on the street did not materialize. The sidewalks were crowded with people, four of whom were masked.

The throwing of confetti was the principal form of amusement, and a great quantity was disposed of. The moving picture shows were well patronized.

BARNES WILL ARRIVE TONIGHT

SHERIFF IS BRINGING BACK THE YOUNG GIRL WANTED AS WITNESS AGAINST HER FATHER, CHARGED WITH INCEST

With Bernice Wallen in custody, Sheriff Barnes will arrive in the city tonight. On the same train will be Deputy Sheriff John Schallock having in custody Harriet Pink.

Through the courtesy of a Texas sheriff, Sheriff Barnes went only as far south as Los Angeles in his chase for Bernice Wallen, wanted here as a witness against her father, Arthur Wallen, who is charged with incest.

The girl is supposed to have been spirited out of the country. She was traced through letters to Texas, and the authorities there notified. The word came back that the Texas officer would bring the girl as far as Los Angeles, and Sheriff Barnes went there and the girl was turned over to him.

In order to bring the girl back to this city it became necessary to lodge a charge against her. This was done by charging her with delinquency, an extraditable offense.

CREDITORS MAY LOSE A LARGE AMOUNT OF COIN

BRIAR & ANDERSON HAVE BEEN MISSING SEVERAL DAYS

Amount Due People Here is Held to Range From $5,000 to $10,000. Two Men Took With Them Ten Head of Valuable Work Horses. Said They Were Going to Operate Near Keno, But No Confirmation

Leaving anxious creditors here holding claims variously estimated at from $5,000 to $10,000, A. D. Briar and George Anderson have apparently dropped completely out of sight, taking with them the assets which were considered ample security for the credit which had been extended them during their business operations here, and it was ascertained this afternoon that there is a scramble to levy on whatever of value has been left here by the two men, who have been conducting a wood business here.

According to the best information obtainable this afternoon, the two men left the city a week ago Thursday with the avowed purpose of working with their outfit in getting out wood in the vicinity of Keno. This outfit included ten head of valuable work horses said to have been bought from J. Frank Adams. One of their creditors went to Keno yesterday, but was not able to locate the two men. They had been there some time before, and had stopped at the Summit farm.

This morning two of their creditors visited their cabin in Nichols addition, and found that everything of value had been removed. It was after the report of these two men had been made that other creditors became especially alarmed.

In addition to numerous bills obtainable by the city, it is declared that a local bank is involved to the extent of $5,000, but this could not be confirmed this afternoon because of the half holiday taken by all of the banking institutions here in order to enable employes to attend the fair.

Briar & Anderson have had the contract for disposing of the slabs at

One of the successful features of the Klamath county fair has been the school exhibits, the prizes for which were awarded today.

The high school exhibited wood work by the manual training department and the domestic science class served wafers made by members of the class. Most of the furniture now in the high school was made by the pupils. The commercial department exhibit was featured by the demonstration contest in typewriting.

The city schools had a full booth containing samples of the school work. The booth exhibiting native birds and animals from the collection of Professor Dunbar attracted considerable attention.

The country schools were represented by agricultural exhibits. That of the Worden schools was one of the best. The best individual exhibit was by Eugene McCornack, and was of grain and potatoes grown on reclaimed swamp land.
