LOITERER SAYS HE WAS CURIOUS

SUSPICIOUS ACTIONS CAUSE POLICE TO ARREST NEWCOMER, FINE HIM, AND ORDER HIM TO LEAVE THE CITY

When Mayor T. F. Nicholas noticed a man loitering around the home of Will Wilson on Oak street Monday night, and endeavoring to look in the window, he decided that the fellow was worth watching, and he kept an eye on the furtive stranger, who stayed near the house until midnight. Last night the man was again noticed near the Wilson home, and he was arrested by Patrolman Greenwood. He gave his name as Arthur Laird, and says he came here a few days ago to work in a local hotel. When questioned as to his motive for staying around the Wilson home two nights in succession, Laird denied that he planned to burglarize, and said he was "just drawn there by curiosity." Laird was fined $25 this morning by Police Judge Leavitt and ordered to leave town.

United Press Service
MEDFORD, April 23.—Sheriff August D. Singler of Jackson county and Lester Jones are dead as a result of a desperate duel between the pair at a lonely cabin last night. During the fight Jones, an 18-year-old desperado, was killed by the officer, but Singler sustained injuries that resulted in his death this morning. Singler went to arrest Jones, and finding him in the cabin commanded him to surrender. Instead, Jones grabbed a gun and commenced firing. Over a dozen shots were fired by the sheriff and outlaw.

MONTENEGRINS CAPTURE CITY LONG BESIEGED

FIGHTING MOST DESPERATE OF MODERN WARFARE

King Nicholas Declines His Countrymen Will Hold Bonaparte Against the Powers, and European Diplomats Begin to Fear a Continental War, Involving Every Nation—Eight Thousand Killed

United Press Service
CETTINJE, April 23.—After the most desperate fighting of modern times, during which 8,000 men were slain, and clubbed rifles, sabers and bayonets were used, the Montenegrin forces entered Scutari this morning.

King Nicholas, commander of the city, personally surrendered his sword to King Nicholas.

Twenty thousand Turks were captured late yesterday afternoon, and last night the final assault was commenced.

This morning the Montenegrins entered the city, and for two hours engaged in the fiercest and bloodiest hand to hand fight before the commandment would surrender.

Knives, swords and bayonets were used, with both armies fighting desperately, and blood poured into the gutters.

It is estimated that 5,000 Turks and 3,000 Montenegrins were slain in the final assault.

"We have merely retaken our own," said King Nicholas, after the capture. "We will hold Scutaria against the powers as courageously as we fought the Turkish hordes."

Diplomats throughout Europe fear that hostilities against Montenegro might bring about a general European war.

Girl Refuses to To be a Duchess

Miss Nancy Leishman, daughter of the American ambassador to Germany, is reported to have wedded the Duke of Croy, 34 years old, who has just come into the family estates in Westphalia. She has been one of the belles of the American colonies wherever diplomatic missions have carried her father over Europe. On March 25 it was announced that the wedding would take place April 11. The family of the duke objected. Then ambassador Leishman denied the engagement, later to admit it. Since this, however, the situation has been surrounded with mystery, and there was no one to say if the marriage had taken place or would take place.

Norman Larson, a former Klamath resident, is here from Grants Pass, attending to business matters.

Charles J. Ferguson returned home last night from a visit in Tucson Springs, Sacramento and San Francisco. He was away ten days, and returns much benefited by his vacation.

Burley Black is Pleased at Getting Off so Easy. "Big Cinder" Will Next be Tried Under the Mann White Slavery Act Over Relations With a White Girl

United Press Service
CHICAGO, April 23.—Jack Johnson, who was brought up for trial today on a charge of diamond smuggling, pleaded nole contendere. Judge Carpenter fined the pugilist $500 on each of the two counts, and confiscated the smuggled jewelry. Johnson seemed pleased with the sentence.

Johnson, under indictment for ten separate offenses, went to trial on the first charge, that he smuggled a $5,000 diamond necklace into America to please his outside wife, Etta Durree, a white woman. At the conclusion of this trial he will, on May 5th, answer to nine charges of violating the Mann white slave act, by transporting an 18-year-old white girl through several states on the vaudeville tours that netted him thousands of dollars.

Harry Parkins, assistant United States attorney, who appeared to prosecute the black pugilist, has a reputation for success in white slave cases. Many "white slavers" today are serving terms in the Fort Leavenworth federal prison through his efforts.

"The Panama Canal" formed the subject for last night's meeting, and under the leadership of Mr. Stewart, many interesting points were brought out. The history of the canal, data in connection with its construction were outlined by Mrs. Stewart.

The advantages to accrue to the United States by the completion of the canal, and especially to the Pacific coast, were recounted by Rolio C. Grombeck. Mr. Stewart told of the acquisition of the Panama strip, and the part played by the "Big 1" in the work.

An interesting feature was a debate as to the attitude of the United States concerning the free trade to the American coastwise shipping. The British point of view was taken by Mr. Stewart and the American point was supported by Edmund M. Chilcote.

INVESTIGATION IS ORDERED BY SECRETARY LANE

President Abel Ady of the Klamath Water Users Association will go to Washington to represent the water users under the Klamath project at the investigation of the reclamation service to be held by Secretary of the Interior Lane.

Project Engineer W. W. Patch will in all probability also attend the meeting in the capital, as the reclamation service desires all the project heads present to defend their attitude. Mr. Patch is out on the project today, but the announcement that Ady will go will no doubt cause him to also make the trip.

The appointment of Ady as representative of the local water users was made at a special meeting of the directors of the Association held this forenoon.

The investigation was ordered by Secretary Lane in order to give full consideration to a number of complaints against the service filed by water users on the different projects. The conference will commence May 1st. The delegates from each project will be given full opportunity to

Milking Question is Solved by Machinery Introduction of Contrivance Here to Do Much Toward Eliminating Handicaps to Dairying

Within a very short time the leading dairy men of Klamath county will be equipped with mechanical milkers. This, it is believed, will do more toward overcoming the objections to the dairy business, and result in the rapid development of Klamath county as one of the great dairy sections of Oregon.

The one great drawback to the dairy business heretofore has been the help question and the difficulty of securing and retaining good milkers. The first mechanical milker to be introduced into Klamath county will be tried out at the Ewell stock farm. Mr. Ewell, who is president of the Klamath County Dairy Association, is one of the most successful of the dairy men of this section, and if the test to be made at his place is successful, it will probably mean that the mechanical milker will be adopted by all of the dairymen throughout the county.

To dairymen and many of the farmers throughout the county who are contemplating engaging in the dairy business, the demonstration of the first machine will be of great interest, as on its success will depend the rapid development of the business.

W. H. Jensen, milking machine expert from the factory of the Sharpless Separator company, has been here for over a week, and has opened headquarters at the Ewell stock farm. He has visited the leading dairymen of the county, and interested them in the Sharpless mechanical milker, which is claimed to be one of the most successful milking machines manufactured. Four of these machines have been shipped here, and the first one is to be installed at the Ewell farm.

As soon as this is in working order another machine will be installed at the Will Adams ranch near Maryhill. Mr. Adams has had a great deal of trouble in securing good milkers, and was becoming discouraged with his efforts. It did not take him long to decide that the mechanical milker was the solution of his problem, and it is proved to be a most successful anticipation. He states that he will increase his herd of dairy cows to sixty.

One of the machines which he installed at the Adams ranch is a try, but it is believed that he will be long before then. It is expected that the rapid development of the business will be of great interest, as on its success will depend the rapid development of the business.
