STUDENTS WIN FROM ALUMNI

LACK OF PRACTICE LOSERS BASKETBALL GAME FOR GRADUATES—CAPTAIN CARTER WAS A SHINING STAR

By a score of 23 to 15, the high school basketball squad won its initial game last night, defeating a team composed of alumni in a fast game at the Pavilion. In the first half the high school quintet's team work stood them in good stead, and they played their opponents off their feet, piling up a score of 14 to 5. This was largely due to the work of Captain Carter, who made six of the eight baskets. Hamner and McClure each scored a field goal.

New men were substituted in some places by the Alumni when the second half started, and in this half the graduates had the better of the contest. They were, however, unable to overcome the lead made by the students in the first period.

In the first half of the game Dorothy Shive scored four points for the high school. The alumni girls were saved from a whitewashing by a foul tossed by Sybil Elliott in the second half. Like the alumni boys the girl graduates were handicapped by lack of practice and team work, but they put up a plucky fight throughout.

The girls played in this manner: High school—Dorothy Shive and Ines Elliott, forwards; Beryl Hardenbrook, center; Margaret Nitschelm and Lottie Ely, Guards.

Alumni—Marjorie McClure and Bertha Koehler, forwards; Edna Elliott, center; Sybil Elliott and Martha Taber, guards.

E. V. Morrison, coach of the high school team, refereed the game, and Max A. McCall acted as umpire.

"Boss" Skelton presided as scorekeeper.

Social Events of the Week

With the close of the Christmas festivities, the ushering in of the New Year occupied the attention of local people, and it is doubtful if any other year was received with as much festivity by the residents of Klamath Falls as was little 1913. A few hours before the youngster arrived, the revelers began the work of ushering out 1912, and at the midnight hour pandemonium broke loose in cafes, hotels, the opera house and in other places where people had gathered for "watch parties." The tooting of whistles, the screaming of sirens and the peals of bells added their share to the din, which did not fail to awaken the few who had retired early.

Although it was not attended by any demonstrative welcome of the new year, one of the most enjoyable of the year-end parties was the annual banquet given by the members of the Art Needlework Club, in honor of their husbands. This is an annual event that is long looked forward to by the men of the city whose wives are members of the well known organization. Every affair of this kind has been attended with great success, but this year's effort surpassed all previous gatherings of the kind, say those who attended. The banquet was held in the Hall grill, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion, and a menu appealing to the epicurean taste of man was provided. The gathering was the occasion for a splendid social evening, and splendid talks were made by the speakers called upon by Rev. J. S. Stubbinsfield. The club members and their guests present were: Professor and Mrs. G. A. Wirtz, Principal and Mrs. W. E. Faught, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hogue, Councilman and Mrs. J. F. Goeller, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wattenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Stubbinsfield, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Dunbar, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. George Chastain, Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Cummings, Madam George Hurn and Sawyer, Miss Vera Faught and Mr. Wilbur Wattenburg.

A brilliant reception was given the incoming New Year by over two hundred masked revellers, who welcomed 1913 to the clink of glasses as they sat around the festive board at the White Pelican hotel. This was the first annual New Year's eve masquerade given at the hotel, but the success attending it makes it certain that it will be held every year hereafter. The lobby and dining room were prettily decorated for the occasion in a manner appropriate to the holiday season, evergreens and mistletoe being used in profusion, and a big Christmas tree, brilliantly illuminated, added to the beauty of the scene. Dancing was enjoyed until just before twelve, when the maskers gathered around the tables for supper and to welcome in the New Year, and from that time till early in the morning the spirit of fun reigned supreme. Among the maskers were the following, together with the characters they sustained: Misses Margaret and Catherine Williams, Japanese maids; Dr. E. V. Morrow, Beanie Busybody; Miss Frances Ziegelman, nurse; Mrs. Jas. Cunningham and Mrs. O. D. Matthews, Indians; Mrs. H. R. Elliott, "White Pelican Hotel"; Miss Winnie Wampler, Dutch girl; Perry O. De Lap, sailor; Mrs. L. O. Arens, Dutch girl; Joe McAllister, clown; Miss Cora Carter, grand dame; Mrs. L. W. Reutt, an Irish lassie; Sperry Brothers, clowns; Yamma Yamma girls, Miss L. E. Sargent, Miss Hazel Seeley, Mrs. E. V. Morrow, Mrs. C. M. George, Mrs. Mahlon T. Dolman, C. M. George and Fred Ruehl; Miss Mamie Ziegelman, "Topsy"; Robert A. Johnson, "Max Kolb"; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Peyton, school children; Claude E. Maxwell, domino; Mrs. Robert A. Johnson, "flower girl"; Louis O. Arens, "White Pelican."

