WEEKLY SERMON

The Easter Lesson

By Geo. H. Foose, Pastor of Grace Methodist Church

Society

Moses did not arbitrarily originate this law. He simply recognized a law inherent in the physical world. The moral and physical benefit derived from the true observance of the law are inseparable. Jesus very clearly shows us this fact in the statement "The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath; therefore the Son of Man is Lord also of the Sabbath." The opinions of great men with reference to the Sabbath are not unfounded. "The Sunday is the core of our civilization dedicated to thought and reverence."—Emerson. "He who ordained the Sabbath loves the poor."—Lowell. "Where there is no Christian Sabbath there is no Christian morality, and without this free institutions cannot long be sustained."—McClellan. "The streams of religion run deeper or shallower as the banks of the Sabbath are kept up or neglected." "Sunday is the common people's great liberty day, and they are bound to see to it that work does not come into it."—Beecher. "To that which is secular and animal, Sunday says rest; that which is moral, intellectual, social—grow."—Beecher. "A corruption of morals usually follows a profanation of the Sabbath."—Blackstone. History has ever shown this to be true in individuals and nations. "Break down Sunday, close the churches, open the bars and theaters on that day and where would values be? What was real estate worth in Sodome?" To these influences can also be added the Sunday baseball game and the Sunday picture show. "He that remembers not to keep the Christian Sabbath at the beginning of the week will be in danger of forgetting, before the end of the week that he is a Christian."

The modern innovation make great inroads upon the sanctity and true observance of the Sabbath. There is no question as to the demoralizing effect upon the people. But call attention to them and the cry of "puritanism, bigotry, intolerance, and the Sunday law is raised. As a rule the persons interested indirectly in an institution or business tending toward the destruction of the main purpose of Sabbath observance have little interest in the Sabbath as interpreted by the church. Especially is this true where a money-making enterprise is involved. So it behooves all Christian people to be zealous of the Sabbath day. As others cannot see the importance of a right observance of the day, Christian people, through the enlightenment of the Word of God and Christian experience surely can. And the observance will prove a great light to the world. Many Christian people are much to blame for the disregard of the Sabbath. They make the day one of convenience, or whim or emotion, instead of representing a strong moral force; a telling conviction; an abiding earnestness; a devout spirit; an intelligent understanding of the purpose of the day. "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy" should mean more to the Christian than anyone else.

DAIRYING ON WOOD RIVER

NEW CATTLE AND COWS BEING PURCHASED, CHANGING HAS A GOOD TRADE, AND THE OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT

(Special Correspondent) FORT KLAMATH, Ore., April 13.—Wood River Valley is enjoying a very beautiful spring. Stock will all be on grass in a few days, and the valley had ample food for the long winter which has just passed. The unusual amount of snow that has fallen in the mountains leaves Klamath county a bumper crop this coming season.

L. C. Stomore left Tuesday for Jackson county, where he is going on an extended business trip. He expects to return with a large herd of dairy cows. Mr. Stomore has large holdings of very rich land in the Wood River Valley, which is well adapted for dairy purposes. It is expected before the summer is over there will be something doing in the dairy business on the Pullman-Clatsop ranch.

The Wood River Valley Creamery Association held its annual meeting April 12. The old board of directors was re-elected, with the exception of one member. F. L. Burns is the new member for the coming year. The secretary's financial report showed that the association's business is in good shape, and with the prospect of a prosperous year ahead, all members were more than pleased with the general outlook of the association.

G. W. Louney and wife returned a few days ago from an extended visit to Montague, Calif., where a son resides. On Mr. Louney's return he sold George Link a fine herd of Holstein cows.

Out doors at No. 3 West Main St. If you own a timber chain and are one enough to make a few poles, and give an option for dry days, this one can call it for you. If the price is right, it may be a long way from the hills and on a pile of rails. 522 Main street, phone 65.

MAY PROVE FATAL

When Will Klamath Falls People Learn the Importance of It?

Backache is only a simple thing at first; But if you find 'tis from the kidneys; That serious kidney troubles may follow; That dropsy or Bright's disease may be the fatal end; You will be glad to know the following experience: 'Tis the honest statement of a Murphy resident. John McCallister, Murphy, Ore., says: "For about a year I was afflicted with kidney complaint. My back was very painful, particularly when I stooped, and when on my feet I could not sleep well. Much of my kind tired me, and I was irritable and nervous. The kidney complaint proved too frequently at night, and I noticed sediment in them. Some time ago I began using Doan's Kidney Pills and they gave me prompt relief."

SAGE TEA BEAUTIFULLY DARKENS THE HAIR WHEN FADED AND GRAY

Mixed With Sulphur, Makes the Hair Soft, Lustrous and Cures Dandruff

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But the brewing at home is messy and out of date. Knowledge skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any druggist for the ready-to-use product, called "Wash's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own, which is usually too sticky, and insist upon getting Wash's, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair, and is splendid for dandruff. Dry, itchy scalp and falling hair. A well known druggist says: "My customer told me of Sage and Sulphur, because her hair was falling out so much that she could not get on with her work. She had used many things, but nothing had done her any good. I gave her a bottle of Wash's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and she drew it through her hair and out of her scalp.
