WINEMA TO BE EXCURSION BOAT

CAPTAIN TOTTEN PLANS REGU-LAR SUNDAY TRIPS TO ROCKY POINT AND OTHER UPPER LAKE POINTS

(Special Correspondence) SHIPPINGTON, May 23.—The steamer Winema is to run as an excursion steamer again this summer.
Announcement to this effect has been made by John Totten, who says he will soon commence Sunday runs on the Upper Lake.
Rocky Point will be visited by the boat. A stop of several hours will be made at that point and at Harriman Island, to permit the excursionists to hold picnics.

The steamer Hooligan is employed in towing log rafts for the Long Lake Lumber company. It is doing good work.

The Modoc is towing for the Algonia Lumber company. The Eagle is still in the sand trade.

Billie Harland of Shippington is building an addition to his already spacious residence.

Notwithstanding the fact that Buena Vista addition is within the corporate limits of Klamath Falls, many of the citizens in and about Shippington are fencing their property as a protection from outside stock.

Again we sound the alarm about the chucks and mudholes in that devil's racetrack called a road from Klamath Falls to Shippington. Somebody should get a move on soon, for now is the time to work roads.

What's the Matter With the Old Watch?

It's not getting any younger, you know, and once in a while it needs a rest and overhauling. Railroad watches are cleaned and overhauled once a year to insure accurate timekeeping. Why not bring yours in and let us give it the attention that is necessary for good time keeping.

GOT EDUCATION; NOW GETS GIRL

EIGHTEEN-YEAR-OLD ESKIMAUX
LEAVES FOR POLAR REGIONS
AFTER THREE YEARS OF HARD STUDY

United Press Service.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 23.—That little naked fellow, who began his troublesome operations way back in Garden of Eden days, can sure work wonders sometimes. One of his worstest works had its next-to-last chapter ending today, when Paul Pat-kotak, an 18-year-old Eskimauz, sailed for Point Barrow, the Arctic extremity of Alaska, to marry Miss Alice Ahlook, a native teacher in the government school there.

Three years ago Paul peeked through his body and head-encircling fur garments at Alice, and asked her to marry him. "Go get an education," answered the haughty Eskimauz enchantress. On the next boat the 15-year-old boy left for Seattle. He came here wearing native furs and unable to speak English. In the three years he's been here he learned the language, got a pretty fair start in bookkeeping, and picked up enough shorthand to hold him a job most anywhere.

The Housefly a Disease Carrier

Through a strenuous campaign carried on by the newspapers and other public agents, the housefly is becoming to be looked upon as something else than a harmless insect.
"Swat the Fly" clubs were organized in every section last year, and records were kept of the number of these scavengers that were killed by the various members. Dr. Howard of the bureau of entomology says that killing the fly will not produce the desired result unless we can clean out the breeding places. Here are some paragraphs of his article in the Medical Record:

In the luxuriant climate of the national capital 12 generations of flies are hatched in a single summer. A single over-wintering mother will start, say about April 15, with an average brood of 120.

If all of these eggs should hatch, and, in their turn, reproduce in the like ratio, the end of the fly season would see the progeny of that one mother fly making up a tidy genealogical tree of some 1,996,181,249, 511,720,000,000,000,000 branches, twigs, and budlets.

And, as each female usually lays four batches of eggs, their unchecked
