It appears that it was shown that there was some trouble in Fort Klamath, which was believed to be a neighborhood row, and that "Slim" was made the "goat."

Scientist Claims "Nod" Theory is Correct One

Important Discoveries Made in Research Work by University Prove Cain Was Here

Special to The Herald by Least Wire.

UNIVERSITY OF LORELLA, Archaeological Department, February 12.—Editor Herald: Your article relative to Professor Hallock's theory of Cain's location near Klamath Falls was received here with great interest, and we are glad to inform the public that the professor's report is corroborative with extended research work we have been pursuing along this line.

A place has recently been discovered near the University which gives every indication of having been occupied by Cain. Even the chairs at this place have been found to be Cain-seated, and the occupants, on being questioned closely, admitted that they had formerly raised Cain.

Further than this, some copies of the "Daily Stone Tablet," an issue of that period have been unearthed with articles bearing on this subject, one of which we quote herewith:

"One of the most recent arrivals to our community is Mr. Cain, who arrived Wednesday over the Nuphrates & Oregon Southern, having had a private compartment on one of the company's palace mules. As Mr. Cain claims to be a member of one of the first families of the East, he was at once interviewed by a representative of this publication.

"He said: 'While the climate of my former location is all that could be desired there are, of course, drawbacks. (Continued on Page 4)

Intervention Seems to be the Only Plan Now Considered

While One Army Attacks From the North, Another is Expected to Start From the East and Prevent Filibustering Expeditions. Short Term Possession

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 12.—The intervention plans contemplate an army from the north entering Mexico City, while an army from the east prevents filibustering expeditions.

It is expected that intervention will mean that the Mexicans will forget their own differences and unitedly oppose the Americans.

From one to four years occupation is predicted.

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 12.—Everything is in readiness for the United States intervention in Mexico whenever President Taft feels that such a step is necessary.

Transport in Galveston harbor are prepared to take 6,000 troops to Vera Cruz and other points on the West Mexican coast in case of intervention.

This force could go to strategic points ready to seize the railroads and supplies.

In the meantime, troops from the Texas border would march south to Mexico City. In this manner, it is estimated that it would take about two months to reach the capital.

Infantry Company Can be Quickly Formed Here

By Using the Squad Unit, Officers Believes Highly Proficient Company Could be Mustered In

"In the event that there should be a call for militia, I believe a creditable military company could be organized in Klamath Falls in a very short time," said Captain Charles J. Ferguson, of the Third Infantry, in response to a query this afternoon.

"The majority of the men here are well acquainted with the use of a rifle, and there are quite a number of Spanish-American war veterans, in addition to men who have served in the regular army and the National Guard. With these men as non-commissioned officers, and using the squad unit, the raw material could be transformed into a highly efficient fighting machine in a remarkably short space of time."

Ferguson has been ordered to carry out his duties in the city for the past year. Previous to that time he was in charge of the 1st Squadron of the 3rd Infantry, and he has been in the front with that unit in the Philippines. Afterwards he was in the 1st Squadron of the 3rd Infantry, and he was in the front with that unit in the Philippines.

Since returning Ferguson has been connected with the National Guard of Oregon, and he has been in the front with that unit in the Philippines. A short time ago he was in the front with that unit in the Philippines, and he has been in the front with that unit in the Philippines.

As a Result of the Selection, Rioting Has Been Stopped, But Authorities are Still on the Alert

United Press Service TOKIO, Feb. 12.—Yamamoto was today installed premier of Japan.

This had a tendency to put a stop to the rioting which has been in progress here for three days. The authorities, however, are inclined to view the general situation with alarm, and a careful watch is being maintained over the different gatherings.

Never before in the history of the empire has the situation been so acute.
