BRICK SENT BY PARCELS POST

CONTRIBUTIONS OF MATERIAL FOR THE ERECTION OF A HOUSE IN CHICAGO TRAVEL A LONG DISTANCE

G. L. Kelley last Thursday sent by parcels post a brick of local manufacture to be used in building a brick house at the Coliseum in Chicago during the Clay Products exposition, says the Lake County Examiner. This brick will be one of the 25,000 sent by parcels post from every brick plant in the United States to be used in construction of the house, which will be given away and re-erected after the exposition.

The idea was originated to test the merits of the parcel post system and is certainly a novel one. A record was kept of each brick from the time it was mailed until delivered in Chicago, in order to see how speedily Uncle Sam can deliver a brick house by mail. It is probable that mail carriers in Chicago will not be overly enthusiastic for this method of delivering a brick house. Other carriers throughout the country will watch the experiment with much interest.

The brick weighed five pounds, and cost Mr. Kelley 51 cents to get it to its destination, but he has the novel distinction of having a brick in the first brick house sent by mail, as well as being the first to introduce a Lakeview product in Chicago.

Klamath County Bull to be Tried at Rodeo

Two Year old at Crisler and Stilts Ranch Shows Decided Aversion for Saddle. Throws Riders

A bucking bull, which furnished so much amusement at the Elks' Rodeo last spring, is to be a feature of the show again this summer. This year a Klamath county bovine will be used, a 2-year-old at the Crisler & Stilts ranch is rapidly rounding into form as a bucker.

He is now 28 years old, and when last heard of he was in Spokane, Wash., attending business college. A liberal reward will be paid to the one locating him. Any news can be written to E. G. Williams, 931 Litchfield avenue, Wichita, Kansas.

SOCIAL MEETING HELD TUESDAY

MEMBERS OF THE CIVIC LEAGUE WILL COMBINE BUSINESS WITH PLEASURE AT ALL FUTURE MEETINGS

Instead of meeting only for the purpose of carrying on the business of the organization, the Women's Civic League will hereafter hold social afternoons in connection. Literary entertainments, musicales and other features will be given during the coming spring and summer.

The first of these meetings will be held tomorrow afternoon at the west hall of the Odd Fellows' building, commencing at 2:30. Cards and refreshments will be the principal diversions.

Each member of the league is privileged to invite three friends to attend the meetings.

August Liskey was in from Midland Saturday, giving attention to business matters.

W. G. Downing has resigned as manager of the Star Drug Store, and, accompanied by Mrs. Downing, left Saturday night for San Francisco.

James Pelton is here from Fort Klamath.

Technical Point in Horsefly Project Case Finally Decided

Judge Benson Settles Question and Friends of the Irrigation Project are Confident of Final Victory Soon. Case Involves Important Plan of Irrigation

Judge Benson this morning rendered a decision on a much mooted point in the famous Horsefly irrigation case, and those who favor the plan are confident that the start of the important project is almost in sight.

While the point decided by the court today is technical, it is claimed that it opens the way clearly for the future legal procedure, and is a victory for those who favor the issuance of the bonds for the scheme.

Judge Benson's opinion follows: The question argued and submitted to the court on Saturday afternoon, February 8, 1913, is this: The defendants offer in evidence the original petition for the organization of the Horsefly Irrigation District, and propose by means of this exhibit, and other evidence, to impeach the order of the county court, declaring the said irrigation district duly organized.

To this offer, the petitioners object upon the ground that the recitals in the final order of the county court are conclusive upon the facts therein recited.

The supreme court in a recent case, decided on January 28th of the present year, in a case where a specified territory had undertaken to establish a port commission, has the following to say, in an opinion by Chief Justice McBride:

"Plaintiff and all others having interests adverse to the organization of the port were, by the publication of the notice of election required by law, duly and legally apprised of the pendency of the proceedings, and either before the election, or within the seven days intervening after the election, could have appeared before the court and pointed out the alleged defects in the petition, and in a simple and inexpensive proceeding have made themselves parties to the record there, and settled by review or appeal to the circuit court the questions they here seek to litigate. The findings of the county court that the port had been legally and duly organized, and incorporated, and the entry of this finding in the journal, was a final adjudication of every fact necessary under the law to constitute a valid corporation, including the location of its boundaries, and the matter sought to be litigated here is res adjudicata."

