

SUPPLIED BY THE UNITED PRESS NEWS SERVICE

The Evening Herald.

EVENING NEWSPAPERS PRINT THE NEWS, NOT HISTORY

Month Year—No. 2,008

KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 5, 1913

Price, Five Cents

Wilson Announces His Cabinet; Heads of Different Departments Will Distribute Their Own Patronage

NEW OFFICIALS TO DISPOSE OF ALL PATRONAGE

WILSON AND HIS SECRETARY ARRANGE ROUTINE

Hour Will Be Designated for Newspaper Men—Bryan and Secretary Knox Hold Conference.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—

President Wilson smashed all procedure when he announced today that he will leave the disposing of federal patronage in the hands of the heads of the various executive departments.

Secretary Tumulty announced that he is preparing a plan whereby correspondents can obtain audiences at the White House at regular periods.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—The first official statement, Wilson made his intention of leaving appointments in the hands of the cabinet.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—The cabinet meeting ended at 11 o'clock this morning with Vice President Marshall absent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—The cabinet meeting ended at 11 o'clock this morning with Vice President Marshall absent.

Business is Good" Says Local Telephone Man

Robertson Says That the Outlook is Brighter Than at Any Time in the Past Three or Four Years

R. Robertson, manager of the Telephone and Telegraph company, states that the outlook for Klamath Falls is better than it has been for the past three years.

Morning Paper's True Circulation is Known

Sworn Statement to County Court Shows the Northwestern's Boast of Many Subscribers Fiction

HEAD THIS: Klamath Falls, Oregon, March 4, 1913. I, Sam Evans, being first duly sworn, depose and say that I am the owner and proprietor of the Weekly Klamath Falls Northwestern, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published every week, that is, every Friday morning, in the city of Klamath Falls, county of Klamath, state of Oregon; and that the number of subscribers to the Weekly and Daily Northwestern, published every week and circulated in the county is five hundred and seventy-seven, and that the Weekly and Daily Northwestern, published on Friday morning of each week, is sent to the following persons whose names appear on the list hereto attached and hereby made a part of this affidavit.

Signed: SAM EVANS, Proprietor Weekly and Daily Northwestern.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this third day of March, 1913. C. R. DE LAP, County Clerk.

What has happened to the boasted circulation of the Northwestern? Local business men want to know. Some of them are inclined to the opinion that they have been "stung," and they offer in evidence the sworn statement made by Sam Evans Tuesday and now on file at the county court house.

Oliver Leases Room. C. T. Oliver has leased the large store room in the White building on Main street between Fifth and Sixth streets, and is preparing to partition off a number of office rooms.

C. W. Murphy of Weed is here attending to business interests. He is a timber cruiser.

AND THEN THIS: State of Oregon, County of Klamath, ss.: City of Klamath Falls.

I, Sam Evans, being first duly sworn, depose and say that I am the proprietor and publisher of the Klamath Falls Northwestern, a daily newspaper published in said city; that said newspaper has a bona fide circulation and that the average number of copies of said paper which have been printed and circulated between March 9, 1912, and July 21, 1912, in other words, since the establishment of the said newspaper under its present name, is fourteen hundred copies daily.

SAM EVANS. Subscribed and sworn to before me this 31st day of July, 1912. C. F. STONE, Notary Public for Oregon.

day and now on file at the county court house.

The occasion of Mr. Evans' latest affidavit was the awarding of the contract for the county advertising. In order to be considered at all it was necessary for him to give the names and addresses of his subscribers within the county.

Instead of having 1,400, it appears that Sammy has but 577 subscribers in the county. This number includes his daily as well as weekly subscribers. It is believed that there are about 160 people in the county who

(Continued on Page 4)

ROUITS BURGLAR WITH A SIRLOIN

MARAUDER FINDS A STEAK AND A DETERMINED GIRL TO BE A HARD COMBINATION—HE IS KNOCKED DOWNSTAIRS

United Press Service SEATTLE, March 5.—Somewhere about town a would-be burglar is nursing a sore face today as the result of being belted with a choice cut of sirloin by Miss Mattie Williams, when he tried to choke her.

