FOUR SEEKING OFFICE IN THE CITY'S THIRD

SHAW IS LATEST CANDIDATE IN FIELD FOR COUNCIL

Leslie Rogers Will Be Unopposed in First Ward, and W. O. Huson so Far is Alone in Asking for the Office of Councilman from the Fifth Ward—Quintet of Petitions in the Second Ward.

Announcement by his friends that W. H. Shaw, a prominent young local attorney, has been persuaded to run for councilman in the Third ward, brings the number of candidates in that precinct up to four. In addition to Shaw, Dr. W. A. Leonard, John H. Hamilton and Horatio Orem are in the race for aldermanic honors.

Leonard has filed his petition with the city recorder, Hamilton, who seeks to succeed himself, will file his petition tomorrow.

In the Second Ward, where there are two councilmen to be chosen, there are five candidates. Councilmen C. B. Crisler and Fred Melhase, whose terms of office expire, are seeking another term. Also in the race are O. D. Matthews, C. B. Townsend and Frank M. Upp.

Leslie Rogers is unopposed in the First ward. He is considered as the best available timber by all the residents of that part of the city, and there will be no candidate against him.

This appears to be the case with W. O. Huson, retiring councilman from the Fifth ward. Huson has been urged by many to make the race, and so other candidates have come out.

In the Fourth ward, Ben Owens, present councilman, will seek another term. He is to be opposed, it is rumored, by Charles Thomas.

County Commissioner Guy Merrill is here to attend court.

ADRIATIC PORT NOW BLOCKADED

ENGLISH, GERMAN, FRENCH, AUSTRIAN AND ITALIAN WARSHIPS COMBINE WITH TROOPS TO ISOLATE MONTENEGRO

United Press Service ANTIVARI, April 10.—The kingdom of Montenegro is practically isolated as a result of the demonstration commenced this morning by Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy and Austria, following the refusal of the Montenegrin army to abandon the siege of Scutari at the instance of the powers.

A blockade began at 8 o'clock this morning, and warships of the powers are patrolling the Adriatic coast of this country, to prevent vessels of any sort from approaching or leaving the Montenegrin coast.

In addition, Austrian soldiers are holding up all trains en route to Montenegro.

ANDERSON MUST STAND A TRIAL

RULING OF DISTRICT COURT IN INDIAN CATTLE PURCHASE CASE IS REVERSED BY U. S. SUPREME COURT

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 10.—The supreme court reversed the United States district court for Oregon in the case of the United States as plaintiff in error against O. T. Anderson of Klamath county, for the alleged violation of the law prohibiting the purchase of cattle from Indians. A demurrer, sustained by the lower court to the indictment of Anderson is reversed by the court findings.

