Siemens is Ordered to Pay Court House Fund Warrants

Circuit Judge Benson Makes Permanent the Alternative Writ of Mandamus Issued Some Time Ago in Action Commenced by Klamath County Court

County Treasurer J. W. Siemens must pay all warrants on the special county court house fund that are presented to him.

A peremptory writ of mandamus, ordering him to honor the warrants on the special fund, was signed today by Circuit Judge Benson. A copy of the writ was served on Siemens.

The peremptory writ comes as a result of the mandamus proceedings instituted against former County Treasurer Claude H. Daggett about a month ago by the county court. At that time Daggett refused to honor the checks on the court house fund. At the time the proceedings were instituted, County Judge Worden and Attorney Drake journeyed to Lakeview, where Judge Benson was holding court, and secured his signature to an alternative writ of mandamus.

Since that time attorneys for both sides have appeared on the case, and there have been several motions argued. This morning Judge Benson signed an order making the alternative writ a peremptory writ.

Since the suit was instituted Daggett resigned as county treasurer, and Captain Siemens was named in his

The camera, as well as a detective, caught Mrs. Pankhurst, the suffragette leader, as she tried recently to escape from the British government while supposedly ill at the home in Working of Dr. Ethel Smyth, a friend.

Mrs. Pankhurst was sentenced to three years because of her admissions concerning the bomb outrages of the suffragettes, but when she began a hunger strike in prison she was released. It was said she was very ill. Detectives watched the home of Dr. Smyth, with orders to take her when she was well enough to go back to prison.

Dr. Smyth sent for an automobile to take Mrs. Pankhurst out for a ride or to give her a chance to get away, perhaps to Paris, where one of her daughters remains without the jurisdiction of the British government. A detective caught her at the gate of the home, and barred her way to the automobile. Then he hustled her off to prison on the ground that she was well enough to begin serving her sentence again.

INDIANS ELOPE FROM YAINAX; ARE IN PRISON

BREWBAKER DOES SOME DETECTIVE WORK

Slipping Away From the Sub-Agency Monday Night, the Couple and the Driver Elude the Authorities for Several Days—Visit With Relatives at Keno Results in Capture—Girl is Fourteen Years of Age.

Fourteen-year-old Pearl Schadley, Jimmie Cole and Archie Copp, all Klamath Indians, were arrested last night and are incarcerated in the county jail here as a result of an escapade in which the three figured, and which kept the Indian and civil authorities of this county busy for several days.

Jimmy Cole, who is 24 years of age, is charged with eloping with the Schadley girl. Chipp is held as an accessory, having driven the team used by the couple in making their getaway.

The girl, her admirer and the driver slipped quietly out of Yainax Monday evening, and upon complaint of Sub-Agent Wolford, United States Commissioner J. O. Hamaker of Bonanza issued a federal warrant for their arrest. The sheriff's office here was notified, and Deputy Sheriff Brewbaker took charge of the case.

Leaving Yainax Monday night, the runaways drove all night to a point across the California line. The following day Clipp drove his team to Merrill to feed them.

Leaving Merrill, the party drove to Dorris, and remained there some time. It was the intention to take the train from there to some point in California.

Before going south, Cole wished to visit relatives living near Keno, so he and the girl drove to that town. Brewbaker, learning this, autoed to Keno last night and arrested them, and going to Dorris he arrested Clipp, who was awaiting the return of the dusky lovers from Keno.

The three are held in the county jail, awaiting the arrival of officers from the reservation.

THE INITIATORY DEGREE TONIGHT

DEGREE TEAM OF THE ODD FELLOWS WILL PUT ON THE SAME WORK AS GIVEN IN THE EXHIBITION BEFORE GRAND LODGE

Tonight at I. O. O. F. hall the degree team of the Odd Fellows will put on the Initiatory Degree. This is the degree that was put on by this team before the recent Grand Lodge at Medford, and will be an opportunity for those Odd Fellows who could not attend the Grand Lodge to see in what manner their degree team represented them.

With two or three exceptions, the team is still intact, and in the places where substitutes will be necessary brothers of experience in the work will be used, so that the degree will be of interest to all.

Many compliments were received by Captain Piel at Medford, and by other members of the lodge concerning the manner in which the team performed, and very favorable comparisons were made with the work of the other exhibition teams.

Only 7th Son of 7th Son With Rabbit Foot is Safe

Beat This, Can You? United Press Service MILWAUKEE, June 13.—The stork is not afraid of Friday, the thirteenth, nineteen thirteen. In fact, he believes a little in numbers. This was attested at the Maternity hospital here this morning, when thirteen babies were born before 8 o'clock.

Should it be that you got up this morning with a peculiar foreboding that something unpleasant was going to happen, if you had the bad luck to get out of bed this morning of all mornings with your left foot first; if you intended popping the question to the lady of your dreams today—beware. This is a bum day to start anything you want to have luck with, for it's Friday, the thirteenth.

That isn't such a rarity in itself, for there have been numerous other Fridays the thirteenth in the past few years. This Friday, the thirteenth, of today, however, is peculiarly potent for evil in its make-up.

Today is the only day of the present year when the thirteenth of the month will fall on a Friday. It will be at least 100 years before you will get the combination of Friday, the thirteenth, in the thirteenth year of a century, so when you write June 13, '13, today, be careful to cross your fingers to keep of "de bonjuns."

PATENTS ISSUED TO SIXTEEN ENTRYMEN BY INTERIOR DEPARTMENT

After Being Deceit by the Department of the Interior in Contesting Issuance of Patents, Case is Taken to the Federal District Court and the Circuit Court of Appeals, With No Success

Although efforts to set aside the patents issued to sixteen entrymen in the "37-10" country have met with no success in the United States Land office, the district federal court for Oregon and the circuit court of appeals, A. D. Daniels, who is seeking to have these patents declared trustee of title for him, will carry the case still higher.

Attorney J. H. Carnahan, who represents Valentine Bernhard, Mark T. Howard, Vestal Wakefield and John C. Leonard, and Fred H. Mills, attorney for Jessie Wagner-Robertson, local patent holders, have received notice of appeal filed by Platt & Platt, attorneys for Daniels.

Daniels is claimant to beneficial interest in certain forest lion selections. He is endeavoring, by means of this suit in equity to have the sixteen timber and stone claimants, who have been issued patents by the United States, to hold legal title to the lands in trust for Daniels.

The action grows out of the relinquishment of lands in the San Francisco Mountains forest reserve by the Asteo Land and Cattle company, limited, in 1904. In lieu for the land relinquished the company was issued script and made application for the lands now involved. These were being homesteaded by the defendants in the case, and the matter resulted in a lively fight in the land office.

After prolonged contesting, during which several big hearings were held and voluminous notes were taken, the matter was decided in favor of the homesteaders. In February, 1914.
