LID OFF FOR A SHORT TIME

IN ORDER TO ENTERTAIN VISITING MINERS, GAMBLERS ARE ALLOWED TO SHOW HOW SPOKANE WAS IN THE OLD DAYS

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 3.—A storm of criticism and condemnation is being directed against the city commissioners and police and sheriff for allowing wide open days of old to be played over again at the finale of the American Mining Congress.
Western mining camps in the palest days of their free and easy existence are declared by many pioneers to have been outdone at the "Spokane Diggings," staged in a huge ice rink. Gambling games ran full blast undisturbed. "Women of the scarlet" cavorted in dance hall and barroom, giving exhibitions long since banished ever from the resorts of the Barbary coast. Ministers will take the matter up in the churches.

RAILROAD HELPS OUT THE FARMERS

NARROW GAUGE LINE RUNNING INTO LAKEVIEW PLANS THE ESTABLISHMENT OF AN EXPERIMENTAL FARM

In order to encourage farming in the country through which the road passes, the N.-C.-O. Railroad company is planning to establish an experimental farm in Goose Lake Valley, near Lakeview.

In conjunction with the growing of seed grains, the company will establish a hog farm, and supply the ranchers with thoroughbred stock at a nominal cost, in such a manner that the increase will pay for the starting.
When they extended their road into Goose Lake Valley they realized that they were entering an unproductive territory, and that if these vast acres were to be made productive any way soon, it was up to them to aid and encourage agriculture and stock raising, thereby increase the freight tonnage for the road.
The establishment of an experimental farm in the valley is but the beginning of what the N.-C.-O. intends doing. They are negotiating for the purchase of the Hunter-Hewitt property on the west side. This piece of property comprises in the neighborhood of 3,000 acres of some of the best land on the west side, and carries with it water rights from the O. V. L. irrigation system. As soon as the deal is consummated the management of the N.-C.-O. will have it surveyed and platted into 80 and 160 acre farms.
Land seekers will be given all the inducements possible in order to promote the early settlement of the land. The company will exact no rental whatever for the first year's use of the land. While their plans have not been completed, arrangements are to be made with the purchaser so that he will be able to pay for the home within a period of five or six years. They will be furnished seed wheat grown on the company's experimental farm. A start in hogs will also be allowed those wishing to engage in this side branch of farm life.

MRS. WAGNER TO PLAY "YUM YUM"

WELL KNOWN SINGER WILL BE HEARD IN THE LEADING SOPRANO ROLE IN OPERA TO BE GIVEN BY ELKS

The part of Yum-Yum, the prettiest little maid in all Japan, is to be taken by Mrs. Wm. Wagner at the Elks production of the Mikado. The picture shows Yum-Yum preparing her toilet for her wedding. There is an old adage that true love never runs smooth. This is most surely the case with Yum-Yum, the leading soprano part in the comic opera, "The Mikado."

The play opens on the day that she is to be married to her guardian, KoKo, the Lord High Executioner, but the man who has really won her heart is Nanki-Poo, a wandering minstrel, who is singing ballads in the tea gardens of the town of Titipu.
Nanki-Poo, in a moment of confidence, tells his rival, KoKo, that he, too, is in love with Yum-Yum, and admits that he deserves punishment at the hand of his rival.
KoKo tells the wandering minstrel that he also loves Yum-Yum, and is glad to have his opinion backed up by such competent authority, but informs him that he has shown up too late.
After this event takes a turn that is exasperatingly funny, and wind up by Nanki-Poo winning Yum-Yum and KoKo being given the choice of winning the heart of Katisha (a strong-minded old maid of the Mikado's court) in ten minutes, or in the event of his failure, being boiled in oil. KoKo's hurry-up love scene, where he wins Katisha is one of the funniest bits of comedy that has ever been seen in light opera.
The characters of KoKo and Katisha are in the hands of Ed Andrews and Mrs. Sunwalt, and, by the way, Mrs. Sunwalt is showing a most remarkable ability in comedy. She has heretofore been known to Klamath Falls only as a singer, but her friends who have seen her rehearsal insist that her ability as an actress is fully equal to her talent as a musician.