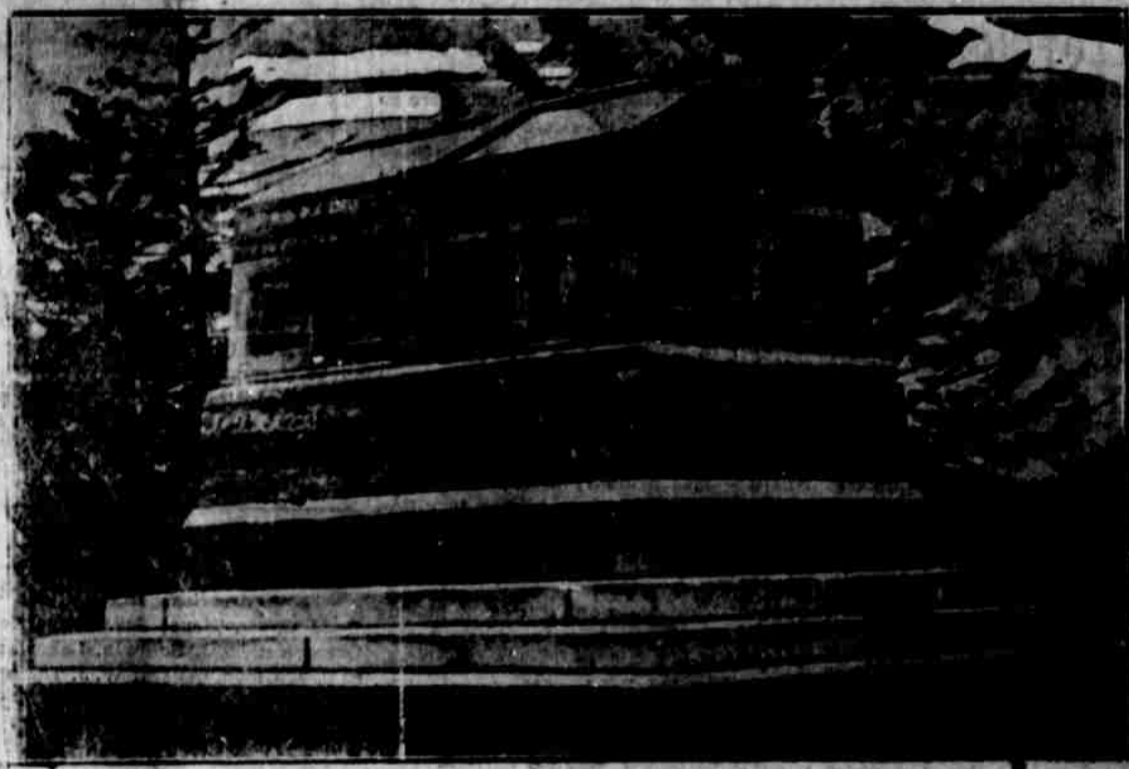

Anderson, who is known locally as "Buck," and a resident of Bly, was arrested several years ago on a charge of dickering with the Indians for cattle allotted to them by the government. He was indicted by the federal grand jury at Portland, but when the case came up from trial in the United States district court, he was released on a technicality.

This point was appealed to the higher tribunal by the district attorney, and today's decision follows.

Where Morgan's Body Will Be Laid

The tomb in which the body of J. Pierpont Morgan, perhaps the greatest of financiers, will rest has already been built in the Cedar Hill Cemetery at Hartford, Conn. The tomb is massive, and is as impressive as the man and his career. The base consists of great blocks of marble, and the plan, it seems, must have been the work of Morgan himself.

The funeral of the most important man in the finance of the world will probably not be spectacular, because his family is inclined against anything of that kind, but it is certain that every banker and broker in New York will consider it a solemn occasion.

HORSEFLY FOES MAKING THREAT

SAY THEY WILL KNOCK BOXANZA COUNTRY ALL OVER UNITED STATES—SIGNED POSTER TO PERSUADE SUPPORTERS

Four teen landowners residing near Dairy, who have signed up in the Horsefly Irrigation district, have issued a circular notice in which they condemn the irrigation project, and make many threats to the directors and other land owners under the project, in case they are not released. The notice, which is printed in poster form, is as follows:

"To the directors and land owners of the Horsefly Irrigation district: We, the undersigned, land owners, are unalterably opposed to irrigation, as proposed by the Horsefly Irrigation district. The cost of construction and interest runs up so high, that we think it folly even to attempt to make any payments.

"No sensible men with anything to lose will come in here and buy land, when he realizes what burden he will have to take unto himself. We know that irrigation will be a benefit after it is paid for, but we do not want to suffer for the benefit of another man's grandchildren.

"Therefore, we ask the directors and land owners of the Horsefly Irrigation district to let us out of the organization by changing the boundary lines, or, if they prefer, by dissolution of the organization. If we are let out peaceably, well and good, we will wish you all good luck, in case you decide to continue the organization. But if you insist on forcing and keeping us in the organization, we will give you notice, that we will never pay a cent of interest, and if in consequence we lose our land we promise you that we will write to every agricultural paper in the United States, and warn the farmers not to come here.

