CO-EDS DO NOT CANOE AT NIGHT

FACULTY AT UNIVERSITY OF OREGON REVIVE AN OBSOLETE RULE THAT GIRLS MUST KEEP OFF MILL RACE

EUGENE, Oct. 3.—Oregon co-eds are pondering over the motives that induced the Oregon faculty to revive an obsolete ruling which forbids all girls to be on the mill race, the student's recreation canoe haunt, after sunset, and from their windows they watched the waning of a bright autumn moon without interest. Although the faculty rules requiring the co-eds to be off the streets after 9 o'clock in the evening have met with no objection, the girls have been surprised at the mill race notification.

Miss Guppy, dean of women, gives no particular reason for its enforcement, but states: "The university authorities have deemed it best for the girls to be off the mill race by dusk. And I wish to say that they, the co-eds, have accepted this ruling gracefully, and have acquiesced most beautifully.

A large canoe house with a dining room and dance floor has been recently built at the edge of the race, to which the students have looked forward for evening dinner parties and informal dances, with canoeing as a feature.

For County Surveyor

A certificate of nomination is being circulated which will be the means of placing Mr. George M. Klein on the November ballot for surveyor for Klamath county, and as a number of other candidates will appear on the independent ticket, Mr. Klein will not be alone. That the republican ticket will split, that the democrats will endorse this nomination, and that there is no candidate other than Mr. Henry, it is predicted that Mr. Klein will pole a larger vote than would be possible if the political situation were different.

Mr. George M. Klein came here from San Francisco, where he was employed by the Metropolitan Construction company, at that time doing municipal work; employed by Henry & McConnell, and soon after was made a deputy county surveyor. After ten months of faithful work for Mr. Henry, where Mr. Klein proved his competency, Mr. Klein opened offices now in conjunction with Sperry Bros. agency for the well known Fairbanks Morse gasoline engines and irrigation pumps. Mr. Klein has been successful in other business ventures here, and is well thought of. He has made the largest map of Klamath county, is entirely familiar with the surrounding country, and besides doing ditch and land survey, Mr. Klein has made an excellent record of railroad survey in the county for this year, some of which has been constructed to date, and the Klamath Valley, Bonanza Eastern Electric railroad, which is getting good support. Mr. Klein is a graduate engineer of Stanford university, finishing a few years after City Engineer Zumwalt. Mr. Klein has never been known to favor a friend on any survey. He stands for no favoritism and justice to all.

ADS IN PAPER ARE PROBABLY FRAUDS

SALEM, Oct. 3.—"Men wanted to file on valuable timber claims close to coast: exceptional opportunity. 54 Continental block." This evidently was printed in a Salt Lake paper.

What Attorney General Crawford designates as a "sure thing swindle" is revealed in a letter received by the attorney general from J. S. Early of Salt Lake. Mr. Early inclosed the above "wanted." He said he learned the timber was supposed to be in Benton and Polk counties, Oregon.

The proposition, he said, was that he should pay the agents $150 for locating him and securing title to the land, and that then the lumber companies would pay him 50 cents per 1,000 feet for the standing timber. He asked the attorney general if there was valuable timber land here to be filed on, and if it could be done in the proposed manner legally.

The attorney general advised him to cling to his $150, saying the timberland of value was practically all taken, and that even if it were not so, the scheme proposed would lay him criminally liable for taking a timber claim practically as a dummy for the benefit of a lumber company.

WHISKY THIRSTS ARE ON INCREASE

Are the American people abstaining from milder beverages and tending more and more toward strong drink?

Figures furnished by R. E. Cabell, commissioner of internal revenue from Washington, D. C., while he was in Portland, answer this question affirmatively.

Last year, said Commissioner Cabell, America drank more whiskey and less beer per capita than ever before. The revenue from whiskey was $150,000,000, an increase of approximately 10 per cent. The collections from beer were $63,000,000, a decrease of approximately 3 per cent from last year.

Some quality of the whiskey, explained the internal revenue commissioner, seems to furnish part explanation. Not all of the great flood of whiskey went down American throats. Part of it was for the delectation of foreigners. In fact, more whiskey was exported to foreign countries last year than ever before.

Commissioner Cabell's figures also show that the consumption of tobacco and cigars nearly kept pace with the drinking of whiskey. The collections for the year were $69,000,000 from this source, an increase of approximately 2 per cent.

"I will leave to the theologians the sociologists and the others who make analyses of such things, the explanation and significance of the figures," said Commissioner Cabell.

Compared with the total of $282,000,000 paid in as internal revenue whiskey, beer, tobacco and cigars, the tax of $29,000,000 assessed against the corporations of the country seems very small. Yet the gures of Commissioner Cabell show an increase of $2,000,000 in the amount of this tax over last year.

Indicative of the dependence placed in meeting the cost of running the government upon the income from whiskey, beer, tobacco and corporations, is the difference between the total of internal revenue, and the sum of the four items.

The total for last year was $322,000,000. The total collected from the items named was $311,000,000, leaving $11,000,000 to be collected from all other sources, so far as internal revenues are concerned.

And modern sanitary plumbing has placed them at the disposal of rich and poor alike, for few purges nowadays are so limited as not to be able to afford what was a few years ago an almost priceless luxury. If you desire to know all about what a moderate sum they can be installed, call up GREELEY.

A Clean Scalp And Healthy Hair

Many of your friends have found that a luxuriant growth of hair—soft and glossy—and a scalp free from dandruff, will result from the use of

NYAL'S HIRSU-TONE

This is the procedure—Wash the hair with warm water and a mild soap—rinse thoroughly—rub the scalp with a stiff brush—apply Hirsutone—rub it in well and dry the hair before combing.

Please understand that Hirsutone is not merely a hair wash—it is a tonic.

While it thoroughly cleanses, it also prevents bacterial action—moisturizes and stimulates the roots of the hair—removes all dandruff—prevents its return—and preserves the natural beauty and color of the hair.

Nyal's Hirsutone should be your dressing table. It sells at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle.