Miss Williams heard him in the hall and went to the door. He reached for her and she swung on him with the beefsteak which she had been about to put in the skillet, knocking him down stairs. He "beat it" quick.

Mrs. Lottie L. Bailey leaves in the morning for Portland, where she will visit friends for a fortnight.

CLARKE SELLS HIS RESIDENCE

BEAUTIFUL PROPERTY ON PINE AND CEDAR STREETS IS SOLD TO HOWARD H. VAN VALKENBERG

A deal has just been closed whereby W. I. Clarke has sold the Clarke residence at the corner of Pine and Cedar streets to Howard H. Van Valkenburg, well known Klamath county rancher.

The residence, which was erected two years ago, is one of the finest in the county. Since that time Mr. Clarke has disposed of most of his local interests, and is residing in California. He has just completed a splendid home in Piedmont.

Kern Heads the Senate Caucus; Clark is Named

Underwood is Chosen as Majority Leader in the House. Californian Will Appoint Colleagues

United Press Service Senator Kern of California was chosen chairman of the democratic caucus today. He was authorized to appoint eight other members of the "steering committee."

The caucus will meet again tomorrow, at which time the members will ratify the appointment of Kern. Senator Saulsbury of New Jersey was elected secretary of the caucus, and Senator Newlands of Nevada was chosen vice chairman.

Organization work has already started in the house, and Champ Clark has been re-nominated as speaker. Congressman Underwood has again been designated as majority leader of the house. He was also chosen unanimously as chairman of the ways and means committee.

Congressman Palmer of Pennsylvania was chosen as chairman of the house democratic caucus, and Ashbrook of Ohio as secretary.

CHINTELL HAS A NARROW ESCAPE

BIG BLOCK OF ICE NARROWLY MISSES HIS HEAD AND SHOULDER WHEN FALLING FROM A ROOF

Frank Chintell, an employe of the California-Oregon Power company, had a narrow escape from death or serious injury by being struck with a large sheet of ice Tuesday.

Chintell was cleaning off a sidewalk at the company's office building Tuesday, when a large sheet of ice, loosened by the warmth, slid off the roof. In falling, the ice grazed the side of Chintell's face, scratching it considerably.

The weight of the falling mass was sufficient to break a 3rd sidewalk plank at Chintell's feet.

FIGURES ON THE AIRSHIP FLEET

NEARLY FIFTEEN HUNDRED AEROPLANES, EXCLUSIVE OF DIRIGIBLES IN EUROPE, ACCORDING TO REPORT

United Press Service LONDON, March 5.—The European sky fleet now numbers 1,452 aeroplanes, besides dirigibles, according to the latest information compiled by the British war office. France has expended $4,500,000 in aeroplanes, has 290 aeroplanes and 1,000 mechanics.

Germany has spent $2,750,000 for aeroplanes and has 180 airmen and 260 machines. England has spent $1,500,000, and has 80 airmen and 44 machines.

A. L. Bragg, who has charge of local construction work for the Klamath Development company, returned last night from San Francisco, where he spent the winter.

F. B. Kester and W. H. Marcho, two well known residents of Poe Valley, are county seat visitors.

C. E. Evans is here from Weed in the interests of the Weed Lumber company. He is at the White Pelican.

Ed Hoyt, who has been visiting Fort Klamath for several days, has returned to the county seat.

