MAN ACTING QUEERLY AT ALGOMA LOGGING CAMP BLAMES ALCOHOLIC EXCESSES FOR HIS CONDITION

Mentally unbalanced by whiskey, according to his own statement, Ed Haas, who has been employed at logging camp No. 2 by the Algoma Lumber company, was taken in charge at the camp this morning and placed in the county jail by Deputy Sheriff Brewbaker. He will be examined as to his sanity when Judge Worden returns from Yreka.

Haas for a couple of days, according to workmen in the same camp, has been acting queerly, and has spent most of his time wandering in the woods, away from the other men.

MARIAN HOLLINS LEADS TOURNEY

when she was defeated by Miss Lillian B. Hyde, title holder for two years. This year she was pitted against Miss Hyde in a contest which attracted the attention of hundreds. She showed superior form on the greens and her putting was superior to that of her rival.

Miss Hollins is of a type now common in New York society. She rides and swims, and engages more in outdoor sports than in those of the drawing room. Taking sensible physical exercise in the open air, she got herself into condition for a golf contest which would have tried the ability of many first class players among the men.

BLY IS COMING TO THE RODEO

TWO RELAY STRINGS, A NUMBER OF OUTLAW HORSES, AND SEVERAL CONTESTANTS WILL BE ENTERED

While talk is being handed out of what is going to be present during the Elks' Rodeo July 4, 5 and 6, Bly must not be overlooked. Bly has surveyed the coming Rodeo carefully, and is coming here strong, with the intention of carting off some of the rewards.

To begin with, there's the cowboy relay race. This looks good to Earl Walker, Ross Finley and other ranchers of that section, and they have a string of fast horses in training.

Besides the men's relay race prize, they also have designs on the honors on the cowgirl's race. Toward this end a second fast string is being trained.

The announcement that the Elks will pay a $50 prize for the worst bucking horse at the Rodeo, the Elks' horses being barred, has started a skirmish for outlaws, and the worst horses that ever delighted in piling a rider will be entered from Bly, say the residents of that section. In addition, several riders there will compete in different events.

LUMBER MEN TO PLAY BASEBALL

EMPLOYEES OF PELICAN BAY MILL WILL ORGANIZE FAST NINE. LAY OUT GOOD DIAMOND, AND WILL SEEK CHAMPIONSHIP

The latest diamond aggregation to break into local baseball circles is from Pelican City, the community surrounding the Pelican Bay Lumber company's sawmill. Rumors from that section are to the effect that the lumbermen have banded together a most formidable contingent, and there will be surprises galore when the team invades Klamath Falls to try conclusions with the Klamath Falls nine and the White Pelicans.

A good diamond has been laid out at Pelican City, and here every evening and Sunday, practice has been going on. Everybody who expressed any desire to leave the globe around the lot was given a chance to make the team, with the result that the fastest in the camp are now picked.

With the picking of the team, practice has continued unabated. Reports drifting this way from the training camp declare that the teamwork being developed would do credit to some of the crews spending the spring months around Marlin Springs.

MAY ETHERIDGE JULTED BY A LORD

Miss Etheridge, a charming brunette, made her first appearance at the Gaiety in "The New Aladdin." Later she played a small part and acted as understudy in "Princess Carice" at the Shaftesbury theater. The noble lord is just 21, the same age as the actress. He is one of the youngest brothers of the Duke of Leinster, the premier duke, marquis and Earl of Ireland. Some years ago the duke himself was saved from a marriage with a woman of whom society didn't approve, and the family was ready for such an effort on the part of a brother. A statement has been issued by the duke explaining that the "report of the engagement" was false. So the young lord has hied himself away, and now Miss Etheridge is talking of a law suit against him.

SHIPPINGTON BRIEFS

The waters of Upper Klamath Lake are receding.

A musicale is the next on the program at St. Cloud.

Potato planting at Buena Vista is finished. About thirty acres were planted.

There is talk of building a hall at Shippington. This is surely a move in the right direction.

The steamer Winema will be kept busy the rest of the summer.

The steamer Modoc is one of the most powerful stern wheelers on the Upper Lake. Yet she had to try her power when she pulled Bert Withrow's houseboat off the ways a few days ago.

GAS CO. PROPERTY BEING DESTROYED

LIGHTS IN WESTERN SECTION OF CITY AS RESULT OF DYNAMITING TWO MANHOLES IN CITY BY THE RAY

United Press Service
SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—Two manholes, containing the conduits of the Pacific Gas and Electric company were dynamited today.

As a result the lights in the Western section of the city are short circuited. The police have arrested Hermann Ebenwittner, a machinist. He is being sweated at headquarters.

KUYKENDALL IS RETAINED IN CASE

the trial of Chenoweth and see that every possible point for and against the defendant is brought out.

"We do not desire that the Indian be shielded," read Mr. Kuykendall's instructions, accompanied by a liberal retainer, "but we want to be sure that he gets a square deal. We want to feel sure that if he is acquitted, it was because he was not guilty, or that if he is convicted he was guilty."

The men who subscribed to the fund which will cause Mr. Kuykendall to appear in court June 23 as amicus curiae in the case in which Chenoweth Umpqua is charged with the murder of Frank Jack, are residents of the Willamette Valley, and are wealthy. Notably among them is H. A. Booth of the Booth-Kelly Lumber company, who formerly conducted a store at Yoncalla, headquarters of the Umpqua Indians. He knew Chenoweth when the redskin was a papoose, and since has followed the career of the aborigine.

"I want to see that the Indian gets a square deal," Mr. Booth is reported to have declared when he induced other prominent men to subscribe to the fund. "It does not make any difference to me whether or not he is acquitted. All I want to know is that he is not 'jobbed'."

Chenoweth is an Umpqua Indian who several years ago came into the Klamath country and affiliated with the Klamath Indians. He was employed on the reservation in different capacities, but prior to the murder of Frank Jack he worked as a carpenter.

On the night of the murder of Frank Jack a number of Indians had been in Fort Klamath, and had been drinking. Chenoweth Umpqua has been declared by his companions as having fired the shot which took the life of Frank Jack.

There have been many rumors current of sensational developments which would involve others, but no one but Chenoweth has been placed in custody.

Mr. Kuykendall's duties at the trial will be unusual. He will neither be associated with the defense nor the prosecution. His status in court will be more or less problematical. It will be his duty to his clients to insist that a fair and impartial jury be secured. Then every point favorable to the prosecution will be insisted upon. Later every point in favor of the Indian will be sought to be brought out.

Messrs. Manning and Shaw will appear for the defense of the Indian, and District Attorney Irwin will prosecute.
