Outlook Here is Good, According to R. G. Dun

Famous Commercial Agency Gives Klamath County a Good Boost in Review of the Conditions

According to the trade review of R. G. Dun & Co., the outlook for Klamath county is good. The report follows:

"Dairying, farming, stock-raising and wool are chief resources. The total population of the county is about 2,990, and development is only beginning. Crops in all lines are good. The farmers in this part of the state are not realizing on their crops, but as soon as the grain and potatoes begin to move the various bills dependent on the farmers' prosperity will be settled.

The outlook for this county is very good."

Rev. J. S. Stubblebine Urges

Acts of Abraham

"And Abram said unto Lot, let there be no strife, I pray thee, between me and thee, and between my brethren and thy herdsmen, for we are brethren."—Genesis 13:8.

The word strife as here used carries with it the idea of quarreling and fighting. Abraham advised very strongly against strife. Some may say that this is good religious advice, but not good business advice, but Abraham was a success in the business sphere of life the same as in the religious sphere. He was one of the greatest money-getters of his age. His business principles were just as sound as his religious principles and his principles are eternal. Abraham was very practical and the practical man of today could do no better than get his life on his life.

Strife is not good business, in any sense about its religious significance. It has destroyed some nations and all of the other things which are going on in this world has ever known. It

Man Wanted in Eugene is Arrested by Smith Today

Acting Upon Telegraphic Advices From Lane County, Officer Apprehends Frank Moore, Wanted on Statutory Charge. Prisoner Admits His Identity

Frank Moore, wanted by the authorities of Lane county for a statutory crime committed at Eugene, was placed under arrest today by Chief of Police Smith, shortly after receiving a telegraphic description from Sheriff J. C. Parker of Lane county.

The Eugene officers ascertained that Moore had written to Eugene for money, and they had reason to believe that he might call for mail here under the assumed name of Baker. Acting upon this, they telegraphed the sheriff's office and the police to be on the lookout for the man.

Smith this afternoon found a man answering the general description, even to a scar on his face, and when he questioned him, he learned that he was the man sought by the Lane county authorities. He was placed in jail, and news of his arrest has been telegraphed to Eugene.

The sheriff's office was also busy in connection with the affair, and Deputy Sheriff Brewster was making inquiries about a certain party at the time he heard of the arrest by Smith.
