VOTERS WARNED OF SINGLE TAX LAW

The proposed amendment to the state constitution, which will appear on the official ballot in November as "Numbers 364-365," if it carries will impose single tax in every county in the state of Oregon.

The amendment is generally referred to and discussed as the "graduated single tax," and but rarely, if ever, is any reference made in public discussions to the fact that it contains the provision for "single tax" in all counties. The general understanding is that this measure only imposes certain specific taxes on lands owned by one person in one county, of the value of $10,000 and over, for state expenses only. This is not the case.

Clause 1 of the proposed amendment, pages 228-229, of pamphlet issued by the state of Oregon, reads as follows:

"The people of any county may at any time by a county law assess and tax personal property and improvements on, and under land in their county, but except as such property may be assessed and taxed by and under such county laws the same is exempt from taxation in Oregon. Such local county law may be enacted, amended or repealed at any regular general election, or at a special election if such special election is demanded by initiative petition of not less than fifteen per cent of the registered voters of the county. The county court shall give at least sixty days' notice of every such special election."

If the law carries, it will automatically impose single tax on every county in the state, notwithstanding a county may be opposed to such a measure. It will also be noted that in order to call a special election under this provision not less than 15 per cent of the registered voters of the county will be required to sign an initiative petition for this purpose, whereas in other cases but 8 per cent of the registered voters is required. Those who are opposed to single tax should vote 365—No.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 7.—The construction of eighteen new prisons is necessary to accommodate the increasing number of political prisoners, says the chief of prisons administration in presenting its budget for the ensuing year. The minister of justice will ask the Fourth duma, which is to meet November 26th, for an appropriation of $5,000,000 for this purpose.

At present the various prisons of Russia contain approximately 190,000 condemned persons, of whom 120,000 were sentenced for political offenses, an increase of 50,000 in the past five years.
