BROWN CLAIMS HIS INNOCENCE

INDIAN ARRESTED BY SHERIFF CLAIMS THAT THE PROPERTY HE IS ACCUSED OF STEALING IS HIS OWN

Charged with stealing a saddle and blanket, Joe Brown, an Indian, was arrested this afternoon by Deputy Sheriff John Schallock, acting on advice from the Indian reservation. Brown was allowed his liberty on his own recognizance.

According to Brown, the property with which he is charged with stealing is his own. He claims that he had some trouble with a squaw on the reservation, and his arrest is the result.

GRAND JURY TO BE VERY SECRET

SEATTLE PEOPLE ARE WONDERING REASON INQUIRITIONAL BODY IS TO BE CALLED TOGETHER AT THIS TIME

United Press Service
SEATTLE, Oct. 16.—The greatest possible secrecy is still being maintained with regard to the special grand jury, which was convened in the United States court here on Saturday. The jury will not be in session for more than four or five days, Judge Howard intimated. What their investigation is about is entirely a matter of speculation.

The marshal's office intimated that the same secrecy will be maintained until all those indicted will have been arrested, and that this may cover a period of thirty days. Postoffice employees were the only ones so far examined.

UMPQUA INDIAN WILL BATTLE FOR HIS LIFE

HINDKIN RETAINS ATTORNEYS TO MAKE DEFENSE

Sensational Developments Are Anticipated in the Event of the Case Going to Trial—Other Indians May Be Implicated in the Murder of Frank Jack, an Indian From the Reservation

Charged with the murder of Frank Jack, Chenoweth Umpqua was arraigned before Justice Graves late this afternoon, and was bound over to the grand jury.

Keesee & Groesbeck have been retained by the defendant. They announced this afternoon that they would insist on the state producing evidence to show a case.

It is intimated that there will be some sensational developments in the event of Chenoweth being held for trial, inasmuch as it will be shown that there are others implicated in the murder.

Chenoweth is an Umpqua Indian, while Frank Jack was of the Klamath reservation. On this account there is some bitterness.

The murder was committed on the "white" side of Wood River, so that it must be tried in the state courts instead of the federal courts.

Midwife Honored
United Press Service
LONDON, Oct. 16.—"She brought into this world three thousand lives," reads the epitaph on the gravestone of Margaret Hawtree, a midwife who died in 1734, which has just been discovered in St. Paul's churchyard, Deptford.

Alex Davis has returned from Texas and Mexico, where he has been for some time buying cattle.

MRS. TUBBS WAS EARLY SETTLER

WIDOW OF MAN WHO FOUNDED LINKVILLE VISITS THIS CITY AS THE GUEST OF HER SISTER, MRS. F. E. BOYD

Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Tubbs of Yreka are in the city, visiting Mrs. Tubbs' sister, Mrs. F. E. Boyd.

Mrs. Tubbs was one of the pioneers of this city. She was formerly the wife of George Nurse, who platted the town of Linkville, now Klamath Falls.

In 1857 Mr. Nurse settled here. Securing a permit from the government in that year he operated a ferry across Link River. During the summer lumber was rafted down the river from Fort Klamath, and the pioneer building was erected on a rocky point near the river bank and Main street.

Mr. Nurse opened a sutler's store in this structure. The trade at first was mostly with the Indians.

THREE DAYS TO REGISTER LEFT

BOOKS WILL CLOSE SATURDAY NIGHT—COUNTY CANDIDATES ARE ACTIVE IN INDUCING VOTERS TO QUALIFY

But three days remain before the closing of the registration books. Today the registration was heavy, and it is expected that the rush will be kept up until Saturday evening, when the last opportunity will be afforded.

The candidates for the different county offices have been active in inducing registration, and the county court house has been for several days the headquarters for aspirants for office.

It is expected that immediately after the registration books are closed the candidates will start on the campaign with a renewed vigor.

Mrs. Doughty was an actress. Her stage name was Margaret Moreland.

Local Fans Interested
Interest in the final game of the world's championship series was at fever heat in Klamath Falls today. The Herald's bulletin board was surrounded by an eager crowd of fans to such an extent as to block the sidewalk, and Chief of Police Smith ordered the board removed to a point on Fourth street, where the fans eagerly awaited returns.

When it was announced that Boston had won there was a great shout, indicating that the bean-eaters have many followers here.

United Press Service
BOSTON, Oct. 16.—The attendance for the entire series of the 1912 world's championship games was 252,032. The total receipts were $490,830. Each of the Boston players will receive $4,029.

The credit for losing the game for New York is given to Snodgrass when he muffed an easy fly ball in the tenth inning.

Mathewson pitched his greatest game. It was a heart-breaking battle or the Old Master, who stood through a game with uncertain support as only a marvel of heart, brain and arm could.

The match was the most dramatic ever staged.

By Wilson Clements
BOSTON, Oct. 16.—After pitching nine innings of perfect ball in the final game of the world's championship series, Mathewson lost his grip in the tenth inning, and the Red Sox brought home the bacon to the tune of 3 to 2.

It was as such a battle of brains on
