Big Rush of Women to Sign City Registration Volumes

Mrs. Bogardus is First Woman to Register, and Miss Carleton is Second. Every Ward Well Represented in Crowds Visiting Office Today

If the rush to the city hall today can be taken as a criterion, there will be no need of "Don't Forget to Register" cards for the recently enfranchised women of the state. Ever since Mrs. Cecelia Bogardus and Deputy County School Superintendent Carleton appeared at the office of Police Judge Leavitt this morning, and were the first to register, there has been a steady stream of voters going to sign the books. There has been no hesitancy on the part of any of the women toward answering questions as to age and nativity, according to Judge Leavitt and his assistant, Miss Rose Reed. All of the women appear to realize the necessity of the questions, and do not attempt to evade them.

The registration books will be open at the city hall every day next week, closing Saturday at 6 o'clock. All who are not registered at that time will not be entitled to vote at the special charter election on March 10th. Any male voters who did not register at the city hall last spring must register this week in order to ballot on the charter question.

INCOMING DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE WILL FIND BIG STACK OF ANTI-TRUST SUITS PENDING IN SUPREME COURT

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 1.—When the present staff of "trust busting" officials of the department of justice make way for the legal agents of the incoming democratic administration, a bulk of unfinished business will face the new comers.

There are many anti-trust suits, both civil and criminal, pending in the United States district courts for decision, besides a docket of 157 cases in the United States supreme court.

Of the eighty-odd anti-trust actions brought under the Taft administration, twenty-five civil actions are now pending for decision in the courts. Eleven criminal indictments yet are to be concluded. Of the cases closed the government had a ratio of success amounting to about four-fifths. The aggregate amount of fines imposed and collected by the department of justice amounts to almost $240,000. But two cases have resulted in jail sentences. The great aggregate of fines imposed and collected in one action was in the wire pool case, when the defendants paid in fines $128,700. Just how many new anti-trust actions contemplated by this administration and left to the new administration to carry out is, of course, secret. It is said, however, that a number of investigations are going on, both civil and criminal. Information obtained by the government's experts preparatory to the instigation of actions will be turned over to incoming officials, along with the cases pending in the courts.

The government's docket at the United States supreme court is in good shape compared to what it was at the change of other administrations. Of the 157 cases on the docket but one was originally filed in the supreme court. The remaining 156 are divided as follows: Criminal 48, injunction 1, bond 3, customs 1, land 21, tax 9, constitutional 6, court of claims 23, habeas corpus 12, trust 4, immigration 12, insular 5, miscellaneous 10.

The supreme court under the present administration has disposed of 1,411 cases.

NORTHWESTERN CONTINUES IN ANANIAS CLUB

VOTERS WILL DECIDE QUESTION FOR THEMSELVES

Immense Amount of Gray Matter Which Has Been Accumulated in Morning Newspaper Office Threatens to Turn Peaceful Klamath Upside Down—Deception is Now Inevitable

Following the tactics which he first introduced into Klamath Falls, "Dissension" Sam this morning made a futile effort to distract the public attention from the real purpose of the election to be held in this city March 10, to decide on the question of adopting a new charter. In his personal organ, the Northwestern, "Dissension" Sam declares that an error has invalidated the proposed charter.

"When the 100 subscribers of the Northwestern first read the story this morning they forgot for a time the well known reputation of that paper for unreliability, and feared that a fatal error had been made. The news was then carried to other citizens, but soon the fallacy of the story became apparent."

As a matter of fact there is an error not only in the published charter, but in the original document on file in the office of the city recorder. At
