"PRISONER OF ZENDA" COMING

FIVE REEL FILM MASTERPIECE
WILL BE SHOWN AT THE STAR
NEXT WEEK—HERALDED AS GREATEST EVER

The Star theater again comes to the front with what is heralded as one of the greatest picture ever filmed. The film begins Tuesday and shows two days.
No such cast ever showed its varied skill and power before as that assembled by Daniel Frohman for his silent dramatization of "The Prisoner of Zenda." Anthony Hope's famous novel.

Of Mr. Hackett's work in the leading role, it is said by those who have seen it to be difficult to speak with becoming praise. He knew he was acting for posterity and he acted with an enthusiasm born of a great and sincere love for his task. Superbly fitted for the part by generous nature, he gives an ideal portrayal of the difficult role of King Rudolf and plain Mr. Rassendyl.

Though it is his first attempt on the silent stage, he is in thorough accord with the camera, and the mind that directed the camera from the first turn to the last.

The love of honor and justice, the English readiness for sport and perilous adventure, the absorbing devotion of a true man to a true woman, the turmoil and intrigue in the mythical kingdom, the loyalty of faithful retainers—all the qualities that account for the response of the popular heart to the appeal in Hope's novel, are found in convincing realism on the screen.

"The Prisoner of Zenda" has another mission than the mere making of money. It merits particular praise because it is an appeal to the finer feelings, and the better taste. The management of the Majestic Theatre of Portland paid $1000 to exhibit this film. They positively assert that it is the finest film ever produced.

Let it be made plain that the new standard applies to this production from every angle. In the matter of interior stage settings it would be difficult to imagine anything finer and more painstakingly finished. Everything spells perfection, the scenes of the coronation, the appeals to the populace in the streets of Strelsan by Black Michael and the pseudo-king, the procession to the hall of state, no single detail has been omitted.

COURT TO GET OUT ALMANAC

JACKSON COUNTY OFFICIALS PREPARE TO PUBLISH PUBLICITY WORK ON THE ORDER OF OREGON ALMANAC

MEDFORD, June 7.—A Jackson county pamphlet, along lines of the "Oregon Almanac," published by the state immigration society, will be issued in conjunction with the Southern Pacific railroad, to advertise the resources and possibilities of Jackson county. At its regular monthly meeting the court decided to issue 50,000 such booklets.

Hot air and fancy pictures will be eliminated from the pamphlet, which will be devoted to a plain, unvarnished account of Jackson county, its various localities, its resources and possibilities.

Diagrams and maps necessary to illustrate, tables of statistics and facts of all kinds, with special articles by experts, will feature the booklet, which it is estimated will contain 100 pages.

Each locality will be written up and the co-operation of the various commercial clubs and other civic and local organizations is requested.

LAKEVIEW WILL CLEAN THE TOWN

JUNE 18, 19 AND 20 ARE DESIGNATED BY LADIES' CIVIC SOCIETY AND THE AUTHORITIES OF THAT CITY

LAKEVIEW, June 7.—The Ladies' Civic Improvement League, acting in conjunction with the city authorities have decided upon the 18th, 19th and 20th of this month as "clean-up days."

The ladies have consented to take active charge of the work and the council has agreed to furnish whatever teams and other paraphernalia that may prove to be necessary.

Will C. Dalton and wife, who have a fine ranch on Tule Lake, are county seat visitors.

MAY ALSO FORM SPORTSMENS CLUB

GAME LEGISLATION AND GAME PROTECTION WILL BE DISCUSSED IN FULL AT BANQUET FOR L. ALVA LEWIS

Sportsmen of Klamath county are much interested in the banquet to be tendered L. Alva Lewis, agent of the biological survey of the United States department of agriculture, at the Hotel Hall Grill Monday evening. It will be largely attended.

Mr. Lewis was formerly game warden for this district. He is here at present in connection with the changing of the boundaries of the Lower Klamath Lake Bird Preserve, to allow local sportsmen to shoot on the lower river, which is the best duck ground in this section.

It is possible that a Rod and Gun Club may be organized at this meeting, in order to afford proper protection to the fish and game of this section.

C. E. Hoyt, proprietor of the Hoyt Hotel at Fort Klamath, visited the county seat Friday.

MAIDEN KILLS A RATTLESNAKE

ATTEMPT TO KILL RATTLER NEAR DORRIS RESULTS IN A BATTLE. SNAKES NUMEROUS AROUND THERE

DORRIS, June 7.—Miss Inez Davis, who lives over the hill in the Oklahoma country, had a rather unique experience with a huge rattlesnake.

While driving along the road Miss Davis noticed the snake coiled up to one side of the highway, and immediately she proceeded to kill it.

The task, however, was not so easy as she thought and it finally developed into a fierce contest. Miss Davis was the victor and succeeded in killing the snake.

Several rattlers have been killed around Dorris lately and it seems as though they are becoming quite numerous.

NEW PRESERVES IN JACKSON CO.

BOTH ARE FOR THE PROTECTION OF GAME BIRDS—BEESON FARM INCLUDED IN ONE OF THE DISTRICTS

ASHLAND, June 7.—Game Warden Hubbard of Ashland states that two new game preserves have been secured in the valley in which game birds can be propagated without fear of molestation.

One of the preserves is the Von der Heilen farm at Wellen, consisting of 1100 acres of creek bottom, timber brush and desert land. The ranch is the home selected now by all the Chinese pheasants in that portion of the valley, and conditions are ideal.

