Opposition To Policies of the County Judge Interred Under an Avalanche of Worden Votes

"IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE," SAYS SAMMY

PROFIT, THOUGH, IS NOT FOR THE ADVERTISER

According to sworn affidavit of the Northwestern's Publisher, City Has Been Charged More than the Paper's Regular Rate per Line for Advertising Matter—Broad Street Bond Notice Cost City Over $100

It cost the city of Klamath Falls $114.28 to advertise for bids for the sale of bonds for the improvement of broad street. A bill for this amount by the Klamath Falls Northwestern was allowed by the council last evening. The charge for the publication was at the rate of 8 cents per line for the first insertion and 5 cents for each succeeding insertion.

At the same meeting the Northwestern submitted a bid for the official printing at the rate of 5 cents per line. With this bid was submitted the statement that "This is the regular rate for legal advertising in the Klamath Falls Northwestern." This being true, then the city was charged a higher rate than is usually charged for legal advertising.

The bid of the Herald Publishing company was submitted for publishing the legal notices of the city at a rate of 5 cents per line for first insertion, and 2 1/2 cents for each succeeding insertion. The publication of the broad street improvement bonds notice in the Herald would have cost $119, or have meant a saving to the taxpayers of the city of $61.18 on just one notice.

Although it would have meant a saving of at least $1,000 a year to the city by accepting the Herald bid, certain members of the council would rather squander the city's money than let the Herald get the printing. Rather than take a chance of putting it to a vote they managed to have all bids rejected, although no satisfactory result.

WYOMING AND COLORADO CIVIL WAR VETERANS BELIEVE THAT THEY ARE ENTITLED TO MORE SUPPORT

United Press Service
DENVER, Colo., June 2.—Increased pensions for all veterans of the Civil War was the big topic before the executive committee of the Colorado and Wyoming divisions of the Grand Army of the Republic today. The reunion, which started yesterday, is to continue through Friday. Four hundred veterans, the smallest number yet to assemble in annual reunion, are in attendance. It is expected that the action looking to increase of pensions for the old soldiers will take the form of a memorial to be circulated throughout the country, and to be presented to congress when it meets next winter.

ADY SAYS LANE IS THE PROPER MAN FOR PLACE

PRESIDENT OF WATER USERS ASSOCIATION BACK

Returning Delegate to Washington Conference Says Placing the Control of the Reclamation Service in the Hands of a Committee Leaves Newell Shorn of His Power—Hopson to Be Here for Meeting

"The action of Secretary of the Interior Lane in placing the direction of the reclamation service in the hands of a committee of five men, instead of leaving it in the hands of an individual, is one of the best moves that has been made for the water users under all the projects," said Abel Ady, president of the Klamath Water Users Association, who returned Sunday from Washington, where he attended the investigation of charges against the reclamation service conducted by Secretary Lane.

The Klamath man took a prominent part in the investigation. He was requested to act in an advisory capacity by the water users of nearly every project.

"The chief complaint from all the projects was against Director Newell's methods," continued Ady, "and this same complaint from every source naturally caused Mr. Lane to make some investigation. This resulted in the formation of a commission of competent men. Newell is chairman of this committee, but he is only one-fifth of the entire body.

"Secretary Lane is the ideal man to head the department of the interior. He impressed everybody at the hearings in this respect. He gave close attention to every speaker, on several occasions pinned them down to facts, and was alert at all times. There is no doubt but what the reclamation service will be greatly benefited by Lane, who, through the investigation, has a clear insight into the conditions throughout the projects, and is in a manner to make adjustments where necessary.

"I will make a full report on the investigation at the annual meeting of the Water Users Association Friday afternoon," concluded Ady. "At that time E. G. Hopson, supervising engineer for the service, will also be in attendance, and a number of matters of importance to the water users will be discussed."

RAISE TROUT FOR MARKETS

ASHLAND MAN IS HERE LOOKING FOR SUITABLE SITE FOR A PRIVATE FISH HATCHERY—ONE IN NIGHT

A new industry, that of providing Rainbow and Dolly Varden trout and other game fish for the edification of California and Oregon people at their tables when game fish are scarce, is to be added to Klamath county's list of resources. Charles Hosley, a well known resident of Ashland, is responsible for the move.

Mr. Hosley, who is the father of E. L. Hosley of Merrill, intends to secure a tract of several acres, with proper water for trout, and take up private fish culture. He has orders from the leading cafes in San Francisco for all the trout they can handle, and in his opinion, there will be a poster, dodger, or other advertising matter.

England's King is 48 Years of Age Today

Military Honors, Demonstrations in Cities, and Telegrams From all Over World Mark Occasion

LONDON, June 2.—King George today celebrated his forty-eighth birthday, and in honor of the event salutes were fired and flags hoisted at every naval and military station throughout the British empire. At every garrison town in every British possession military parades were held, the most important being that in London, where on the spacious Horse Guards parade grounds at St. James' Park, the king reviewed his Guards and conducted the picturesque and impressive ceremony known as "trooping of the colors."

