

ODD FELLOWS TO GO AFTER GRAND LODGE MEETING

LARGE DELEGATION WILL GO TO MEDFORD IN SPRING

Accompanied by a Brass Band of Twenty-Five Pieces, Local Boosters Will Make a Persistent Attempt to Secure Enforcement of Klamath Falls—Committee is Appointed to Carry Out the Plan

One hundred and thirty Odd Fellows were present at the meeting last evening when it was decided that Klamath Falls do some extensive advertising by sending a large delegation to the Grand Lodge meeting to be held in Medford next May. A Grand Lodge committee consisting of E. J. Sheets, Nate Otterbein and Percival Sholl, was appointed to have charge of the arrangements and finances.

It was decided to send a degree team of twenty-five members, and also a band of about twenty-five pieces, and as large a delegation as possible in addition, to Medford. Over $125 was pledged by subscription at the meeting, and the members are confident that there will be no difficulty in raising sufficient to pay all of the expenses of the team and band.

The Odd Fellows of Klamath Falls are going to make a fight to bring the Grand Lodge to this city in 1919. It is expected that railroad connections to the north will be completed by that time, and there are now sufficient hotel accommodations, in addition to private rooms, to handle the 5,000 or more people who will attend.

Several interesting talks were made last evening on the benefit, not only to the local lodge of Odd Fellows, but to Klamath Falls, that could be accomplished by sending a booster delegation to Medford next year.

ENGLISH AS SHE IS BUTCHERED

REMARKABLE REPORT OF RAILWAY ACCIDENT CAUSES GREAT AMUSEMENT IN BRITISH OFFICIALDOM IN INDIA

United Press Service CALCUTTA, Nov. 29.—British officialdom in India is pretty well used to the ludicrous misuse of the English language by native subordinates, but it is generally agreed that the official records contain nothing better than the following account of a railway accident forwarded by a Babu station master at Mitterpore.

"I have the honor to report that yesterday morning the I up ran into the V down. The two trains were intricately commingled. Carriages to the right of them, carriages to the left of them, carriages everywhere and nowhere. Thank God, no lives were lost except the guard of I up's left eye."

RUSSIANS USE OLD METHODS

TORTURE IS STILL RESORTED TO BY OFFICIALS IN ORDER TO SECURE CONFESSIONS FROM SUSPECTED PEOPLE

United Press Service ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 30.—That the torturing of prisoners in Russia is not as uncommon as the government would like to have it appear, was again made apparent by the sentencing of Inspector of Police Glinzki of the District Gori, to two years. Glinzki was convicted of having attempted to induce a proper confessional mood in two students suspected of stealing by holding hot irons against the soles of their feet. The students were terribly burned.

AN IMPORTANT POINT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 30.—Secretary of Interior Fisher dashed the hopes of San Francisco in the hearing on the Hotch Hotchy proposition today when he indicated in a lengthy statement that any permit granted for the use of the valley for a supply of water for the city would necessarily stipulate the previous acquisition of the city of properties of the Spring Valley Water company.

This proposition was advanced by Attorney McCutcheon for the water company. City Attorney Long and Mayor Rolfe vigorously protested. The hearing will close tonight, and a decision will be given some time before January 1st.

INDIAN NOT TO ESCAPE

TRIAL ON MURDER CHARGE

No indictment was returned by the grand jury just discharged against Chenoweth Umpqua, the Indian who is charged with the murder of Frank Jack, another Indian, in Fort Klamath a few weeks ago. This fact was reported to indicate that the Indian might not have to face a trial, but this was denied this afternoon by District Attorney Kaykendall.

"The murder charge against the Indian will be taken up at the session of the next grand jury, which meets next week," said Mr. Kaykendall.

THE CAMERON GIRL MAKES HER ESCAPE

United Press Service CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Luella Cameron, the girl who Jack Johnson was accused of having abducted, has disappeared. Her mother told the United States district attorney today that she did not know her daughter's whereabouts.

The girl was recently released from jail in her mother's custody on $1,000 bonds. Jack Johnson declared that he did not know where the girl is. He said he had received letters from her expressing her love for him, and accepting his proposal of marriage.

Federal officers are watching Johnson closely.

NEW REPUBLIC IN EUROPE IS BORN

POWERS WILL NOT OBJECT TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF ALBANIA AS AN INDEPENDENT REPUBLICAN NATION

United Press Service PARIS, Nov. 30.—The proclamation of Ismail Kemal Bey as provisional president of Albania is believed to mean that a new European nation is born. The powers are not protesting against the plan to establish a republic.

It is hoped that Ismail's offer to make Durazzo a free port for Serbia will check Serbian aggression. It is unofficially stated that Austria approves of the plan.

The outlook everywhere is hopeful. Russia appears to be in a more powerful mood.

GRAND JURY GETS THROUGH PROBE AND DISCHARGED

JUDGMENTS ARE RETURNED AGAINST PRISONERS

Report is returned condemning Method of Keeping Prisoners in the County Jail—Supplementary Report Concerns Conditions Attendant—One John Doe Indictment Leads to Some Speculation

After several stormy sessions in which crimes of all sorts were considered, the Klamath county grand jury was formally discharged by the court today, after serving since last June. As expected, the jury didn't consider any new business, but returned indictments only against six men who had been bound over to the jury, and against one man who is no longer in this section.

