STEERS, HOGS, MUTTON FIRMER

PORTLAND'S CATTLE SUPPLY LIMITED LAST WEEK, RESULTING IN GOOD PRICES FOR STOCKMEN

Portland, May 13.—Receipts for last week were: Cattle, 1,783; calves, 22; hogs, 2,432; sheep, 4,555; horses, 2.

A higher steer market has marked the week's business in the cattle division. Monday showed a big run, and bidding was keen, and Idaho and Montana stuff brought $8.40 to $8.50 Thursday, with several loads from Stanfield and Echo going at $4.75 off the cars. The cattle supply throughout the country is limited, and a steady market is looked for. There was a finer butcher trade, but demand exceeded the supply of heifers, bulls and calves, so cows sold up to $7.40, and heifers $7.75, and bulls $6.90 and $6.25, showing the strength of the market.

Hogs continue strong, while eastern markets are lower. Demand is so keen that buyers continue to pay $9.05 for the best light hogs. This firmness may not last long, but exists for the week's close.

A better sheep house prevailed. Plenty of mutton and lambs to supply the trade, with strictly prime wool wethers bringing $7.50 to $7.75, ewes at $6.50 to $6.75, and spring lambs $8.75 the early part of the week, but quoted lower toward the close of the week's business.

DICKETVILLE DOINGS

(Gleaned from Dicketville Clarion by the Bend Bulletin)

A nerve specialist is thinking of settling in Dicketville, but he will starve to death if he does. There is nothing the matter with the nerve of anybody in this town that we know of.

T. Egbert Peavey has got a new plug hat which folds up like the bellows at Jed Frink's blacksmith shop. For everyday use he wears it abet, but opens it up to the last notch, like a cab driver for polite social functions. He says it is an opy hat, but nobody around here has heard it play a tune yet. I guess T. Egbert got stung on the opy part of it.

Old Man Purdy has got a new cork tip on his wooden leg, and is now one of the best pool players in our midst. William Tibbitts has got a new codfish out in front of his grocery store. Hank Tumms' dog stole the last one, and ran off with it down the road. More than half of it was spoiled for sale before being recaptured.

You may find it in the West Columbia.

PORTLAND FINDS NO RECALL LAW

SURVEY OF THE STATUTES SHOW THAT THERE ARE SEVERAL MATTERS TO BE DONE IN CONNECTION WITH LEGISLATION

Portland, May 13.—There is absolutely no direct legislation providing for the recall of city officials in this city according to L. M. Lepper, who Saturday filed an ordinance with city Auditor Barbur to be presented to the City Council at the next meeting, providing for the recall. This ordinance has the endorsement of the East Side Business Men's Club, of which Lepper is a member.

"There is a general state law providing for the initiative and referendum into operation as applied to morning. "In municipalities ordinances have to be passed putting this law into effect and prescribing the manner in which it shall be done.

In Portland an ordinance has been passed to put the initiative and referendum into operation as applied to municipal legislation, but no steps ever have been taken to enact an ordinance making the recall operative."

The ordinance provides that whenever it is desired to recall any city official a petition signed by 20 per cent of all of the voters of the city must be filed with the city auditor. The official designated in the petition is then given five days in which to resign, but in case he refuses, a recall election must be held in not less than 15 or more than 30 days after the filing of the petition.

According to Lepper's disclosure he recall of J. T. Ellis, Councilman of the Tenth Ward two years ago, and the election of James Maguire as his successor were illegal.

How Your Contribution to Sufferers of Recent Floods Was Distributed

Columbus, Ohio, May 12.—What became of the dollar you gave toward the fund to aid the 30,000 families rendered homeless by the recent middle western floods?

No doubt several hundred thousand and contributors from 25 cents to $25 have asked themselves the question a dozen times. It was answered today by Ernest F. Bicknell, national director of the Red Cross Society, through the United Press. The dollar given by "John Smith" of Austin, Texas, and the 50 cents given by "Susie Jones" of Biddeford, Maine, may have paid for one of the razors which restocked the barber shop of a deserving tenor artist in Ohio; or perhaps the half dollar donated by "Sam Jones" of Portland, Oregon, added to the mite given by "Jane Doe", of New York, helped pay for the washing machine given the laundress in Indiana who would, "accept charity", but merely wanted to replace the lost machine with which she earned her living. Director Bicknell was urged by a United Press representative to tell in detail just how the money for the flood sufferers was spent, and today for the first time, he gave the answer in the following article:

- ♦ (Written for the United Press.)
- ♦ By Ernest F. Bicknell
- ♦ WHAT THE RED CROSS DID FOR FLOOD SUFFERERS
- ♦ Distributed hundreds of sewing machines and wagons.
- ♦ Paid for repairs to damaged houses.
- ♦ Bought scores of railroad tickets.
- ♦ Paid hospital bills for hundreds.
- ♦ Temporarily paid rents for thousands.
- ♦ Completely restocked small dealer in groceries.
- ♦ Restocked several barber shops and merchandise stores.
- ♦ Gave a laundress a washing machine.
- ♦ Re-established a deserving boarding house keeper.
- ♦ Furnished aged German cabinet maker tools to resume his work.
- ♦ Bought food, clothing and medicine for thousands.

Relief operations following a great disaster fall naturally into two periods. First, there is the period of emergency relief when every possible resource must be strained to save life and prevent suffering by a swift provision of shelter and clothing. Sufferers are dealt with in the mass. The one question is,

Man Who Killed Two Policeman

Gang war has begun again in New York, and this time and for the first time in many years, one of the gunmen has killed a policeman. Oreste Scialentano, a miserable little Sicilian, a consumptive and an opium fiend, shot an enemy, John Litzo, who threatened to kill him, and, in getting away from the scene, killed two policemen. Now he is sought in every part of the United States. It is one of those cases in which policemen of every city will take special interest, so there is a probability that the murderer will be found.

These gangsters have so little courage that they seldom go on a gunning expedition till they are filled up with opium. By the time they have smoked six pills they have become so desperate that they will kill policemen or anyone else when it is necessary for their safety. Sober, they cringe when a policeman comes in sight.

MUNICIPAL WATER TROUGH IS NEXT

IN TURNING DOWN APPLICATION OF CREAMERY FOR TROUGH MEMBERS OF THE COUNCIL COMMISERATE DOUBT

Watering troughs, owned, installed and operated by the city, is to be the latest example of municipal ownership of public utilities in Klamath Falls, if the present plans of the members of the city council are carried out. The subject occasioned much comment at last night's meeting of the board.

The hat was thrown into the ring when the Klamath Falls Creamery company asked permission to put a watering trough on Seventh street, at their building. The creamery is visited by hundreds of farmers every week, and the trough would be a great convenience to these farmers, who complain that they have no place to water their steeds in Klamath Falls.

The matter was turned down at the request of some of the councilmen, who stated that they had been continually asked to grant permits to blacksmith shops and other concerns for troughs. There was no question in the minds of the city fathers, though, that there should be suitable watering troughs in different parts of the city to relieve the thirst of the horses from the outlying farms, and this matter will undoubtedly be taken up at an early meeting of the board.