Surrounded by his field marshals, generals, the headquarter's staff and foreign military attaches of all embassies and legations in full dress uniform, King George rode to the parade ground from Buckingham Palace to the accompaniment of enthusiastic cheers from the vast throngs which lined the streets. The king wore the uniform of colonel-in-chief of the Guards, and as usual looked decidedly uncomfortable in the high bearskin head dress affected by that regiment. The Duke of Connaught, who rode beside him, wore the uniform of the COLORADO SPRINGS, June 2.—"My brother's action in selling his serum for the cure of tuberculosis is a gross injustice to mankind."

This statement was made today by Dr. A. H. C. Friedmann, who returned from a trip East to see the Friedmann experiments.

"No ethical physician will use this remedy under the existing conditions. He claims he has found and cultivated a bacillus which shows eminent curative properties, but the results attained so far in America do not correspond with his assertions."

WORDEN IS THE RECIPIENT OF A TREMENDOUS OVATION IN THE CITY

Successfully Sustained County Official is Carried Through the Streets in the Midst of a Long Procession, Headed by a Brass Band, and Including Nearly Every Man in Klamath Falls

The progressive policy of the present county court has the endorsement of the people.

This was indicated at Monday's recall election, when by a vote of 2,256 to 951, the voters of Klamath county by their ballots endorsed the progressive policy by electing County Judge Will S. Worden over Frank Ira White, the candidate of the recall committee.

It can't be termed a landslide—it is more in the nature of an inundation. In only two precincts did the recall faction lead, while in every other precinct Worden led by heavy odds.

The vote given Judge Worden is the largest ever polled in Klamath county. Instead of being a recall election, it turned out to be merely a testimonial on the part of Klamath county's citizenship for the policies in permanent road building, court house construction and other progressive matters of vital public interest.

It was not a choice between Worden and White, both of whom have long been respected citizens of Klamath Falls; it was a question of whether or not the improvement work started throughout the county should be continued, and the voters have decreed that it shall, despite the fact that permanent work costs more in the first place than does temporary, makeshift methods. It was merely progress against inertia, and the former won by overwhelming odds.

A complete return from the various precincts follows:

This was the first election that Klamath county women participated in, and they were out in force at every polling place. The female vote was a heavy factor in the election, and the result shows that the fair sex of Klamath county are healthy in opinion.

Can't Spit On Sidewalks or Throw Handbills on Street

New Nuisance Order, Sweeping in Effect, Adopted at Last Night's Meeting of the City Council. Provides for Sanitary Methods in Markets

After this, when residents of Klamath Falls finish the masticatory operations connected with the consumption of an orange or banana, or even a peanut, and they start to throw the peel, shell, or whatever name the case bears, into the street—they won't, unless they wish to pay a fine. Instead, if no garbage can is nigh, they will carefully deposit the peels in their own pocket, or, better still, if the opportunity affords, into somebody else's pocket.

The reason for the carefulness is a new nuisance order passed by the council last night. This prohibits spitting on sidewalks, scattering of handbills on the streets, regulating the display of foodstuffs, etc., as set forth in the title of the measure, which follows:

"An ordinance declaring what shall constitute nuisances, providing for the abatement thereof, fixing the punishment for creating or maintaining nuisances; regulating the disposition of ashes, rubbish and refuse, and providing the punishment for depositing refuse and other matter in the streets, alleys or vacant lots, or the maintenance of dangerous buildings, and regulating the construction and use of buildings for stables and dairies; regulating and prohibiting the display and disposition of advertisements and posters; regulating the display of eatables, fruits, meat and fish by vendors thereof; providing for the filling in and removal of unused privies and toilets, and for the installation of toilets connected with sewers, within certain districts, and regulating the storage and sale of explosives, and providing for the punishment for infractions of the ordinance and repealing ordinances numbered 123, 132 and 135."

Some of the provisions follow: "It shall be unlawful for any person to deposit and spit human excrement, cigar or cigarette, peeling or rind of any orange, banana or other fruit, in or upon any public or hired conveyance, public building, church, theater, public hall, postoffice, or on any sidewalk within the city of Klamath Falls.

"It shall be unlawful to keep any meat, vegetables, fruit or other prepared food stuffs in an open receptacle less than two feet above the floor. It shall be unlawful to keep smoked fish, cheese, cooked meats, figs, dates, dried fruits, olives, sauerkraut, mince-meat, lard, butter, buttermilk, candy, crackers, cakes, bread, or any prepared food, exposed for sale, uncovered. Such covering to be of such character as will exclude dust and flies. All fruits, vegetables, meat and other foods kept, or sold, or offered for sale, shall be kept in receptacles free from decayed matter of all kinds.

"It shall be unlawful for any person to throw into or leave in or upon, or cause to be thrown or left in or upon any street or sidewalk any bill, poster, dodger, or other advertising matter."
