United Press Service

NEW YORK, April 3.—Anticipating a favorable report by the government physicians on his treatment for tuberculosis, Dr. Frederick Friedmann has announced that within a week he will give the secret of his anti-culture injection to the American medical profession.

In making this announcement Dr. Friedmann said "I shall not tell the world how to make the liquid for injection, as that would be too dangerous, but I shall arrange through regular channels so that all reputable physicians will be able to obtain the remedy, and treat tuberculosis everywhere in the country. There can be but one report. The entire medical profession is watching anxiously." (Continued on Page 4)

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. WEBSTER

WIFE OF NOTED JURIST DIES AFTER MANY YEARS ILLNESS. JUDGE BENSON WILL ATTEND THE FUNERAL

Mrs. Webster, wife of former County Judge Lionel B. Webster of Portland, died last night in that city. A telegram to this effect was received today by Circuit Judge Benson, whose family has long been in a close friendship with the Websters.

Judge Benson will leave in the morning for Portland, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Louise Benson, to attend the funeral service.

Prior to becoming county judge of Multnomah county, Judge Webster rode the Southern Oregon circuit in the '80's, with other lawyers of the time, and he served as circuit judge of the district from 1884 to 1892. At that time the district was composed of Josephine, Jackson, Klamath and Lake counties.

Mrs. Webster had been in poor health for a long time, and for many years past she was virtually an invalid.

U. E. Lemon of Dairy is among the Thursday visitors in the county seat.

H. E. Childers, who has been in the city since Sunday, has returned to his Bonanza home.

LOOKING FORWARD TO WAGE ADVANCE

WIRELESS OPERATORS ON SHIPS OF THE PACIFIC OCEAN ARE EXPECTING A DEFINITE ANSWER THIS WEEK

United Press Service SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—Wireless operators on ships plying outward from the Golden Gate expect to know before the end of the week just what to expect from the Marconi Wireless company in the way of advances in salary.

Petitions asking for a minimum wage of $50 a month for a twelve-hour day were recently submitted, but no response was received. Talk of a strike has become common, and it is reported that the company is recruiting strikebreakers from other cities on the coast. First operators now receive $40 and $45 a month for a thirteen-hour day, and second operators receive $35.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Stone leave Sunday morning for Portland and Salem, where Mr. Stone will attend a session of the state fish and game commission, and attend to legal matters. They will be away several days.

One Levee is Holding Back Part of Flood at Shawneetown, But a Portion of the Town is Submerged. There Are No Fatalities at Shawneetown, But at Naples Many People Are Homeless

"We gladly accept the car of potatoes sent to us by the high school students. Please extend them our sincere thanks. This is the spirit that keeps a nation great."

City Offices Moved to Much Better Quarters

Former Location of the First Trust & Savings Bank is Now City Hall. Bank Fixtures Purchased

Work of moving the records and furniture of the city from the old location downstairs to the former home of the First Trust and Savings bank has been completed, and today Police Judge Leavitt is laboring in a much more cheerful city hall.

In addition to being on the first floor, the new location is better lighted, and there is more room for the handling of the city's business. The fixtures used by the bank were purchased by the city, and these are used to partition off a spectator's room from the office of the police judge and the big council table. In the rear are additional rooms, which are to be fitted up for the police department.

A large safe was purchased from the banking house, and in it is ample room for all the city's documents that are not kept in the fireproof filing cabinet. This makes it possible to keep all of the records free from any danger of destruction.

Mrs. Pankhurst Sentenced to Three Years Penal Servitude

Hisses From Assembled Militants Greeted Pronouncement of Sentence by Magistrate. Ten Minutes Required for Jurors to Arrive at a Verdict

LONDON, April 3.—Miss Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the militant suffragettes, must serve three years at penal servitude. She was found guilty by the jury in ten minutes' time. The verdict was accompanied by a plea for mercy. It is probable that this affected the pronouncement of Justice Lush, as he pronounced the minimum sentence. Hisses broke from the hundreds of women who attended the trial at Old Bailey, and the police were compelled to restore order. Mrs. Pankhurst assumed a defiant attitude, and declares she will start a hunger strike as soon as she is imprisoned.

The Pankhurst woman was charged with malicious inciting to destruction of property. She was convicted of instigating the bomb plot that blew up the home of David Lloyd George, the chancellor of the exchequer. Other events leading to her arrest were the burning of the county seat of Lady White and the demolition of Kew Gardens.

SEEDS FIGHTS GUARDIANSHIP

LOCAL RESIDENT, AT ONE TIME COMMITTED TO ASYLUM, SEEKS TO REVOKE LETTERS ISSUED TO HIS WIFE

The fight of Joseph Seeds against guardianship by his wife came up for its first hearing in the county court Wednesday, and a few witnesses were examined before the hearing was continued until April 15th. C. C. Brower is one of the attorneys connected with the case.

Seeds was committed to the insane asylum from here several years ago, and his wife, Sarah E. Seeds, was issued letters of guardianship. This enabled her to give attention to Seeds' property interests here.

Last winter Seeds was discharged from the asylum, and he has petitioned the county court for an adjudication as to his sanity and the revocation of the letters of guardianship issued to his wife. He is opposed in this by Mrs. Seeds.

GERMAN SOLDIERS HELD IN FRANCE

INTERNATIONAL COMPLICATIONS THREATENED AS RESULT OF A MISHAP TO A ZEPPELIN DIRIGIBLE'S CREW

LUNNEVILLE, France, April 3.—French authorities today seized and detained several officers of the German army in full uniform when they landed on French soil in a disabled Zeppelin airship.

The Germans declared that they were not spying on French territory, and insisted that they were forced to alight where they did on account of a broken propeller.

The matter has been taken up with the war office at Berlin, and the affair may give rise to international complications.

Thaddeus Yorke is Worse Off Pardoned

Klamath's J. Rufus Wallingford is Released by Governor West Only to Face Illinois Peace Officer

Thaddeus E. Yorke, the smooth confidence man, who was sent to the state penitentiary from Klamath county, was the victim of an April Fool joke at the hands of Governor West, which he did not relish. He was given a pardon only to face a sentence in the penitentiary of Illinois.

Yorke was convicted of forgery in Klamath county, and was committed to the state prison in January, 1911. Not long ago the federal authorities learned of his whereabouts, and sought to take him to Chicago to answer to a federal charge. Governor West granted him a pardon and made arrangements for the federal authorities to take him as soon as he was released from custody here.

Learning of the purpose of the pardon, Yorke refused to accept it. He said he was sentenced to serve from two to twenty years in this penitentiary, and that he intended to serve it. As there was some doubt about the legal aspects, the governor revoked the pardon and Superintendent Lawton put the matter up to the attorney general, who held that the governor could grant the pardon and let the federal officers take the man, whose recourse would be habeas corpus proceedings against the federal authorities. But Yorke knew nothing of this opinion. In the meantime the Illinois authorities again asked for him, wanting him for conducting a confidence game and swindling a man out of $900. After he thought the federal authorities had decided to let him remain in the Oregon prison, Yorke began to make demands for his release, saying he had been pardoned, and, therefore, was being held illegally. He sent his demands to the governor. Tuesday the governor, apparently in response, issued a new pardon, and Yorke was chuckling over the game he had played on the prison officials when he walked into the presence of the Illinois official, who held in his hand a warrant for his arrest.
