FEARS VERDICT; TRIES SUICIDE

WOMAN TAKES POISON RATHER THAN RUN THE RISK OF BEING SENT TO JAIL, AND DISGRACING HER PARENTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—About to go to trial before a jury in Judge Duane's court on a grand larceny charge, Gertrude Louise Wright, who was recently arrested at the instigation of her husband, T. J. Wright, attempted suicide this afternoon by swallowing chloroform in the Hall of Justice. She swallowed so much of the drug that it acted as an emetic. She was rushed to the Harbor Emergency hospital.

The woman had declared she believed that she would be convicted, and rather than bring disgrace upon her father and son, preferred death. Wright, who is an aged miner, met the woman through a matrimonial agency. She secured $3,500, with which she was to purchase a lodging house, and left him. Later she wrote that her marriage was a mistake, but refused to refund the money.

BOSTON, Oct. 9.—With forbidding clouds sailing rapidly by from the northeast gale, the second game of the world's championship series was started here today, and ended in the eleventh frame with an even score, 6 to 6, when darkness prevented further play.

It was a veritable swatfest. Because of the heavy wind it was impossible for the batters to properly judge batted balls, and hits that would under other circumstances have been easy outs were scored up at hits.

The Sox started out like they expected to win the game right off the reel. Hooper singled and stole second, while Yerkes was safe when Fletcher dropped his fly; Speaker bunted safely, and the bases were full with no one out. Then Lewis singled, but Hooper was caught at the plate; Gardner went out at first and Yerkes scored on the play; Stahl singled, scoring Speaker and Lewis; Wagner bled, ending the inning. Three runs.

In this inning the Giants started in the run column. Merkle fanned, Herzog tripled and Myers singled, scoring Herzog; Fletcher bled, and Mathewson forced Meyers. One run.

The Sox went out in a hurry. Carrigan and Collins went out at first; Yerkes reached first safely, but was doubled by Hooper. No runs.

For the Giants Snodgrass bled, Doyle fouled out and Becker was out at first. No runs.
