JAPANESE NOT READY TO SEND PROTEST HERE

BELIEVED TO BE AWAITING THE FINAL ACT

As soon as Governor Johnson signs the Anti-Allen Land Measure, Baron Chinda, it is thought, will file a protest at Washington in behalf of the Chrysanthemum Kingdom. Bryan returned to Washington.

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Japan's protest to the California anti-Allen land law, it is now believed, will not be received in Washington until after the law is enforced. It is believed that Baron Chinda is waiting until Governor Johnson's signature is affixed to the bill.

Before the bill is signed it is probable that President Wilson will send Governor Johnson a lengthy communication, detailing the attitude of the administration.

It is considered certain that Governor Johnson will sign the bill, and that the administration will then take action.

Bryan arrived in Washington this morning, and is in conference with

New Ambassador to United States

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The day the new British ambassador to the United States, Sir Cecil Arthur Spring Rice, reached Washington the senate committee on Inter-oceanic canals voted against the Root bill, which aimed to change title to American coastwise shipping through the Panama canal. That is, the senate took a position diametrically opposed to that of the British government. The most important piece of work he had before him was to convince the United States government that the Hay-Pauncefote

Scotland Yard Men Seek Evidence in Connection With Attempted Dynamiting of Cathedral—Over Five Million Dollars' Loss Entailed Since Universal Franchise Bill Went to Defeat

LONDON, May 8.—The hearings of Miss Kenney, Mrs. Drummond Clayton and other suffragettes in the Bow Street court were resumed today.

Scotland Yard men are working on the St. Paul case. The home office thinks that the women placed bombs in the church.

LONDON, May 8.—After Mrs. Drummond, who fainted from the effects of the hunger strike the suffragettes have been carrying on in the jail, had been removed from the room the trial was adjourned to May 13th. The militants were released on $5,000 bail each.

A bomb was found today in front of a pawnbroker's shop in Tottenham. It is estimated that at least $5,000,000 in damages have been caused by the suffragettes since the government recalled the franchise reform bill at the last session of parliament.

Mrs. Joan Kamb, is Given a Fortune

Mrs. Joan Kamb, a pure type of the Irish lassie, awoke one morning in her home in Washington to learn that there was $15,000 in a Washington bank for her and a deed for a home. "The fairy woman sent it to me," she explained.

Months ago there arrived in Washington a mysterious Miss Suzanne Frochard. She was ill and she needed friends. But seemingly she had no money. That didn't keep Mrs. Kamb from pouring out her sympathy and doing as much as she could. Later Miss Frochard recovered. She said that many years ago—she is now an old woman—she was taken from a convent by Turkish soldiers and sent into the harem of the Sultan of Morocco. After four years she escaped. Her father had died in Tulu, leaving her a good property. In Mexico she increased this by fortunate mining investments.

KLAMATH FALLS MEN RESPOND WITH COIN WHEN FLIGHT OF TIRED MOTHER AND TWO TOTS IS TOLD TO THEM

She wanted a baby buggy—oh, how she wanted it, as she trudged the streets, carrying in her arms an infant less than four months old and leading a cheerful babe not yet two years old.

The weight of the infant in arms was itself fatiguing to the little woman, but added to this was the weight of the other youngster, who constantly tired of walking, and clung to its mother's hand.

And it seemed as though every second-hand store, every furniture store passed, had on display baby buggies—just the kind she needed for her poor, tired, little tot. She tried not to notice them, but it was no use, she could not resist looking at the perambulators, and wishing.

feelings, the little mother's longings became apparent to at least three young ladies. So absolutely necessary did a buggy for the woman's children seem to them that they began to lay deep, dark schemes for purchasing one, and to their cause they enlisted a well known rancher.

It did not take an instant for him to devise the "ways and means." They were all near the business part of the city, and there were many passing by. They were all sympathetic, and, moreover, when the aforesaid rancher told them of the situation, they were generous. In a short time sufficient funds had been raised to purchase the much-desired baby buggy, and the joy of the mother, completely surprised by the gift, knew no bounds.

BREAK IN FALL CREEK LINE IS DISCOVERED FIVE MILES FROM HERE—REPAIR PARTY WORKS ALL DAY ON LINE

Both Newspapers Handicapped and Forced to Resort to Gasoline as a Motive Power—Big Basin and Pollock Bay Mills, Tub and Fall Factory and Other Enterprises Forced to Shut Down Today

At 3 o'clock this afternoon electricians repaired the damage to the high power line, and the current was again turned on in Klamath Falls.