A. J. Sanders of Dorris is a Klamath Falls visitor.

WILSON'S CABINET NAMED AT LAST MEETING TODAY

BRYAN IS NEW SECRETARY OF STATE

Other Officials Are Men Who Have Been Prominently Mentioned in This Connection—First Meeting of New Official Family Held at 10 o'clock This Morning With Vice President Marshall Present

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, March 5.—President Wilson sent to the senate the following list of cabinet officers:

- Secretary of State, William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska. Secretary of the Treasury, William G. McAdoo of New York. Secretary of War, Lindley M. Garrison of New Jersey. Attorney General, James McReynolds. Postmaster General, Albert Sidney Burleson of Texas. Secretary of the Navy, Joseph Daniels of North Carolina. Secretary of the Interior, Frank L. Lane of California. Secretary of Agriculture, David F. Houston of Missouri. Secretary of Commerce, William C. Redfield. Secretary of Labor, William B. Wilson of Pennsylvania.

In announcing his cabinet, Wilson made the following statement: "Those knowing my affection and admiration for Mr. McCombs may wonder why his name is not on the list."

(Continued on Page 3)

Not the Disposition, Anyway

United Press Service GENEVA, March 4.—Lucie Allagré was sentenced to twenty years penal servitude for murdering her mother because the latter desired her to become a nun.

Felt Favored for Imprisonment United Press Service LISBON, March 5.—After being released from two days' imprisonment for sleeping on duty, a private shot and killed the corporal who reported

Thomas McCormick of Keno is a Klamath Falls visitor.

Wilson's Legacy is by no Means a "Dead Easy" Task

Only the War Presidents Have Been Called Upon to Handle Matters of Such Gravity as Those Awaiting Attention of New President and Congress

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—Excepting alone "war presidents," few national executives ever faced upon March 4 a more stupendous task than confronted President Wilson. And probably no president ever realized more fully the gravity of the tremendous responsibility that is his.

Democracy was placed on trial for the first time in twenty years, at the bar of public opinion, with the entire nation as the "jury." Crises innumerable await tests in democracy's crucible. Future prosperity of the country—indeed of several countries—and fate of great political parties hangs in the balance.

Sentiment for "progressive" reforms, which put the democratic party in power, demand performance. To secure legislation of real reform in the four years task facing the new administration. Factional divisions within the dominant party, democratic leaders themselves admit, make the next four years potent with possibilities. This nation's course of peace and friendship with the world's powers and its policy in Central and South America were today placed in the hands of President Wilson. Alone this constitutes a mountainous task. Confronting him in prime importance is the civic strife in Mexico—the problem of preserving peace and order there without shedding American blood.

Administration of the Panama canal was another giant problem assumed today, involving settlement of disputes with Great Britain, Canada and other European countries over the "free tolls" concession given the American shipping. The Taft administration left these negotiations practically in a state of incubation. Repeal of the "free tolls" clause is the demand Wilson's cabinet must face and solve. Other diplomatic questions confronting the new administration is proposed recognition of the new Chinese republic, negotiation of a new trade and passport treaty with Russia, work of the Alaskan boundary commission, tariff reprisals in Europe, completion of the Honduras lion, joint action in conserving the Alaska sealing situation, and the Newfoundland fisheries, muttered rumblings of strife in Cuba, Santo Domingo, Hayti, Salvador and Honduras besides the dispute with Brazil over coffee importations.

Platform pledges galore await fulfillment by the democrats. These include such knotty problems as Philippine independence, Porto Rican citizenship, amendment or strengthening the Sherman antitrust law, a single presidential term, and "labor" legislation.

Among the bills and policies awaiting action by the new administration and congress are: Senator Works' resolution for a

(Continued on page 3)

Los Angeles Court Room is Stormed by a Mob

A Dozen Women are Trampled Before Police Reserves are Able to Restore Order and Quiet

LOS ANGELES, March 5.—Late this afternoon a mob stormed the court room where the trial of Clarence Darrow, Chicago labor attorney, is being held.

Before the disturbance could be quelled it was necessary to call out the police reserves: Twelve women were trampled in the rush, but none were seriously injured.

Judge Powers argued this afternoon in behalf of Darrow. He made a bitter denunciation of Detectives Franklin and Harrington, Gray and District Attorney Fredericks. He held that they resorted to illegal methods in an effort to secure the conviction of Darrow, hoping in the manner to bring suspicion on the labor unions.