Criticizes Housekeeping

Mrs. Lucy Wheelock said at the kindergarten convention in Boston the other day that no business "is so poorly and inefficiently conducted as that of housekeeping. To the luxury and inefficiency of the modern household," she said, "many economists charge the high cost of living," and she declared that they are not far wrong. Girls should have thorough training in the craft of housekeeping, and Mrs. Wheelock said she would like to see a "chair of child nurture established in every institution of higher education of the women."

Former Residents of Greenwood County, in Jayhawk State Gather for Reunion; Over Sixty Present

Ten years ago Greenwood county, Kansas, had a single representative in Klamath county, George H. Hurn, who came here in 1884.

No other Greenwood people came to Klamath county until 1903, when Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Slough came. A year or two later J. B. Mason and wife came. Later came the younger Masons, the Faughts, Hutchens, Lyons, Millers, Evans and others, and this summer the Lattas. Now there are about 200 former Greenwood county, Kansas, people in Klamath county.

From time to time a gathering of these former Kansans has been proposed, but nothing came of the suggestion until two or three days ago Mr. J. M. Evans set today as the time and the court house grounds as the place for a picnic for the Greenwood county people.

The chickens were slaughtered, the pies and cakes baked, and all the other needfuls for a sumptuous picnic dinner, and about 10 o'clock the clan began to gather. They came to the number of over sixty, even on the short notice given. Every one present enjoyed the day, and it was agreed that there ought to be a similar meeting of these old friends and neighbors each year, and longer and more general notice given.

TANGO DANCERS GET BIG HANDS

ABSENCE OF SCANDALIZING CIRCUMSTANCES IS NOTED BY THOSE ATTENDING THE STAR THEATER

In Boyd and West the Star theater this week has an exceptionally clever act, in which the Tango, the latest novelty dance, is offered.

Many have entered the popular show house with the hope of coming away scandalized, but they have been doomed to disappointment. Far from being suggestive as are many of the steps now countenanced, the Tango is a dance requiring grace and rapidity of motion beyond the average. The chatter used by the couple, too, has all been manufactured in the last decade, which is a later vintage than many can boast of.