As a result of simultaneous mishaps to the current supply of the California-Oregon Power company last evening, Klamath Falls was in a state of semi-darkness last night, and several manufacturing enterprises are idle today.

Among the concerns either wholly or partly crippled on account of the lack of power are the Pollock Bay Lumber company's sawmill at Shipplington, the Big Basin Lumber company's planning mill, the mill of the Savidge Brothers' Lumber company, the Klamath Tub and Fall company's factory and the plant of the Ewanna Box company. In addition to this several machine shops, garages and motion picture theater houses are disabled.

The Herald late in the forenoon fitted up a gasoline engine, and this power will be used to operate both the linotype and the press. The Northwestern made its appearance, several hours late, after an automobile was pressed into service to furnish motive power for the press.

The bank of the government ditch which furnishes water power to the local plant of the power company washed out last night, and at the same time the high power line carrying power here from Fall Creek, also went out.

In case only one of these mishaps had been suffered, there would have been no inconvenience to the public. The combination, however, impaired the service.

Belle Schreiber, Principal Witness in the Government Suit Against Jack Johnson, Takes Stand

United Press Service
CHICAGO, May 8.—Belle Schreiber, petite, pretty, and very heavily veiled, started her testimony today in the prosecution of Jack Johnson. In an almost childish voice she told of her relations with Johnson. Earlier in the day Charles Sampson testified that Johnson and the Schreiber girl came to his store in October of 1916, and that the negro paid $1,196 for furniture that the girl selected. Other witnesses described the character of the row of flats in which the girl lived while in Chicago.

Tariff Measure Will Be Adopted By House Today

Democratic Leaders Express Themselves as Confident That This Will Result in Reducing the Cost of Living in the United States and Better Business

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The Underwood tariff revision bill, the first of the democratic administration, is expected to pass the house late this afternoon. The opposition of the minority, it is expected, will be very feeble. According to prominent democrats, it will be nearly 8 o'clock tonight before the measure is finally passed. This will be done in three roll calls, they assert. Of the 290 democratic congressmen, less than twelve are opposed to the measure. The republican members of the house, who are against "revision downward," have 129 votes. The fifteen progressive votes are divided.

"As the new tariff bill passes the house today, the democratic party has kept its pledge to the people," said Majority Leader Oscar Underwood, who helped frame the measure, and who introduced it at the opening of the special session. "I am confident that this will bring about a real relief for the people in reducing the cost of living. It should also result in a better adjustment of business here, under more modern methods." The optimistic view taken by Underwood is by no means taken by Congressman Payne of New York, one of the authors of the Payne-Aldrich measure. He predicts dire calamity. The true indictment against the bill is that it aids foreign laborers by throwing open our markets to the products of their toil, and discriminates against the American laborers, who are forced to meet unjust competition and an enormous increase in imports from abroad. As a menace to the present unparalleled prosperity of the country, under which the earnings of the workmen provides more necessities than ever before, the bill seems to be a success. Underwood announced that when the tariff was out of the way the house would take a recess of about three weeks, resuming sessions about June 3d. The house will then immediately take up the consideration of currency reform.

Art Exhibit at the High School Attracts

Collection Consists of Photographs and Hand Colored Reproductions of Over 200 Masterpieces

The third floor of the Klamath county high school, long used as a gymnasium, is this week transferred into an art gallery, containing large reproductions of the world's greatest paintings. The exhibit will be kept here until Monday, and for the benefit of those who cannot visit the school during regular school hours, the high school will be kept open evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock.

The exhibit is the property of Horace K. Turner Associates, Inc., and was loaned to the high school by that concern. It consists of two hundred pictures, including beautiful large reproductions of the standard art masterpieces of the world, both in painting and sculpture, in addition to nature's scenery. The pictures are faithful reproductions. There are many color reproductions, which are exact replicas of their famous originals, made with the aid of color photography. The monochrome reproductions are a triumph of the photographer's art.

The pictures are arranged according to the artists, and as is the case in any art gallery, they are numbered, and history and title are given in a catalog. The collection is splendidly arranged for the best lighting effect.

The exhibit is for the purpose of creating a love of the beautiful. No charge is made, and all are invited to attend.

Mothers' Day Will be Celebrated Here

An observance of Mothers' Day is to be a part of the services at the First Presbyterian church Sunday. Members of the Grand Army of the Republic and the Women's Relief Corps have accepted invitations and will attend in a body, and there will be a large number of other visitors present.