"Very few of you want to use the water yourself, you voted for it in the hope to sell out, and you don't care a Damn what becomes of the man that buys your land. Now, if you and promised to start another Klamath county. develops that the principal of the promoters was to sell People bit this off in large They sent agents all over the old sold shares at face value, if sold, at a discount if advisable. bankers were taken in and (Continued on Page 4)

MERRILLITE IS IN FEDERAL JUG

FORMER KIAMATH COUNTY MAN MUST FACE A CHARGE OF SENDING OBSCENE LETTERS TO A MERRILL WOMAN

PORTLAND, April 10.—Under indictment for sending obscene matter through the mails, J. C. Reed, a former bartender of Merrill, Klamath county, has been brought to Portland from Helena, Mont. He was arrested at Dillon, Mont., two weeks ago. Postal inspectors all over the West have been on the watch for him.

Reed wrote some scurrilous letters to a woman in Merrill almost two years ago. As soon as he heard that officers were on his trail he made the threat that he "would never be taken alive," and decamped.

Western Night Stunts Will be Hair Raisers

Wild and Wooley Pastimes May Include a Lynching, Should a White Collar Make Its Appearance

"It will be a Western night, and you are requested to wear clothes accordingly. White shirts strictly prohibited."

This N. B. on the invitations sent out by the entertainment committee of Klamath Falls Lodge No. 1347, B. P. O. E., dispelled all doubt of what are the proper duds to wear to tomorrow night's big frolic. Many who were of the opinion that they could skip up wearing "biled" shirts and "hard" collars are now sure that this is another case of "when in Rome," and they are scurrying around assembling wardrobes similar to those of cow persons, miners, green-cloth knights, scoundrels and other frontier characters. Many visiting Biks are expected.

It would be easy enough for them to stay away if they wished to, but this is not the attitude taken by anybody, be he Bik or invited guest. All have been looking forward to Friday night with as much longing and speculation as the average schoolboy goes to circus day, and all know that one Biks will relegate to the limbo of things, all circus days, Friday, July 19, and other big times for a long time to come. The big effort is given by Bikdom will long be held as a criterion for good behavior. Future efforts along the line of entertainment.

ACTION TO BE TAKEN AT ONCE TOWARD PLANS

NOTE WILL BE SELECTED AFTER PLANS ARE APPROVED

Carnegie Corporation Will Donate $20,000 to Cover Cost of Building if County Court Will Provide at Least $5,000 annually for Its Up-keep—More Than $4,000 is Now Available

The following letter has just been received by County Judge William E. Worden from James Bertram, secretary of the Carnegie Corporation of New York:

"Responding to your communication in behalf of Klamath County, Oregon, if the county agrees by resolution of the county court to maintain a free public library of a cost of not less than two thousand ($2,000) dollars a year, and provides a suitable site for the building, Carnegie Corporation of New York will be glad to give twenty thousand ($20,000) dollars to erect a free public building for Klamath county at Klamath Falls.

"It should be noted that the amount indicated is to cover the cost of the library building complete, ready for occupancy and for the purpose intended.

"Before any expenditure on building or plans is incurred, the approval of proposed plans by Carnegie Corporation of New York should be secured, to obtain which plans and sketch plans for inspection."

County Judge Worden announced this morning that no action toward the selection of a site for the building would be taken until tentative plans had been drawn and approved by the commission.

There is now available for county library purposes, $4,923.71. This is the amount realized by the levying of a special library tax for the past two years. The levy amounts to .25 of a mill, which will amount to more than $2,000 annual maintenance money required by the commission for the upkeep of the library.

"Supply House" Operator is Caught Victims Everywhere

Klamath County Farmers Not the Only Ones Duped by Clever Scheme, According to Research Work by the Official Organ of the Oregon State Grange

The following history of the defunct co-operative company which many Klamath county farmers and themselves indebted to, is from the Pacific Grange Bulletin:

Several months since a large concrete warehouse was erected at East Main street, Portland. It was occupied by the Co-Operation Supply House. It claimed to own the building, the ground under it, and the lots adjoining. It opened up fine offices in the Seeling building and proceeded to do business.

What this business was is just well in sight now. It proposed to handle the farm products of the state and furnish at wholesale prices goods of all sorts to people all over the country. It started a branch house in Spokane and other in it.
