Some Sheep Country
That Oregon is somewhat of a wool state is shown by the fact that one sheep produced a fleece of 4-inch staple wool weighing 35 pounds, worth about $2.50. This fleece was grown in Morrow county, and has been shipped back to the Eastern land shows as one part of Oregon's output.

PEOPLE YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

GEORGE CHASTAIN HAS AN IDEA

Somebody has figured out that a "Standpatter" is one who stops and can't start. A "Progressive" is one who starts and can't stop. Everybody now knows what a democrat is, and a pretty fair sample of the genus is George Chastain, deputy county clerk.

In spite of his politics, George has been county clerking more or less for a long time. There was a time when he was the "whole works" in the clerical line for the county. He was one of the few democrats on the ticket that year who succeeded. Since then George has been satisfied to draw down the salary attached to the office of deputy.

George has never swerved from the straight but broad path of democracy, Klamath county and the nation to the contrary notwithstanding. He has never forgotten the cross of gold and the crown of thorns, and always does he remember the statemanship of Thomas Jefferson.

When the proposition came up during the last campaign to get out and "whop-up" things for Wilson and Marshall, George was one of those who advised against it.

"There are lots of republicans who will vote with us this year," he said.
"If you will only leave them alone.
They hate to do it, but they feel that they ought to. The only way to land them is to blindfold them and back them in. Don't try and lead them The vote in this county would indicate that George knew what he was talking about.

RUSTLERS ARE HELD IN PRISON

PUNK AND BILL ANDERSON, WELL KNOWN IN THE DESERT
COUNTRY, HELD BY CROOK
COUNTY GRAND JURY

In regard to the horse rustlers who were recently captured in Lake county by Sheriff Snider, the Silver Lake Leader says:

W. C. Currier, A. B. Schroder and John Hayes returned from Prineville last Sunday evening, where they had been as witnesses in the horse stealing case. The grand jury found true bills against Punk and Bill Anderson. Their trial was set for December 24 and the court placed their bonds at $5,000 each, which, at last reports, they had been unable to furnish. Shorty Allen has been held at a witness.

LIGHTING EXPERT HERE TO LECTURE

P. D. FAGAN WILL TELL HOW TO SAVE ON ELECTRIC LIGHTS
BILL—ONL AND NEW METHODS TO BE EXPLAINED

P. D. Fagan, the lighting expert who is to talk in the opera house tonight, arrived in town Sunday, accompanied by his assistant.

"There are a good many ways to do the same thing," said Mr. Fagan, "but usually there is only one right way. So it is with electric lighting.
For example: You would question the wisdom of a man who in zero weather starts to warm his house with all the doors and windows open. He might accomplish his purpose, but it would be expensive. So with much of the ordinary store and residence lighting.

"The colored gentleman who stopped into a local hardware store the

We Welcome Small Deposits

Did you ever stop to think that a hundred small accounts make a bank stronger than a dozen large ones? That is one of our reasons for urging the men of limited means to transact their business with us.
Large accounts are welcome, too, for it is our purpose to serve
ALL the people.

It matters not what amount of money you have to deposit—we will accept it at this bank. We welcome the small depositor, we attend to him the same courteous and efficient service accorded to all of our patrons.

Our customers all know this.