A second preserve is formed by the Robert Beeson and Glein farms, above Talent, consisting of approximately 1,000 acres. The land was secured by the newly organized Talent Rod and Gun Club, and indicates the interest in the subject awakened.

Reeves, Golden, Silver and Chinese pheasants will be imported and turned loose on these tracts, as will Hungarian pheasants and Bob White quail. Hunting upon them is forbidden, and the birds will be given a chance to become established and spread throughout the valley.

REV. DUNLAP TO VISIT KLAMATH

WILL PREACH AT GRACE M. E. CHURCH TOMORROW EVENING. SPECIAL SERVICE POSTPONED FOR THIS REASON

Rev. R. E. Dunlap of Ashland, district superintendent of the Methodist church, will visit Grace Methodist church tomorrow. Tomorrow evening he will deliver the sermon at the church.

On account of the sermon by Mr. Dunlap, the special service on "State and Home" arranged by Rev. George H. Pease, has been postponed a week.

Can't Puncture the Income Tax Measure, Says Hull

Tennessee Legislator Says the Care That Has Been Exercised by Congressmen in Framing the Measure is Almost Proof Positive That it Cannot be Invalidated by Lawyers

BY BURTON K. STANDISH
(Written for United Press)
WASHINGTON, June 7.—Double-riveted, air-tight, bomb-proof and safe from any assaults. That is the condition of the new income tax law, according to its author, Representative Cordell Hull, of Tennessee. He says the bill is absolutely impregnable against attack in the courts. It has been drawn with such care, Hull declares, that no high-priced corporation lawyer can pick a flaw in it which might imperil its enforcement. Reports that the new law was to be tested in the courts have reached Congress. Hull and the members of the House Ways and Means committee which drew the new law declare that if such attempts are made they will meet with signal failure. They asserted there was little ground for alarm that such legal methods would be resorted to, and the constitutionality of the whole tariff bill was not endangered. They admitted, of course, that if the income tax feature of the Wilson-Underwood bill was declared void by the courts, the whole tariff bill would go by the board and necessitate re-enactment of an entirely new measure by Congress.

"Two chief features of the bill which have been under fire," said Representative Hull to the writer, "are the clauses fixing the graduated tax—the surtax upon incomes according to their size—and the provision for taxation of dividends of insurance companies. Both are beyond criticism of any fair minded person, and also beyond the reach of persons who would attack their constitutionality in the federal courts. The graduated system of taxation has been approved by the federal judiciary. The New Jersey district court and the court of appeals for that circuit have sustained the validity of such graduated plans."

"The New Jersey case tested the graduated tax system as applied to inheritance taxes, squarely in point with the similar system in the income tax bill. The federal courts declared in the inheritance tax cases that it was folly to assert that the government could not put into operation the most equitable taxation system known—that of taxing highest the persons who are best able to meet the tax. This is exactly what the income tax will do; it will reach the wealthy men who are best able to bear the heavier burden of taxation. It will also reach the wealthy men.... It will meet the expense of maintaining the government."

As to the second contested feature of the new law, which relates to taxing "dividends" of insurance companies, and which has provoked loud protests from the big insurance companies of the East and also reams of newspaper vitrol, Hull said: "In drawing that part of the bill we used exactly the word prescribed in federal court decisions, to prevent any test of the law in the courts. If you will examine the bill carefully you will note that we declare that 'dividends' of the insurance companies are taxable. We did not use the word revenue, or income, or proceeds—but the word 'dividends.' This has been construed by the federal judiciary in the case of Knowlton vs. Moore, to mean the actual profits of the companies, derived not from overcharges to policy holders upon their premiums, but on their actual proceeds from investments, loans, real estate rentals, etc. The courts decided that the question of dividends is a question of fact, and not of law. They declare that the facts must necessarily be ascertained in each particular case."

When asked how the actual operation of the insurance clause would occur, Hull said:

"The insurance companies in making their income tax returns to the federal authorities will deduct from their taxable income all excess money construed as overcharges in premiums upon policies. If the federal authorities deem that the incomes of the companies should include certain payments to policy holders, construing each individual case upon its merits, and contending that such payments are not in fact premium overcharges, but revenue from invested capital—i. e., dividends—the collector can bring suit and cause actual ascertainment of the facts in the case by the federal courts."

Hull and the democratic leaders take the position that the wealthy insurance companies should pay taxes upon their incomes derived from quick and big profits upon "call money" loaned in the New York stock exchange and other Wall street sources. They save the gigantic "reserves" built up by the companies and withheld from policy holders, while fat salaries are paid the officials.

"Much of the broadsides of criticism of the new tax bill has come from sources which declare that they favor the bill," said Hull. "That is the worst kind of criticism—from pretended friends."

Good Blood Means Good Health

A clear, healthy skin, full of life and color, reflecting perfect health and energy, has long been known to be a business and social asset.

If you are not the fortunate possessor of all the above—if you are suffering from skin eruptions of any description, it means that the blood is weak.

WHEN IT BECOMES IMPOVERISHED—THIN AND WATERY—IT CANNOT SUPPLY PROPER NOURISHMENT, AND THE BODY TISSUES BECOME DISEASED.

This condition is every ready to manifest itself, and should be checked and treatment started with the first appearance of blood disorder.

In our estimation Nyal's Hot Springs Blood Remedy is the one best treatment. It gets at the root of the trouble, cleanses the blood impurities, increases the circulation, produces blood that is rich in nourishment—blood that is rich in nourishment—blood that will build up broken-down tissues.
