MRS. ZINK NOT CANDIDATE YET

HER PETITION FOLLOWED THE ACTION OF SOCIALIST CONVENTION, WHICH NOMINATED HER FOR OFFICE... Is Mrs. Maud Zink, candidate for council from the Fourth ward, and the first Klamath Falls woman to enter politics, to be allowed to run for office? This is a question that is being decided today... Mrs. Zink is a 1918 member of the local Socialist party, and she was nominated for the council by that body in the Fourth ward. Her petition is filed in accordance with the provisions of the state election laws regarding the placing of the ballot of a candidate by any political party polling 5 per cent of the total vote cast at the last election, including a certificate of her nomination... Just whether these provisions apply to the present municipal campaign is a matter that Police Judge Leavitt has not ascertained as yet, and the credentials of Mrs. Zink are not yet accepted... The Ladies' Aid of the Christian church will meet at the home of Mrs. A. Bainter on Lincoln street, Thursday afternoon. All ladies of the church are requested to be present.

MEN ARE SHY IN REGISTRATION JUST CLOSED

MANY APPEARED TOO LATE TO GET NAMES ON CITY BOOK... Registration of Men is About Two Hundred Less Than Last Year. Confusion Regarding Charter Election and an Indifference on the Part of Some are Blamed for the Shortage... Thirteen hundred and ten voters, men and women, are entitled to vote at the city election Monday, May 5th, according to the registration books, which closed last night. The registration by wards runs as follows: Women Men Total First ward 59 102 161 Second ward 147 227 374 Third ward 146 292 438 Fourth ward 94 118 212 Fifth ward 25 70 95 Grand totals 491 810 1301... The registration of men is much less than it was last year, when the voting strength was about 1100. The decrease is largely due to the fact that voters who registered last year were entitled to vote at the charter election, and many thought it would not be necessary to register again for the coming polling... Several realized too late that they would have to register again, and they hurried to the city hall today, only to be informed by Police Judge Leavitt that the registration books closed last night, and they will not be entitled to ballot on May 5th... Miss Elizabeth Pickett, who resides with her parents in the Tule Lake Basin, is visiting Klamath Falls, the guest of her aunt, Miss Lorinda Sauber... All Are Plowing... H. J. Lester is in the city today from his Lost River ranch. He reports all farmers busy plowing. The ground is now in fine shape, and in every field the work is being rushed. He was accompanied by Mrs. Lester... Paul Keller, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Keller, is kept home from school today on account of illness... T. C. Williams of Merrill is here attending to business matters.

The Last Two Presidents Who Have Directly Addressed Congress

Woodrow Wilson, 1913 John Adams, 1801... Had Thomas Jefferson been an orator, Woodrow Wilson might not have startled the members of congress and interested the country by his personal appearance before the joint session April 8th. President John Adams, following in the footsteps of Washington, the first president, appeared before congress often, and the custom was settled. Little was thought of it... But Jefferson was a very poor public speaker. He knew that he would not make a good appearance in such a role, and he adopted the plan of writing his communications to congress, to be read by proxy clerks. No other president undertook to revive Washington's method after Jefferson during eight years made on other pillars. Four wars have been fought by the United States and civilization has advanced from the stage coach to the aeroplane since the custom, now revived by President Wilson, was forgotten.
