Senators Pen- rose and Smoot

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Senators Reed Smoot of Utah and Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania have become the leaders in the fight of the Republicans against the Underwood tariff bill now before the upper chamber. In the furtherance of this both have made charges against prominent Democrats of the same body. Penrose openly on the floor the other day likened Senator F. M.
Simmons of North Carolina, chairman of the finance committee, and as such in command of the Democratic tariff fight at present, to Senator Gorman of Maryland, held up to scorn in the second Cleveland administration as the man who stuck the dagger into the Wilson tariff bill.
This is what Penrose said of Sim-

CRIMINAL MATTERS BEFORE COUNTY JUDGE

MEDFORD, May 30.—District Attorney Kelly has decided hereafter to bring all criminal matters triable before justice of the peace and all preliminary examinations before County Judge Tom Velle. While this policy has never been adopted in Jackson county, the district attorney and county judge are going Resigns on Silver Anniversary

ST. LOUIS, May 30.—With a record of having baptized all the youngsters of the generation of members of the church in the last 25 years, the Rev.
Father D. S. Phelan, pastor of the Western Watchman, today resigned his pastorate of the Ferguson Catholic church. Today was the silver anniversary of his connection with the church as its pastor.

"Stories are going around that the various sub-committees of the senate committee on finance are leading willing ears to suggestions raising the house rates. It is intimated that the senator from North Carolina—Mr. Simmons—may repeat the performance of the late Senator Gorman."

Senator Smoot, answering a statement of Senator Charles S. Thomas, the new representative of Colorado, that bankers brought on the panic of 1893 to discredit the Wilson tariff act, said the Colorado man had resurrected an "ancient fable"; the same being a circular supposed to have been sent by the American Bankers' association, asking banks to sell loans in 1893.

China's President Said to be Prisoner

The new president of China is declared by the London Daily Telegraph's Peking correspondent to be virtually a prisoner within the city.

Although he commands 150,000 troops, and foreign opinion wrongly believes him to be master of the situation, Yuan Shi Kai is virtually a prisoner in the Forbidden City, not daring to move, owing to terrorist threats. He must now realize that China must be governed constitutionally. Unless he does as he will sign his own death warrant.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Three gowns in a tub
And what do you think they be A linen, a crepon A pailcock with lace on Wash 'em out, clean all three

NEW YORK, May 30.—The best line of summer fashions is the wash line. You are quite safe in clothing your faith to the divers laundry loving fabrics that now reveal their unshrinkable and fadeless charms on smart shop counters.

They all rise triumphant as Venus from the suds and defy even the amateur wash artist to rub her worst.
Time was when cotton print, a calico or a seersucker made up of the despised wash adjunct to milady's wardrobe and was doctored only for morning housework wear. Now you may find a wash counterpart for almost every fabric of the loom. Even the exquisite velvet broche of the winter is aped amazingly by the brocade cotton sponge. The pompadour cotton voiles and French crepes are adorable and floral bordered organdies, silk mulls and batistes are sheer delights.

Charming are the embroidered cotton crepes and voiles on which tiny nosegays are scattered in bas-relief. These are found only in the more expensive imported materials whose unshrinkable propensities will not invariably on your purse. Home grown printed products can be utilized with quite as stunning results, however. Only a close inspection will reveal the difference between printed domestic bouquets and the imported embossed flora.

What's the use of fast colors if they don't run? The fadeless dyes of the Futurist sponge, ratine and wash silks will easily win in a washing. It is bound to be a highly colored summer and this ought to bring cheer to the damsel whose sunburned countenance has heretofore added the only vivid color note to her warm weather attire. The erstwhile virgin whiteness of the lace lingerie gowns are lived by bright hued silken girdles and many are embroidered in a Bulgaria.

Quite the newest and smartest effect is the combination of a very thin material and a very heavy one. For example, a voile trimmed in a contrasting tone of ratine. Some of the new fabrics come woven in such combinations, particularly the fine French crepes striped or bordered with ratine.

All shades of blue from peacock to heavenly are the favorite tones for your summer frocks. What could be cooler, or more effective when the mercury begins to rise than a soft old blue crepon girded with a silken sash of Hunter's green, and flat collars and cuffs of blue eyeletted Madeira embroidery finishing the V shaped neck and elbow sleeves.

Linen come in perfect shades this summer but for the separate skirt (and no hot weather outfit should be shy one) it were wiser to stick to the white or natural colored linen.
These are due to live on and last you sundry summers, but the way bright hues are being worked overtime presages a sharp drawing of the color line ere another summer dawns.

Lace spells the last word for summer evening gowns. With baby waists, the lace flaring an underbill of white chambray or one of pastel pink or blue, they are youthful, fairly like but not for you if you have a woman's weight over two hundred pounds. If you hoist avelte lace proportions and one of these lace gowns, too, it will be woe to the bachelor beau who finds you on a piazza and a moonlight night. His heart is sure to be snared in Chantrelly mesh or pierced with a Van Dyke point.

Madame La Mode knows when her nose needs attention (material attention of course). The moonbeams of the moment, or in other words the "banky" that is right up to snuff must have its bit of color as well as the rest of the costume. Either the narrow hemstitched edge is of a pastel tint or cross bars of color brighten up the entire bit of linen. Can-dling little pink rose buds and aureforget-me-nots embroidered sheer little handkerchiefs, a square of posy for your nosey

The very newest handkerchief shows a monogram bold of color design. One in lavender and green with a violet border is sure to win by a nose. Dainty ones with tiny head rolled hems cross stitched in color, with an initial to match are chic enough for the most fastidious nasal appendage and not to be sniffed at.

COMING PLAY IN INTENSELY

DRAMA OF THE GREAT NORTH WHAT IS THE FLOT OF THE WOLF? TO BE STAGED BY LOCAL TALENT

When old Andrew McDonald, who had ill treated his pretty Swedish girl wife until she ran away with a Frenchman, and died, took his daughter, Hilda, up into the great fastness of the Canadian northwest, where she could only see the Indians and settlers, and where he was going to raise her, as he said, according to the laws of God—and mine? What did he realize that the steady march of progress would soon sweep him back into the pale of civilization?

Even when Wm. McDonald, an American capitalist and New York captain, came to the up into the northern region of the great country, arrived with the ant, George Hamilton, and the ing party, did it dawn upon him the party spelled danger? He as he had experienced in his with his pretty girl wife.

Then, when McDonald, a