The following were the indictments:

W. Carley, charged with larceny.
F. Ferris, charged with child stealing.

James Howe and Thomas Howe, charged with larceny from a store.
L. A. Davidson, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon.
Arthur D. Wallen, charged with assault.

One John Doe indictment. In its report the grand jury said that it is a criticism of the officials in effect in the management of the county jail, and the recommendation is made that the grand jury should return an indictment against them in the event of the county court failing to act.

In a supplementary report, the grand jury members of the jury took the opportunity to furnish some their recent official experience.

The following is the report of the grand jury:

We have investigated all charges of crime committed or triable in this county, and we have taken such action on the same as seemed to us to be according to the law and the evidence, except such matters as seemed to require further attention and investigation which we have continued for the consideration of the next grand jury of the county.

We find that the system of receiving the admission and discharge of prisoners from the county jail is very lax, and is not such as is contemplated by law and we would recommend that the sheriff make and keep an accurate record of such admissions and discharges as is provided for in the book now in his office for that purpose, and that if the sheriff fails to do so, the county court should refuse him any pay for a jailer, and if the county court does not see that such records are made and kept, that then the county court should take charge of the jail and place the same in the hands of some competent person, who will keep such records.

We would recommend that the county court provide a rock pile of some similar means of employing the prisoners in the county jail, and for the punishment of such persons as are in constant idleness and idleness and proper subjects for punishment under the vagrancy statute of the state. We believe that if such preparations should be made that a large part of the floating element would disappear from the community, and thus prevent the usual occurrence of petty crimes and thefts during the winter.

The supplementary report (which is not official, of course) follows:

We further report—
That we are glad we are done;
That we will never do it again;
That we are sorry for the next grand jury;

That we have heard enough scandal and gossip to supply an old man's conversation for twenty years;
That only Divine Providence can save this county if it is not put in some people soon to think;
That except for members of the grand jury there is not a decent man

Social Events of the Week

Thomas J. Jackson and wife are down from Fort Klamath to spend a few days in the county seat on business.

Ora Engle, wife and daughter are among those who are down from the Wood River Valley. It is the intention of Mr. Engle to spend the winter in this city.

A number of social events are planned for the coming week. In addition to the usual pre-Christmas festivities, there are several weddings planned, and the consequent pre-marital functions.

Charles S. Moore left this week for Portland to join Mrs. Moore, who went to the city last week. After the first of the year Mr. and Mrs. Moore expect to visit Southern California for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Eberline, who have been in the city for a few days from Los Angeles, will leave in the morning for their home. They expect to return to Klamath Falls some time in January.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Newnam leave tomorrow morning for San Jose, where they will spend the winter. Before they return they intend to visit relatives at Twin Lakes and other California points.

As an evidence of the remarkable growth of the new order in this city, the local lodge of Moose gave a dance in Houston's opera house Thursday night that was the most largely attended of any social event of the season, and this in spite of the numerous winter attractions incidental to Thanksgiving day. The party, in addition, was a distinct social success. Excellent music was provided, and dancing was indulged in until a late hour.

The Jul Ni Vel Club was entertained on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. S. T. Henley at her home on Pine street. Bridge was played and later refreshments were served.

The most successful dance of the series was the unanimous expression relative to the Thanksgiving party given at the White Pelican hotel by the Klatawa Club. The hotel Thanksgiving decorations were superb, and the big lobby and dancing room were both well filled. Many of the guests at the hotel dinner remained to spend the evening witnessing the young people enjoy themselves, and a large number of these were unable to resist the enticement of the excellent music furnished by the White Pelican orchestra.

The Klatawa Three-step, led by Danieles, local musician, was especially entertained with several dances by Mrs. Don J. Sullivan. The interval between the dancing dinner and the beginning of the dancing party.

The socialists of Mills Addition will give a mask ball at Mills Addition hall Friday evening, December 6th. The committee in charge requests that you refrain upon that evening from sleeping or remaining idle at home or otherwise; attending any other dance or party, lecture, theater, concert, church fair, supper, social, or any other meeting, going to any other place of amusement or any other kind or sort whatsoever, reading writing, drawing or anything else to keep you at home; slaying, speaking, thinking, breathing or studying or doing any other useful or useless work of any other kind or sort whatsoever; receiving the calls of any other act or anything likely or liable to interfere with your attendance at the said ball on the said evening.

Mrs. Charles Meldrum was hostess at a large "500" party this afternoon. She was assisted in receiving by Miss Maud Baldwin, and in serving by the Misses Barbara and Hazel Goeller. The invited guests are: Mesdames R. S. Moore, Geo. T. Baldwin, Will W. Baldwin, E. R. Henry, F. H. Mills, Thos. Hampton, G. A. Glynn, E. R. Reames, Thos. Connor, O. W. Robertson, I. S. Voorhees, Slim Baldwin, H. F. Murdoch, Henry Newnam, F. Melhase, R. E. Smith, C. C. Cofer, Leslie Rogers, Fred Schallock, Claude Daggett, W. W. Patch, J. Fred Goeller, I. J. Knapp, Schurz, A. E. Whitman, E. B. Hall, Frank Ward, T. McClure, K. J. Cummings, Roy Hamaker, A. B. Campbell, Geo. Walton, John Moore, H. L. Benson, Fred Henley, R. E. Waltenburg, C. C. Hamaker, H. Ramsey, J. S. Elliott, Geo. Hamaker, the Misses Maud Baldwin and McCurdy.

One of the grandest gatherings of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs ever held in Klamath Falls occurred last evening at the annual reunion of members
