TO GIVE GERMAN JEWS A SHOW TOO

(By Karl Von Weizsaeck)
(Berlin Correspondent of the U. P.)
BERLIN, MAY 31.—With "Equal ability and capacity, equal opportunities and privileges" for a motto, the "Berliner Tageblatt," one of the largest and most influential liberal papers in Germany, has opened a trenchant campaign and agitation for the right and privilege and opportunity for Jews to become officers in the German army. Numerous other liberal papers have joined in what promises to become the most vigorous agitation of the kind yet attempted.

In theory, the Jews of Germany have equal opportunities with the Christian elements in becoming officers in the army. In practice they are virtually debarred, except from serving in the ranks. There is no legal obstacle but there is the anti-semitic feeling and exclusiveness of the officers' corps which is practically impossible for a Jew to overcome.

The "Tageblatt" and other papers have seized upon the present opportunity while the government's demand for an increase of 136,000 men in the army and "war tax" bill for $262,000,000 is before the Reichstag, as a favorite moment to impress the Reichstag, the government and the public, with the justice of the demand for equal rights privileges and opportunity in the army for Jews and Gentiles alike. It is pointed out that in the government's call for "sacrificial willingness" for the good of the Fatherland to increase the army and strengthen the nation's defenses, Jews are among those who will have to make the biggest "sacrifices" in the form of taxes. It is contended that Jews not only "may" but "must" serve in the army—in the ranks—and in case of war, will give their blood and life for their country the same as those of other religious faiths. It is argued that the Jews in Germany are among its best educated and most intelligent people. They hold high places in almost every walk of life—in the worlds of finance, commerce, business, education, music, medicine, law, science and literature. It is asked, "then why not in the army and navy?"

The "why not" lies in the hands of the different officers' corps. They have the say largely as to who shall join their corps. And even the Kaiser, who numbers Jews among his best and most intimate friends, would not care to attempt to break down the traditional anti-semitic spirit that prevails there. This sentiment among German officers may or may not be correctly expressed by Lieutenant General von Liebert, a member of the Imperial staff, in his recent speech in the Reichstag when touching upon the aspirations of Jews for commissions in the army, said "The Turkish army has shown what may happen to an officers' corps when alien elements are introduced."

This brought from the "Tageblatt" what is almost an unprecedented attack by a newspaper in Germany upon an officer of the army. The paper took the severest exception to the characterization of German Jews as "alien elements". It asked of what use were army increases and strengthening of the nation's defenses when the highest and most responsible places in the army are delivered over to men so lacking in intelligence. It declared that no feeling of security could be created despite all new military increases, when in the hour of danger, "one of so limited intelligence and unfair spirit should be trusted with a decisive role." The paper charges that it was due to Liebert's incapacity when governor of German East Africa from 1897 to 1901 that eleven uprisings took place there.

The row between Baron Colonel von Soden, commander of one of the guard regiments at Potsdam and aide-de-camp to the Kaiser, and a Jewish merchant, in a suburban train recently, is also being made use of as showing the feeling of army officers toward civilians in general and Jews in particular. Baron Soden occupied a first class compartment by himself. Owing to an accident to another train the passengers of which had to be taken on, a Jewish merchant and his family were placed in Soden's compartment. The remonstrance of the Kaiser's aide-de-camp brought on a wordy dispute with the merchant and as Soden left the compartment at the station he is alleged to have said "Schweinehai!" (hogs). The merchant sued but the court dismissed his charges.

In many quarters it is questioned whether the press campaign will have any other effect than to intensify and fan the old anti-semitic spirit which has been on the wane in Germany for some time, except in the army.

ITALY GOES IN FOR DIRIGIBLES

AFTER EXPERIENCES IN ITALIAN-TURKISH WAR, GOVERNMENT IS CONVINCED THIS TYPE BEATS AEROPLANE

ROME, MAY 31.—The Italian government today decided upon the construction during the coming year of thirteen new dirigibles, of which ten will be for the use of the army and three for the use of the navy. The superiority of the dirigible over the aeroplane for actual war purposes, as demonstrated during Italy's war with Turkey in Tripoli, is responsible for the present increase.

GETTING GRAY? USE SAGE TEA TO RESTORE NATURAL COLOR TO HAIR

Ways Sage and Sulphur Darkens the Hair Beautifully and Stops Dandruff

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, says a well known local pharmacist. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and even today this simple preparation has no equal. Millions of women and men, too, who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive use only Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Nowadays we are not bothered with the task of gathering the sage leaves and the messy mixing at home. Simply ask at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of the ready to use preparation called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Customers like this best because it darkens so naturally; so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it contains ingredients which take off dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. No, it isn't a dye, or even like it. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two it is restored to its natural color.

What delights the ladies with "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" is that besides beautifully darkening the hair they say it brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

As a means for keeping people good by fear of the penalty, capital punishment has ever been a failure. It is less than a hundred years ago since sheep stealing was more prevalent in those days than it is today.

And then we should not forget: Capital punishment is already abolished except when the murderer happens to be from the ranks of the working class. Can you, dear reader, remember one case where a murderer was put to death while he had plenty of cash to fight his case? Let us suppose that a man had committed a murder in this city, and that next day it developed that this man had fallen heir to ten million dollars—do you think you could find one man or woman who would bet ten dollars with you that that man would ever hang?

Some day we may know for sure that all crimes are diseases, and that the breeding germs are to be found in society as organized today. We may know for sure that when men have free access to the means of wealth production—when want and the fear of want shall have been banished from the earth—society will no longer need prisons and scaffolds.

But, while this new order is developing within the old, we should work to abolish the gruesome and degenerating practice—hanging men by the neck until dead. It will be abolished. The only question is, shall we lead or shall we follow?

Good Blood Means Good Health

A clear, healthy skin, full of life and color, reflecting perfect health and energy, has long been known to be a business and social asset.

If you are not the fortunate possessor of all the above—if you are suffering from skin eruptions of any description, it means that the blood is weak.

WHEN IT BECOMES IMPROVED—THIN AND WATERY—IT CANNOT SUPPLY PROPER NUTRIMENT, AND THE BODY TISSUES BECOME DISKINED.

This condition is every ready to manifest itself, and should be checked and treatment started with the first appearance of blood disorder.

In our estimation Nyal's Hot Springs Blood Remedy is the one best treatment. It gets at the root of the trouble, cleanses the blood impurities, increases the circulation, produces blood that is rich in nourishment—blood that is rich in nourishment—blood that will build up broken-down tissues.