This position of the supreme court is in manifest accord with the statutes providing for the organization of irrigation districts, as will be readily seen upon a careful examination thereof.

Section 6168, L. O. L., provides for a petition to be presented to the county court, and a hearing thereon, after published notice thereof, and a final order of the county court, and then says: "On the final hearing the court

California Law Makers to Have Long Session

Solons do not see Possibility for Adjournment for Many Weeks. The Governor Insists on 6 Weeks

United Press Service SACRAMENTO, March 10.—Senator Strowbridge introduced a resolution today, fixing the time of the adjournment of the state legislature at midnight, April 27th. The resolution was referred to the rules committee.

Governor Johnson is demanding that the legislature adjourn the session at the end of six weeks. Senator Wright declared today that he did not see any possibility of an adjournment within the time specified.

Edgar Livesay is here from Merrill, attending to business matters. He brought in three fine bobcat skins.

Will Sanderson, brother of the late Mayor Fred T. Sanderson, is here from Ashland, attending to business in connection with his brother's estate.

L. J. Bauman is here from Bonanza on a business trip.

W. H. Doney came in Sunday from the ranch.

TOWNS PLAN TO RETAIN SALOONS

BOTH BLY AND FORT KLAMATH WILL INCORPORATE—NECESSARY LEGAL STEPS TO BE TAKEN SOON

As a result of the announcement of the passage of the bill prohibiting the selling of liquor outside of incorporated towns, plans are under way to incorporate Fort Klamath and Bly in this county. No information has been received from Malin or Crescent, but it is believed that both of those places will follow the action of Bly and Fort Klamath.

W. W. Smith, unofficial mayor of Bly, stated this afternoon that the necessary legal steps preliminary to the incorporation of Bly would be taken before the end of the week.

There were 466 Klamath Falls women who registered for the election, but it is not believed that there will be a heavy vote by the women.

Practically no campaigning has been done on the streets, and there appears to be but little interest taken in the result.

Mrs. E. J. Murray, whose husband has been so active in the fight against the charter, was on the street early this morning.

"Are you campaigning?" she was asked.

"I don't think it is necessary, do you?" she asked. "I am going to vote, however."

At the city hall voting started early and in the first hour 17 votes had been cast.

At 3 o'clock the vote in the Third ward was 270, and in the Fourth 140. At that time the women voters were beginning to turn out in force.

REPORT AROUSES SONORA PEOPLE

REBELS ARE SAID TO BE MARCHING ON A TOWN ACROSS THE BORDER FROM NOGALES, ARIZ., AND REFUGEES CROSS BORDER

United Press Service NOGALES, Ariz., March 10.—Nogales and Sonora were thrown into a panic of fear today by the report that hundreds of rebels are marching on the town.

Scores of refugees, carrying their valuables, have fled to the American side.

LANDSCAPE ARTIST IS TO GIVE LECTURES IN CITY

Edward Everets Weed Will Tell of the Parks and Playgrounds of the World Friday and Saturday

An illustrated lecture on parks and playgrounds throughout the world will be given at Houston's opera house Friday and Saturday nights by Edward Everets Weed of Portland.

The lectures are given under the auspices of the Women's Civic League and no admission will be charged.

Mr. Weed's talks are illustrated with hand colored lantern slides, showing parks in every portion of the globe. On account of the importance of united action in beautifying the park site in this city, the lecture should be full of useful ideas for Klamath Falls, and should be the means of instilling a desire for a beautiful park into the minds of the people.

The Women's Civic League has been working industriously for the "City Beautiful," and it is taking an initiative in the work of beautifying the park site.
