RAT KILLER IS AFTER A JOB

OFFERS TO RID THE PORTLAND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OF RATS FOR THE SMALL SUM OF $25 PER YEAR

PORTLAND, Dec. 13.—A professional rat catcher will probably be employed by the Portland Chamber of Commerce. The matter will come before the next meeting of the trustees in the shape of an application from a man who says he will keep the exhibit rooms free from rats for the sum of $25 per year, to be paid when the rodents have disappeared.

This proposition Secretary E. C. Giltner thinks fair enough, and he believes it will be accepted.

Rats or mice have caused more or less trouble by gnawing at and devouring some of the grain exhibits. However, so far, very little damage has been done, but it is feared if left unmolested the pests may increase to such a number as to prove annoying.

The processed fruit is in no danger of attack from the rats or mice, since it is in hermetically sealed glass containers.

The expert has not divulged the method he proposes to employ, but says it will do the work.

JURY FAILS TO RETURN VERDICT

THE TRIAL OF JAMES McFERRIN, CHARGED WITH TRAPPING A BEAVER, RESULTS IN DISAGREEMENT IN JUSTICE COURT

No verdict was returned in the case against James McFerrin, charged with killing a beaver, as the jury in the justice court failed to agree last night. They were discharged after a long deliberation.

McFerrin was arrested several days ago by Deputy District Game Warden Furber, and brought to this city. Furber charges that McFerrin set traps for beaver on a tributary to Sprague River, and that he watched him for several days. McFerrin denies this, and states that he was trying to trap muskrat.

The state's case was conducted by Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Horace M. Manning. C. M. Oneill was McFerrin's counsel.

Don't Blame Your Over Worked Stomach

When your stomach will not digest food, the worst thing you can do is to take a lot of digestive medicines. True, they give temporary relief, but your stomach is the sufferer. Loss of appetite, indigestion, dyspepsia and headaches can only be permanently relieved by removing the cause. In many cases, various remedies taken to relieve these conditions result in ruining the stomach and preventing it from digesting food in a natural way.

If you want your stomach to do its own work properly, without resorting to artificial digestives or predigested foods, use Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge. Take small doses regularly, preferably before meals. In a little time your stomach will again do its own work and you will eat heartily, keep well and enjoy living. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge is not a digester in itself, but it tones up the stomach and intestines, giving you all the nutriment and strength from the food you eat.

Many forms of supposed indigestion are the result of intestinal parasites, for which Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge is unsurpassed. Insist on Jayne's; accept no other. Millions have praised it for more than eighty years. Sold by druggists everywhere. Dr. D. Jayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa.

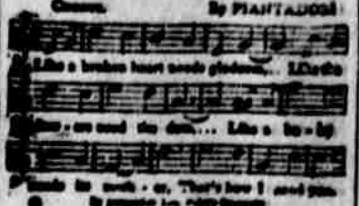
HUGHIE JENNINGS PUTS ONE OVER.

Like a real old-fashioned three-bagger, Hughie Jennings, the Detroit "Tiger" manager, put the ball out into the infield last evening with a new song that caused the management of Hammerstein's to put up a screen to avoid a riot. The fair sex in the audience started the racket of applause, for the men folks were too astonished for the nonce to get their breath. When the tumult had subsided it was discovered that the name of the song was this: "That's How I Need You." And here are a few lines of the thing that started the Babel:



Just why the ball magnate chose this song is not known. True, it is one of the new "hits" now current in New York, but Hughie must have had a "reason." Maybe he had in mind the coming season, when he will truly "need" the mob, for there seemed quite some significance to the lines:

Like a baby needs its mother—
That's how I need you.

The most astonishing thing about the affair is that it let out the secret that, after all, Hughie has some voice, for so pathetically did he render the ballad with Ben Smith at the close of his sketch that some of the girls in the audience really used their handkerchiefs. The song looks like a score of 10 to 0 in favor of Jennings.

CAPITOL DOME SPOONING PLACE

MANY ROMANCES HAVE INCEPTION WHILE CLIMBING TO THE TOP OF THE STATE BUILDING IN SACRAMENTO

United Press Service

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 13.—That many romances gain impetus from a visit to the tall dome of the State Capitol building here is the belief of "Pat" Kerrigan, veteran watchman at the State Capitol, who, for fourteen years has watched a steady stream of young lovers going up and down those winding stairs.

"Going round and round in the upward spiral makes the girls dizzy," explained Kerrigan. "Then, you see, when they reach the top they lean back against the young fellows to steady 'em, and—well, even the most bashful of boys just can't resist giving that first delicate squeeze. I tell you, it's the greatest place for spooning in Sacramento."

Spies Arrested

United Press Service

BUDAPEST, Dec. 13.—The government has discovered systematic and organized agitations directed from Servia among the Servians and other Slav population in Hungary. Numerous arrests have been made of spies. The Servians in Hungary are urged to flee across the frontier and join their brothers in event of war, and not obey the mobilization orders.

VAUDEVILLE STARS TO BE SEEN HERE

RHODES AND McFARLAND WILL PRESENT UNIQUE BILL AT THE STAR THEATER TONIGHT AND TOMORROW

What is declared to be one of the greatest vaudeville acts ever seen in this city is scheduled for the Star theater tonight and tomorrow night. The musical aviators, Rhodes and McFarland, will present their spectacular musical comedy success, "The Galland Ship of Dreams."

These clever performers carry 1100 pounds of baggage, which consists solely of electrical effects, special scenery and an airship, which makes a scenic flight at every performance.

The electrical effects are by no means the entire act. Comedy of the scream variety is introduced, and their songs are all new and catchy.

SHERMAN'S ROOM STILL UNOCCUPIED

UNTIL NEW VICE PRESIDENT TAKES OFFICE COLLECTION OF PHOTOGRAPHS WILL REMAIN UNDISTURBED

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 13.—Not until a new vice president of the United States comes into office or the Sherman family takes some action will the photographic collection in which the late vice president took such a pride, be removed from the vice president's room which he occupied on the senate side of the Capitol. On account of the inability of the senate to elect a president, neither Senator Bacon nor Senator Gallinger, who have been alternating as presidents pro tem, will occupy the office.

No one has shown a disposition to remove the vice president's effects from his office, and the little collection of photographs will remain undisturbed for some time to come.

The principal photograph in the collection is an autographed one of Uncle Joe Cannon, who was one of the vice president's closest friends. The vice president took great pride in his collection.

HOODOO NUMBER AT WHITE HOUSE

IF ONE OF WILSON GIRLS MARRIES SHE WILL BE THE THIRTEENTH BRIDE FROM THE NATION'S CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 13.—Female statisticians pointed out today that another precedent will be shattered when President-elect Wilson comes to the White House after March 4th, with three pretty, accomplished and marriageable daughters, but a certain sign of ill-omen was also cited when it was said that the first to marry will be the thirteenth White House bride. Alice Roosevelt was the twelfth. The very first White House bride was Lucy Payne Washington, widow of a nephew of George Washington. She was Mrs. Madison's sister, and was married in 1811.
