

New York Assembly Impeaches Governor Wm. Sulzer Militia May Be Called Out to Eject Him From Office

OFFICIAL SAYS HE WILL CARRY THE MATTER TO THE SUPREME COURT; WIFE TAKES BLAME

BOTH SIDES THREATEN TO CALL OUT THE GUARDSMEN TO UPHOLD THEM

Action of Accused Executive's Wife in Trying to Assume the Blame for the Diversion of Campaign Money is Decided by Her Husband's Enemies—They Look Upon This as a Final Attempt to Save Sulzer.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 18.—After an all night session, the New York assembly impeached Governor William Sulzer on a charge of having diverted campaign contributions to his own use.

The vote was 79 to 45. The senate will receive the report late this afternoon.

Sulzer today denied the legality of the proceedings of the assembly. It is likely that he will continue to occupy the executive office of the Empire State.

If Sulzer does so, it is likely that Lieutenant Governor Glynn may call the militia to eject him.

Friends of Sulzer, hearing this, say that Sulzer, as governor, will call out the militia to sustain him.

"I will carry this case to the United States supreme court, if necessary," said Sulzer.

It is reported that this morning Mrs. Sulzer stated that she is responsible for the diverted campaign money.

She may be allowed to tell her story before the probers.

This report is derided by the Tammany faction.

They brand it as a "slick trick to save Sulzer at the last moment."

The action comes as the result of the investigations of the Frawley committee, looking into the question of the disposition of campaign moneys.

The Frawley committee report and the Levy resolution charge the governor with having falsified under oath his campaign contribution account, diverted some funds to his own use for purchasing stocks, traded executive approval of bills for the support of his direct primary measures and having done everything in his power to obstruct the committee's efforts to bring proofs of his alleged misconduct to light.

The adoption of the report carried the recommendation that Louis Sarnecky and Frederick Colwell, who refused to answer certain questions propounded by the committee's counsel, he held in contempt of the legislature and punished.

Never before in the history of New York has her governor been impeached.

United Press Service

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Formal notice of the impeachment of Governor Sulzer was served on the senate at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Governor Sulzer appeared at the Capitol accompanied by Samuel Thomas, his legal adviser.

It is understood that he plans to sign a pardon, which if the warden refuses to recognize, will be made the basis of a test case to determine who is governor.

In a statement made by Attorney Thomas he said:

"It will be a fight to the finish. Tammany can never survive what it has done today."

For Business Women

The business women of Chicago, under the leadership of Mrs. John B. Sherwood, several years ago built a substantial stone house of fourteen rooms at Boulder, Colo., where they could go for a vacation, and called it the Blue Bird cottage. Last summer it housed more than a hundred women, all engaged in business, who needed the change from Chicago to the altitude of Colorado. The cottage, which has cost $15,000, is paid for except for about $700.

Southern Pacific Officials Are Held to Have Been Also at Fault

From the explanation of the assessor's office the error in the assessment of the Southern Pacific was more the fault of the officials of the railway company than that of any of the employees of the county. Where any item figures out in excess of 50 cents it is placed at one dollar, and where it is less than 50 cents the fraction of a dollar is left off the roll. There are no cents column on the roll, and all valuations are made in even dollars.

This custom is well known to all of the large property owners, who govern themselves accordingly in listing their sworn statements with the assessor. A sworn list was submitted by the Southern Pacific, and this was copied on the assessment roll, with the exception that the valuation had been carried out in cents, and were transferred on the roll to the dollar column.

When the rolls were opened for inspection they were approved by a representative of the Southern Pacific, and later the taxes were paid without any protest.

MILITIA IN THE TAPPAN CASE IS DEPLOYED

Resolutions Passed Yesterday Condemn Bitterly Attorney Hooper of Siskiyou County, and Ask Yreka Branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union to Make an Investigation of Proceedings There

The feeling of disgust felt by the Klamath county officers and citizens at the action of the Tehama and Siskiyou county officials in allowing to go scot free John De Witt Tappan, whom it was proven conclusively here had caused the death of his infant daughter by his bestial treatment of her, and who also made his two other daughters, neither over 9 years old, victims to his carnal desires, is expressed in the following resolutions of condemnation adopted at Tuesday's meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union:

Whereas, The coroner's jury of Klamath county, selected to inquire into the death of the Tappan baby, found that a heinous crime has been committed; and that the helpless babe had come to its terrible death from its own father's brutality; and that said crime had been committed in Siskiyou county California; and that the district attorney of Siskiyou county has dismissed the case against Tappan, allowing a terrible crime to go unpunished. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Klamath Falls, Oregon, condemn the action of District Attorney Hooper of California, and recommend that the Women's Christian Temperance Union organization at Yreka investigate the matter more thoroughly.

Women on Board of Control

Mrs. Alma J. Frible has been for seven years a member of the Wisconsin board of control of public institutions, and says that it should be obvious to every fair minded person that the governing board of institutions whose inmates are largely women or children should have women members. Men members, she says, generally interest themselves in the plants and the business connected with institutions, while the humanitarian side appeals to women.

Story of Relations With Diggs is Told to Court

Warrington Girl Tells What Happened in Reno, of Meeting Diggs, and of a Former Escapade in Which the Notorious Quartet Figured Last February

United Press Service

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—John S. Chambers, managing editor of the Sacramento Bee, was brought in to testify today in the Diggs-Caminetti case regarding the stories Diggs told the girls that the Bee was about to publish an account of their doings. He is forced the Reno trip.

While Chambers testified, the Warrington girl, heavily veiled and apparently calm, waited to resume her story.

Chambers denied that his paper had any intimation of the scandal.

Probation Officer Sullivan of Sacramento was called next. He denied that there had ever been a complaint made against Miss Warrington or Miss Norris.

after Sullivan. She took up the narrative with the arrival at Reno.

Her voice was stronger, and she needed less coaching. Diggs watched her steadily.

"Diggs roomed with me, and Caminetti with Miss Norris at the Riverside hotel," said the girl. We girls wanted to go back to Sacramento, but the men said no, because they did not want to reveal their whereabouts.

"Diggs said, 'don't tell the officers anything. If you are asked, say that we occupied one room and you girls the other.'

"I telephoned my father at the instance of Diggs to have the warrants withdrawn. He replied that he could not, as the matter was in the hands of the authorities."

questions as to her relations with Diggs, and in a downcast manner she told the story of her downfall.

Asked if Diggs had a pet name for her, the girl replied that he called her "Pickles." She then identified the famous "Pickles" letter.

On cross examination, the girl admitted that she was first introduced to Diggs by a Sacramento saloon man. She says they did not use their right names.

She then admitted that she knew Mrs. Diggs before she knew Diggs, and stated that she and Diggs and Caminetti and the Norris girl spent a night together at the Grand hotel last February. She also admitted that the quartet stayed a night at a San Jose hotel.

Work of Excavating Second Unit Completed This Week; Water Ready

By the end of the week, work on the excavation of the second unit laterals will be completed by the subcontractors under Maney Brothers, according to reclamation service officials. There are but two outside well workings, the rest having completed their work.

The second unit comprises the plan for irrigating 4,500 acres included in the Klamath project. A great part of this is in Poe Valley.

The work of the Maney Brothers entailed the excavation of four main laterals, the North and Valley laterals, the West and the Griffin laterals, to them, there are 100 wells, including 100 outside wells of various sizes.

Water will be available to the water users when the water begins to flow. It has been getting ready for some time, and the government has been waiting for the water to be available to the water users.
