MANY COUNTY WARRANTS ARE TO BE HELD UP

SUIT IS STARTED TODAY BY J. A. MADDOX

Success of the Allison Suit in the Circuit Court Brings Question of the Validity of Many General Fund Warrants Before the Court—Individual Warrants for Road Work Are Involved.

Encouraged by the success of the case in which J. M. Allison was plaintiff, and which the question of the legality of general fund warrants was involved, suit was started in the circuit court this afternoon by J. A. Maddox to restrain the sheriff and county treasurer from accepting in payment of taxes or paying in cash a long list of warrants amounting to more than $20,000.

All of the warrants attacked were issued in payment for road work, or in payment for machinery for the carrying on of road work. The list follows, with names of parties to whom warrants were issued: Tom Calmes $400, Robert Mitchell $414.15, Chas. E. Worden $500, E. W. Smith $500, E. W. Smith $176.47, C. G. Kuykendall & Ferguson are attorneys for the plaintiff in this case. Ed Bloomingcamp has returned from a visit to California points. He left today for his home in Blv.

Will Discuss Charter at Mills and Library

Judge Leavitt and Other Commissioners to Talk in the Evening. A Big Meeting Tomorrow

A mass meeting will be held at the Library Club building tomorrow afternoon, at which time the charter to be voted upon March 10th will be discussed. The meeting will be called at 2:30, and men and women interested are urged to be in attendance. Those favoring the new measure and those opposed will all be asked to address the meeting. In addition a talk will be made by Mrs. Ada Wallace-Urueh, state president of the Oregon Women's Christian Temperance Union. Tomorrow evening a second meeting will be held in Mrs. Addison Hall by the Mills Addition Progress Club, at which the charter will be discussed. At this meeting points in favor of the charter will be brought out by Police Judge Leavitt, Judge Drake and other speakers.

SALOON KEEPERS GO AFTER BURTON

HARD WORKING MAN, AFTER SPENDING HIS MONEY IN WET GOODS EMPORIUMS, ISSUES ROGUS PAPER

P. W. Burton, charged with forgery, was brought back to Klamath Falls from Weed Saturday evening. He was immediately arraigned before Judge Gowen and bound over to the grand jury. In default of $500 bonds he was committed to the county jail. Burton has many friends in Klamath Falls, and it is probable that a hard battle will be made to keep him out of the penitentiary. It is claimed that he has been a hard worker, but occasionally came to this city to go on a "spree." In the past he has spent his money freely, mostly in the saloons.

On his last visit here he spent a considerable sum, and while still under the influence of liquor, issued the fraudulent checks. It is a notable fact that all of these checks were issued to saloon keepers, and that it was a saloon keeper who made the complaint against Burton.

George E. Gillette of Bonanza is among Monday's visitors in the county seat.

M. H. Wampler was down Saturday from Woodbine, the Wampler home-stead on Upper Klamath Lake.

WARRANTS ARE ACCEPTED NOW

SHERIFF LOW OBEYS MANDATE OF THE CIRCUIT COURT AND TAXES TO THE AMOUNT OF 11.6 MILLS IN WARRANTS O. K.

Sheriff Low was this afternoon served with a promptory writ requiring him to accept 11.6 mills in county warrants in payment of taxes, instead of 3.5 mills, as he had been doing in accordance with instructions from District Attorney Irwin.

The news of the formal notice was speedily carried about this city, and many taxpayers appeared at the court house to take advantage of the opportunity to get rid of county warrants.

Frank E. Ankeny was in from the Ankeny ranch today to attend to business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Thompkins came in today from their Lost River ranch. They left this afternoon for Keno, where they will visit friends.

Development League is Grateful to W. O. Smith

Klamath Representative in the State Legislature is Congratulated on His Good Work at Salem

That W. O. Smith has accomplished much for the farmers of the Central Oregon country is acknowledged by a letter received by Mr. Smith from C. C. Chapman, secretary of the Oregon Development League. The letter in part follows:

"As a delegate to the Oregon Irrigation congress recently held in Portland, you are entitled to congratulations, in that your organization helped to interest the Oregon legislature, and that every request you made upon the legislature was granted. This includes the $45,000 appropriation for the Columbia Southern project; $5,000 for the Deschutes investigation, and many other items set forth in detail in your resolution. Your organization certainly achieved an amazing record, and we desire to congratulate you upon the same."

L. E. Todd of Merrill is here attending to business matters. He is a guest at the American while in the county seat.

F. I. Everett, a Chicago traveling man, returned Sunday from a business trip to Merrill.

D. Ellis Young is in today from his fine ranch on the Merrill road.

DEMONSTRATION IS GREATEST IN WORLD'S HISTORY

PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE DEPICTED BY TABLEAUX

Monster Procession of Ten Thousand Workers and Series of Living Pictures in the Interest of the Cause of Woman Suffrage—Ideal Weather Conditions Prevail for Parade, But Chilly for Gassy Tableau Costumes

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 3.—Ten thousand marchers today joined in the demand for votes for women in the most elaborate suffrage demonstration in the world's history. Suffragettes literally captured the capital today. They all but overshadowed the inaugural ceremonies tomorrow. From all parts of the country and from distant lands, every conceivable class of woman was represented—every type, every profession, every age—from Baby Harvey W. Wiley Jr., son of the former chief chemist, and being early educated in equal suffrage by his parents, to Miss H. M. Young, the 87-year-old pioneer in the equal rights movement. It was the overwhelming culmination of a fifty-five-year battle for ballots in the United States. It was both a protest against disfranchisement and a vivid, dignified, elaborate demand for equal rights at the polls. The weather was ideal for the parade, and the splendid atmospheric conditions caused the grandstands and other places of vantage to be filled early.

