WEATHER REPORTS TO BE FEATURE

RECLAMATION SERVICE WILL GIVE DAILY READINGS TO THE PUBLIC THROUGH COLUMNS OF THE HERALD

Through the courtesy of the Reclamation service, The Herald is again able to give a daily record of weather conditions here, and hereafter this will be a regular feature of the paper. The self recording thermometer which was put in use for this work has been discontinued, and readings may now be made daily.

Readings of temperature are made by means of two thermometers. One of these registers the maximum, the other the minimum temperature. A small bead in each of these thermometers is carried forward when the temperature rises on one and falls on the other, and these, staying at the highest or lowest point reached by the mercury, tell the extremes in temperature for the day. Yesterday the maximum temperature was 35, the minimum 15, and the weather was clear.

"We've taken in all kind of packages today," said J. B. McAllister. "Even a package containing a number of phonograph records. There is one thing that all the people do not realize, and this is the necessity of purchasing parcels post stamps to cover the postage on these packages. The postage stamps used for letter postage cannot be used for this purpose."

MOUNTAIN RANGES OF THE PACIFIC COAST IDEAL HOME FOR POPULAR GAME—MT. SHASTA TO BE RESERVE

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 2.—Roosevelt elk, the official designation of native elk of the mountain ranges of the Pacific coast, are not so migratory in their habits, according to federal official decision as to know of the existence of Wyoming elk, a different species, 200 miles away.

That is the point established by Congressman Parker of the Sierra mountain district of California, before he was able to plant 50 Wyoming elk from the Yellowstone National Park in the national forest at the foot of Mt. Shasta. The Oregon state game warden held up the shipment on the ground that the two species must not be allowed to associate. The federal biological service acted as referee. Elk may soon become as common in the Shasta forest as in the western section of Wyoming.

QUARANTINE WILL BE RAISED. BEDDING IS NOW NEEDED BECAUSE PRESENT SUPPLY MUST BE BURNED

The Barfoot family is to be relieved from quarantine tomorrow, and arrangements have been made to move their effects to a cottage at the corner of Klamath avenue and Second street. City Health Officer Trux and Dr. E. V. Morrow have already commenced the work of fumigating the present home of the Barfoots, where for several weeks past they have been quarantined on account of scarlet fever, the father being unable to support his family on account of this enforced idleness.

"There is only one thing that has been overlooked by the people of Klamath Falls in their work of helping this family," said Chief of Police Smith today, "and that is bedding. The bedding the family has been using during their illness will have to be burned, and this means that enough bedding for three complete beds will be needed by tomorrow night, when the family is moved into its new home.

Feese is the Marrying Parson of Last Year

Methodist Minister Pronounced Fateful Words on 34 Occasions. Justice Graves is Second With 17

"What's the sense of Leap Year?" This is a question that is bothering a number of eligible bachelors in this city who are still in a state of single blessedness, but each consoles himself with the thought that he is not the only one slighted during 1912.

Despite the fact that 1912 was leap year, and that during the 366 days composing it maidens could woo and propose without seeming forward, there was no increase in the number of marriage licenses issued. This, too, in spite of the advent of woman's suffrage, which with the leap year privilege, gave the fairer sex the much talked of "equal rights."

That none of the new electors even "stood for their rights" on this point is attested by "Cupid" De Lap, the county clerk. He is positive that during 1912 no stammering bride took out a license, all the stammering and swearing (legal, of course) being done by prospective benedicts, while their brides-to-be stood blushing by.

During 1912 there were 108 marriage licenses issued. Exactly the same number were issued in 1911, which year, by the way, contained only 365 days.

June, which is by tradition held to be the month of brides, was hopelessly outdistanced last year. September, October and December all ranking ahead of it in the number of wedding ceremonies.

The number of licenses issued each month follow: January 7, February 7, March 8, April 8, May 2, June 12, July 5, August 1, September 13, October 17, November 10, December 13.

A perusal of the marriage record at the clerk's office shows that Rev. George H. Feese, pastor of Grace M. S. church of this city, still holds the record as "The Marrying Parson." During 1912 he pronounced the marriage ceremony thirty-four times.

Second only to the record of Rev. Feese comes the list of ceremonies performed by Charles Graves, justice of the peace for Linkville district. He acted the role of Hymen on seventeen different occasions.

All of the papers in cases pending in the circuit court journal and register of actions, and all other papers and volumes pertaining to the circuit court are being removed from the office of the county clerk and placed in a safe in the circuit court chambers.
