FINANCIERS ASK FAVOR OF WILSON AND HIS CABINET

WANT GOVERNMENT TO SANCTION CHINA LOAN

Kind of Dollar Diplomacy is Believed to be in Sight—Uncle Sam Will No Longer Act as a Collection Agency in South and Central American Republics for Wall Street Concerns and Others

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C., March 17.—

The announcement is expected soon that the government will not stand for "dollar diplomacy," and will not guarantee any more Wall street loans nor act as a collection agency in South and Central American republics.

This afternoon the cabinet discussed the request of Morgan and other financiers participating in the six-powers loan to China. They want the state department to sanction the loan, so the security will be unquestioned. The money is guaranteed by the Chinese customs collections.

It has been learned privately that Wilson is adverse to the plan of the financiers.

REPORTS OF RICH STRIKE RECEIVED

RUMOR HAS IT THAT A SEVEN-FOOT SHUTE HAS BEEN ENCOUNTERED IN PROPERTY OF THE SUNSHINE

Encouraging news has been received here from High Grade, the new mining camp south of Lakeview. It is reported that a seven foot shute of very rich ore has been encountered in the property of the Sunshine company, and that the formation is solid, with talc on either wall.

While no confirmation has come to these reports, it is said that the Sunshine people are purposely keeping the matter quiet, in order to buy up as much of the stock as possible at a low figure. A number of local people are interested in this property.

Ignac Cacka, a Malin farmer, was in the county seat Monday to attend the meeting of the stockholders of the Co-operative Supply house.

Mt. Mazama Was the Highest Peak in West Government Geologists Hold that Old Volcano, Now Collapsed Into Crater Lake Was 15,000 ft. High

Special to The Herald WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18.—The highest mountain in Oregon is Mount Hood, 11,325 feet above sea level. Compared with Mount Whitney to the south in California and Mount Ranier to the north in Washington, each rising well above 14,000 feet, Mount Hood does not appear as a skyscraper. However, according to the geologists of the United States geological survey and other authorities, Oregon had at one time, probably before the dawn of life upon the earth, a great volcano which towered as far above Mount Hood as does Mount Ranier, possibly even several thousand feet higher. This was the great Mount Mazama. But thousands of years ago this mountain disap-

TAXI SERVICE TO BE STARTED HERE

WHITE PELICAN GARAGE SECURES TWO TAXICABS, AND NEW LIVERY SERVICE WILL BE STARTED SHORTLY

A taxicab livery is the latest innovation for Klamath Falls, as an announcement was made today by Gordon & Baldwin, owners of the White Pelican garage, that they will commence a service in a short time.

Two cabs fitted with taximeters have been received at the garage. One of these will be operated from the garage, and the other from an uptown stand. They will be in service until late at night.

The taxicab charges are made by the mileage traversed by the car, and the length of each trip is registered by the taximeter, which also shows the amount due. In this way the customer can tell just what is due, and after it is paid the amount due for that and all other trips during the day is computed as by a cash register for the information of the chauffeur and garage owner.

There has been a great demand here at all times for auto livery cars, and it is to meet this that the service is being started. If the patronage warrants it, the garage will place additional taxicabs in service.

Farmers May Form a Cooperative Warehouse

Rumored that Investors in Defunct Concern are Considering the Availability of Such a Plan

According to persons interested, there is a possibility that Klamath county may have a co-operative supply house this summer, despite the disastrous effect of the representatives of the Portland firm which sold stock to local farmers, went into the hands of a receiver without carrying out any of its promises, and is now seeking to collect the notes given.

When the farmers gave cash and notes for stock in the concern, they did so knowing that such an institution would be a great benefit to Klamath county. It proposed to erect a central warehouse here, through which the products of Klamath county farms would be marketed, and supplies purchased at wholesale prices. This was to have been one of a chain throughout the state. Although they were defrauded to a

CAMINETTI AND DIGGS FACE A BUNCH TROUBLE

PROMINENT YOUNG MEN ARE INVOLVED IN LAW

Released on Own Recognizance on Charges of Contributing to Delinquency of Girls, They Are Promptly Re-Arrested on Charge of White Slavery—Are Afraid to Leave the Prison

United Press Service SACRAMENTO, March 18.—The plan to take Caminetti and Diggs to Stockton for arraignment on charges under the Mann act has been abandoned.

United States Marshal Kernan of San Francisco arrived this afternoon with warrants, and the men were promptly arraigned by the county authorities on charges of contributing to the delinquency of two girls. They were released on their own recognizance. Then Kernan arrested them on charges of white slavery. They will be arraigned before Superior Judge Hughes.

SACRAMENTO, March 17.—United States deputy marshals are expected to take Caminetti and Diggs to Stockton this afternoon for arraignment before a federal commissioner.

The two men have declined offers of bail, fearing that if they were at liberty their lives would be in danger. Because the trial will be under the Mann act, the girls will be required to tell their experiences in open court. They are out of jail now on $1,000 bonds. Neither has left home since returning to this city.