While the weather was fine for marching, the same cannot be said for the tableaux, and it was whispered that woollens were worn under many of the gassy costumes used in the portrayal of ideas by the use of the female form divine.

There were three distinct features to the demonstration—the parade, a series of tableaux on the treasury department steps, and, tonight, a series of mass meetings.

Capital Takes on Gala Attire for Two Days of Festivities

Cots in Corridors of Hotels are at a Premium and Every Train Brings in More Visitors. Taft's Family Leaves Tomorrow. Peerless Leader Cheered

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 3.—The city is in gala attire for today's suffrage parade and tomorrow's inaugural procession. From every housetop floats the Red, White and Blue, while streamers of the national colors are entwined across the principal streets.

The parade tomorrow will be the biggest inauguration procession in the history of the nation, and democrats from every state are coming to witness it.

Every incoming train brings a large number of visitors. Hotels and residences are filled, and enormous sums are being paid for the privilege of sleeping on cots in hotel corridors.

The senate and house galleries are packed with visitors today.

President Taft is busy bidding farewells to his official family. Wilson will be the guest of honor at a family dinner to be given by relatives tonight. He and Vice President Marshall will hold a brief conference tonight.

The official forecast predicts fair weather tonight and tomorrow morning. The report says the weather may be somewhat unsettled in the afternoon.

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C. March 3.—William Jennings Bryan arrived on an early train from Nebraska. He was loudly cheered and hailed as the "Peerless Leader" when recognized at the station.

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C. March 3.—The United States supreme court rendered no opinions today. Instead, the justices viewed the suffrage parade.

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C. March 3.—President Taft remained at his desk all day, except for a brief final session with his cabinet. Immediately after the inauguration tomorrow, he and his family will leave for Augusta, Ga., where they will spend three weeks before going to Yale.

Brown and Anderson Both Drilling Hard Kayo's Brother Adam has Him in Tow at Venice. Anderson is Working With Geo. Memsic

(By Harry Burns) Special to The Herald

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—Active training has been started by the principals in the Kayo Brown and Bud Anderson twenty-round boxing contest, slated to take place before Tom McCarey's Vernon arena the afternoon of March 15th. Chas. F. Byton will act as the third man in the ring. Bud Anderson today moved his belongings out to Jack Doyle's famous training camp, and he has started in to do light training for the Brown battle, surrounding himself with a staff of sparring partners and trainers that will be becoming only to a champion. He is to train like he never trained before.

He is taking a six-mile run every morning out Vernon way, and doing a solid hour's gymnasium workout in the afternoon. This gives him an opportunity to regulate his wind and his judgment of distance. Anderson's punch needn't be regulated, for he is one of the most accurate punchers and hardest hitters in the lightweight division today.

Bud has one of the best men training him that a fighter has had here-

Chiloquin to be the Home of Another Big Saw Mill

Articles of Incorporation for the Mutual Milling Co. are Filed. The New Mill Will Have a Capacity of Sixty Thousand Feet of Lumber a Day

Chiloquin is to be the home of another saw mill. Articles of incorporation for the Mutual Milling company have been filed, and it is announced that the new mill will be in operation by May 1st.

The company is capitalized at $30,000. Already $15,000 worth of machinery has been bought, and is now on the site of the saw mill, on the Williamson river, about a mile from the town of Chiloquin. The mill site is situated on the Indian reservation, and consists of fifty acres of leased ground.

The capacity of the mill will be 60,000 feet of lumber daily. The company owns about 10,000,000 feet of timber, and the new mill is situated in the very heart of a vast area of timber, enough to keep the mill busy for the next ten years.

The officers of the new company are: Charles Graves, president and treasurer; William Sandham, vice president; Milburn Knapp, secretary and manager.

G. R. Manning, with the foregoing, make up the board of directors.

Tears Fill Wilson's Eyes as he Leaves for Capital

Entire Populace at Princeton Station to Join in Singing the Hymn of the University of Princeton

United Press Service

PRINCETON, March 3.—All political parties fraternized and "town and gown" intermingled at the station today, when the city turned out en masse to bid "God speed" to President Woodrow Wilson.

He was escorted to the train by a delegation of fifteen students of Princeton University, singing "Old Nassau," the Princeton hymn. At the station the song was taken up by the assemblage. Wilson stood with bared head as the train left, and tears filled his eyes at the demonstration.

The president-elect was in high spirits as he entered the car reserved for him on the special train, behind nine cars of students and newspaper men. He reiterated his statement that he would not announce his cabinet until the list is read in the senate tomorrow afternoon.

ABOARD WILSON SPECIAL, Philadelphia, March 3.—Wilson's cabinet is provisionally completed. He expects to send a list to the senate on Tuesday, if that body is in session.

In case the senate is not sitting tomorrow, he will delay the list until Wednesday.