GOLD STRIKE IS MADE NEAR VALE

MINING MEN ARE BECOMING EXCITED OVER THE REPORTS RECEIVED FROM EASTERN OREGON MINING COUNTRY

VALE, Ore., Dec. 3.—Mining men are becoming greatly interested in a new strike made about ten days ago by F. L. Johnson on the property of the Drazel Mining company, one-fourth mile from Malheur City, in the extreme northern end of Malheur county, fifty miles north of Vale. A dozen credible witnesses attest to the fact that apparently almost free milling gold ore, found in an andesite formation at a depth of thirty feet, will run from $300 to $400 on the ton. The vein in which it lies is said to be twenty feet wide, though its extent is at present unknown. Malheur City, as a result, is fast becoming a tent city, and every day sees a few more mining men and prospectors going in and staking out claims.
F. E. Johnson, mining engineer of Boise, Idaho, formerly for three years milling engineer for the department of the interior, returned to Boise after an extensive survey of the district, during which he made a personal inspection of the Johnson prospect and other adjacent properties, besides obtaining ore samples from the famous Rainbow mine, six miles away in the Mormon Basin, for which the United States Smelting company of Salt Lake City paid $750,000 two years ago.
"It is an exceedingly good prospect," Johnson said. "Johnson is down thirty feet, and hasn't done any cross-cutting to speak of, but is already in an andesite formation which yields apparently mostly free milling ore worth between $200 and $400 per ton. I judge this high grade vein is twenty feet wide, but can't say how far it extends. The balance of the ore is low grade, from $2 to $15 per ton, but all fairly good."

PLANS MADE FOR GAMES NEXT YEAR

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS GET BUSY EARLY SO AS TO BE READY WHEN THE FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS IN FALL OF 1914

At a football meeting at the high school Monday several important matters came up for consideration.
Louis McClure was chosen captain of the Varsity team next year, and Mr. McCall was selected as coach. Mr. McCall was chosen on account of his popularity with the boys. He has made several inquiries among the boys, and finds that a large number want to take up work in football.
The question of match games also came up for discussion, and it was decided to secure games with teams in the valley, if possible. Games with the town team are secured, and they will take the form of a series.
As to finance, the team found they had a considerable sum in the treasury, and they decided to keep it intact for next year's football.
Mr. Peterson gave football a boost Monday in his talk before the assembly. He said he was glad that football had been revived in high school, and that he hoped that there would be a good team next year.

CHARGED HE USED HIS OFFICE FOR PERSONAL PROFIT

SWEEPING DENIAL OF WRONG-DOING MADE BY JUDGE

From Two to Four Hours Will be Occupied Daily in Hearing the Serious Case Against Justice Archibald Campbell a Seat in Private Gallery—Washington Act for the Accused

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 3.—For the ninth time in the history of the United States, the first primary impeachment proceedings were carried today by the senate.
Robert W. Archibald, associate justice of the new supreme court, was the defendant. His impeachment trial began, with a recitation of charges against him, at 10 o'clock.
Archibald and his associates in office were the accused. The charges against Judge Archibald, the indictment, presented by the senate, consists of thirteen articles, a bill of particulars and bills of impeachment of the federal judge.
Use of his office for personal profit is the substance of all of the charges against the defendant. He is charged with attempting to fast-track in return coal deposits in Pennsylvania, through railroad officials, and also improper receipt of favors from attorneys before his court.
Sweeping denial of wrong-doing was made by Judge Archibald to every one of the thirteen charges against him. He contends that no improper motive can be predicated from any of his acts, private or official, and that he never intended or sought to profit by improper use of his office.
When the senate met today it was planned to devote from two to four hours daily to taking testimony of the 100 witnesses who will be called for both the government and the defendant. About seventy witnesses were before the house judiciary committee when the impeachment charge was under investigation. At these hearings Judge Archibald by force of precedents, could not and did not submit any evidence or offer any testimony of witnesses. He did not take the stand himself. Whether he will testify before the senate has not been disclosed.
The impeachment trial today was the first held in the senate since Judge Swayne, federal district judge in Florida, was tried and acquitted in 1908.

Indians Come Here Appear Before Jury

Murder of Frank Jack to be Investigated. Rumor That Others Besides Umpqua are Involved

A number of Indians from the Klamath reservation are in the city today to appear before the grand jury. Up to a late hour this afternoon none of them had been called before the jury, however.
It is probable that the Indians will be questioned concerning the recent killing of Frank Jack, an Indian, near West Klamath several weeks ago. Chenoweth Umpqua, an Indian, is in the county jail charged with the crime, but it has been reported that there are other Indians who were involved in the actual killing.
Frank Jack was well known in the city. A few days before he had a man arrested on a charge of stealing $140 from a store. It was developed that he had intended to turn a friend, and it was turned to him the next morning.