Miss Elizabeth Houston returned Friday from San Francisco, where she spent the holidays with her sister, Miss Edna Houston. Her sister is taking a course at a nurses' training school connected with one of the leading hospitals of the Bay City.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. W. Masten on Tenth street, and in attendance were Mrs. H. E. Momyer, Mrs. George H. Fess, Mrs. Charles Lewis, Mrs. Glenn Lewis, Mrs. R. R. Hamilton, Mrs. Clarence H. Underwood, M. S. C. V. Fisher, Mrs. J. S. Elliott, Mrs. Skillington and Mrs. Hall. After the business affairs of the meeting were attended to, refreshments were served, and a social hour enjoyed by the ladies.

An event that promises to be of more than usual interest is the entertainment to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ward at their splendid Pine street home Tuesday. Invitations are now being sent out for this affair. Five hundred will be the principal diversion, according to the invitations.

"Will the Kistawa Club give another series of dances this winter?" is a question that has been asked in the younger set since the final dance of the Kistawa series Thanksgiving. During the two seasons this organization of young men has given dances, and its parties have always been looked forward to, and have always proved highly enjoyable. Several members of the Kistawa Club, including A. Gehler, the Wahoo of the tribe, have been away from the city, and the question of further activities could not be taken up. Now that they have returned it is possible that arrangements for a few more hops may be made.

Mrs. H. N. Woods, who has been visiting friends in California for the past two weeks, returned to Klamath Falls Friday.

Mrs. Thomas Hampton was hostess to a few friends Saturday afternoon, when she entertained three tables of bridge. An enjoyable afternoon was spent by the guests, during the course of which a dainty luncheon was served.

Complimenting Mrs. C. E. Piel of Ashland, who is visiting here, Mrs. Rufus S. Moore is entertaining a number of friends at her home on the West Side this afternoon, "500" being the principal diversion. The guests invited were Mrs. C. E. Piel, Mrs. Ivan D. Applegate, Mrs. G. W. White, Mrs. J. D. McCall, Mrs. Wesley O. Smith, Mrs. Charles I. Roberts, Mrs. Oscar Shive, Mrs. George Wright, Mrs. J. D. Church, Mrs. Burge Mason, Mrs. Charles E. Worden, Mrs. Henry L. Benson, Mrs. C. P. Mason, Mrs. L. F. Willets, Mrs. R. E. Smith, Mrs. C. C. Cofer, Mrs. Leslie Rogers, Mrs. Carey Hamaby, Mrs. George Hurn, Mrs. Hiram F. Murdoch, Mrs. Charles F. Stone, Mrs. I. Jay Knapp, Mrs. Charles Martin, Mrs. Robert E. Wattenburg, Mrs. William Wagner, Mrs. James T. Henley, Mrs. Frank E. Aakeny, Mrs. R. E. Cantrall, Mrs. E. R. Reames, Mrs. George T. Baldwin, Mrs. Charles E. Meldrum and Miss Maud Baldwin.

A splendid Christmas program was given by the children of Sacred Heart Sunday school Monday night at the assembly room of Sacred Heart church, which was greatly enjoyed by the parents and friends of the youngsters. The Sunday school children were happily surprised by a distribution of gifts arranged for by the pastor, Rev. William McMillan.

In recognition of the work that has been done by him since the local commandry was instituted last spring, members of Cavalry Commandry on Wednesday evening entertained in honor of George C. Walton, first eminent commander, and present past commander of the local branch of the order. Forty Sir Knights and their ladies were in attendance at the banquet, which was given in Masonic hall. With I. Jay Knapp acting as toastmaster, speeches were made by several members of the order, and the program also included vocal numbers by Mrs. Don J. Zornwalt and I. Jay Knapp. As a token of esteem, the commandry presented Mr. Walton with a beautiful gold medal, indicative of his rank in the local order. Mr. Walton was much affected by the gift, as was indicated by his speech in which he thanked the commandry.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Richardson and son Harry returned Friday night from San Francisco, where they spent several days.

A delightful house party was given at Christmas time by Miss Evelyn Applegate, at Brookside ranch, on Swan Lake, when she had as her guests Mr. and Mrs. Jackson F. Kimball, Miss Alice Poole, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Applegate, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Chitwood and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Applegate.

Mrs. A. D. Harpell is in the city, arriving from her Bonanza home on Friday evening.

Ernest M. Bubb, a popular young society man, has returned from San Francisco and Palo Alto, where he spent the holidays.

At last night's meeting of Klamath Lodge No. 127, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, officers elected for the ensuing year were installed. The ceremonies of installation were conducted by Percival Sholl as District Deputy Grand Master, and Wesley O. Smith as District Deputy Grand Marshal, and the following new officers took up the reins of authority: Noble Grand, Fred R. Bremer; Vice Grand, Nate Otterbein; Secretary, George Humphrey; Treasurer, P. L. Fountain; Warden, Oscar H. Breneman; Conductor, C. E. Garcelon; R. S. N. G., Arlie Worrell; L. S. N. G., Robert A.
