ABATE THE NUISANCE

THE OLD Anthony canal, under reclamation management, is a detestable nuisance.

It is insisted by the officials in charge that one or two water rights in the eastern part of the city must be supplied, notwithstanding that the canal leaks to such an extent that private property is being damaged and danger to lives rendered inevitable.

It is completely within the knowledge of the officials on the ground that the canal, in its present condition, is both a public and private nuisance. The fact that the reclamation service is under contract to supply the old water rights, does not include or carry with it the authority or privilege of doing so at the expense and damage of property, both public and private, adjacent to the canal.

The reclamation service owes a duty to the public as well as to the holder of a water right. If its contract with the holder of a water right cannot be complied with without the repair of the canal, it is up to the service to repair it or cease its use.

POOR QUALITY OF BEEF FLOODING MARKET BRINGS DOWN THE PRICES—HOGS AND SHEEP ON FOREGOING, TOO

Special to The Herald

PORTLAND, Aug. 4.—Heavy receipts of cattle for the week, and the fact that the best stuff was not offered caused the market to decline from 15c to 16c. Good choice stuff is in demand and would still bring a good price, but there is no demand for poor quality, which just demoralizes the market.

The debarking of cattle is strongly urged, as in many instances shippers receive from 25c to 40c less on account of the bruised condition of the stock offered. $5.25 is the top on steers when good ones are in evidence and one extra choice lot of cows brought $7.50, but good cows are selling around $4.75 and $7.

Fancy heifers would bring a good price, but there is a wide range in the class offered, as in the case with steers. Calves are steady, and bulls a shade lower.

The hog market has dropped from $10 to $9.70 for best light swine, and will probably go lower, as packers needs are temporarily supplied.

The sheep market was slow and drabby, probably due to hot weather. Not many receipts. Good ewes would bring $3.50, top wethers $3.75 to $4, and top lot of the mountain lambs $5.50 to $6.75, but a general apathy exists in the sheep trade.

FORKERS FED TUBERS EN ROUTE TO MARKET DO NOT LOSE ANY WEIGHT—VALUABLE IN THE HOT WEATHER

Special to The Herald

PORTLAND, Aug. 4.—A number of hog shippers coming into the Portland Union Stockyards recently, instead of feeding wheat and corn en route, fed potatoes. Melina Payne of Tikura, Idaho, tried the experiment recently with good results. Another shipper from Idaho claimed that with potatoes he came through without a pound of shrinkage in his whole shipment. On account of the high water content potatoes are especially valuable to the shippers in hot weather.

Some feeding experiments with potatoes follow: Ford, of Copenhagen Station, found by experiment that 400 pounds of potatoes are worth 100 pounds of mixed grain for pig feeding. In trials by Henry, at the Wisconsin Station, potatoes were cooked in an open kettle, using a little water on a fire, and corn meal added to form a thick mash, which was eaten by the pigs with great relish. Corn meal wet with water was fed to a second lot for comparison. The results were as follows: 440 pounds of corn meal fed alone produced 100 pounds of gain; 325 pounds of corn meal with 750 pounds of potatoes, weighed before cooking, produced 100 pounds of gain. From this we learn that 750 pounds of potatoes, when fed to hogs after being cooked, effected a saving of 175 pounds of corn meal, 445 pounds of potatoes taking the place of 100 pounds of corn meal.

From an average of 41 analyses in Farmers Bulletin No. 222, we obtain the following for the potato: Water 78.1 per cent, ash .5 per cent, crude protein 2.1 per cent, fiber .4 percent, N-Free extract 17.4 per cent, fat .1 per cent. Henry gives the digestible nutrients as crude protein 1.1 per cent, carbohydrates 18.7 per cent, fat .1 per cent.

Lloyd George's Magazine Article Answered by Suff

Christabel Pankhurst, Exiled Daughter of Emmeline the Straver, Writes the Answer From the Viewpoint of the Militant Women Who Seek Vote

LONDON, Aug. 4.—When Lloyd George penned a magazine article recently, attacking militancy with his best Lincolnian vocabulary and attributing the failure of the woman suffrage movement in England solely to the "organized lunacy" of the Woman's Social and Political Union, he probably figured that he would draw some fire. If so, he guessed right. It comes in the form of a broadside from Paris. Writing from her temporary exile, the daughter of the suffragette leader thus replies to the chief editor of the ambassador:

By Christabel Pankhurst, LL. B.

Mr. Lloyd George gave to his article the title, "Votes for Women and Organized Lunacy." It is as though one had said "Cromwell, the Idiot," or "That Fool, Hampden." The inventor of that title convicts himself of commonplace and ignoble thinking. It is by such men that we are governed. Alas, our poor country!

"The practitioners of militancy," he says, "seem to think that they can terrorize and plunder parliament into giving them the vote." Well, the suffragettes not only "think," they KNOW that parliament can be terrorized into granting reform. They also know that parliament never grants reforms unless it is terrorized. The men terrorized parliament into giving them emancipation. The nationalists (by their votes in the house of commons) are terrorizing parliament into proceeding with the home rule bill. Terrorism is, in fact, the only argument that parliament understands. Mr. Lloyd George is well aware of that fact, as many of his speeches in his earlier career give proof. He it was who said: "The kingdom of politics is like the kingdom of heaven: it suffereth violence and the violent take it by force."

Then he says: "Until they learn something of the people they are dealing with, their cause, so far as the house of commons is concerned, is simply and utterly damned." That is really funny. The suffragettes, we can assure Mr. Lloyd George, have nothing more to learn about members of parliament. They knew these party only too well, and militancy is
