Accused as Mexican Lobbyists

Manuel Peres Romero Sherburne G. Hopkins

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29.—Senator Smith of Michigan made the open charge in the senate that there is a paid Mexican lobby at the capital. He said that Sherburne G. Hopkins, a lawyer of Washington, long known in connection with affairs of the Latin-American republics, has been paid $50,000 by the Mexicans as their representative...

Romero, it was said, had not even talked with a member of congress. That he was on the ground as a representative of Carranza was not denied.

Golden eagles are increasing in the Scottish Highlands, owing to the efforts made by large land owners for their preservation.

KADFE COMPANY ASKS CITIZENS FOR SUGGESTIONS

BEST QUALIFIED MANAGER IN THEIR QUEST

In a statement issued by the new president of the company, the Residents of the Klamath Country are invited to make any suggestions they have to offer relative to selecting a successor to R. A. Johnson.

It is seldom that the larger corporations take into consideration any opinions or wishes that might be formulated by those not in any way connected with the concern, but the Klamath Development company, in addition to wishing suggestions on an important part of their business, are inviting them from the residents of this section.

The following statement issued by the president of the company fully outlines their attitude in this respect: (By G. X. WENDLING)

I am pleased to say to our many friends in Southeastern Oregon that at a recent meeting of the directors of the Klamath Development company I was elected president. This new work will afford me much pleasure, in that my interests in the Klamath country since I undertook the building of the California Northeastern railway, on behalf of our people, from Wood to Klamath Falls in 1905 have continued to grow and, therefore, become of greater financial interest with the passing years.

I feel that our policy should be so shaped with the progress of events, that the most perfect harmony should obtain in all matters affecting the interests and development of Klamath county, as the interests of our company are inseparably linked with every other interest in the county, and to the end that these results may reach their fullest fruition, we ask the co-operation of the entire social and commercial fabric of Southeastern Oregon, to whom we pledge our best and most consistent efforts.

I regret that Mr. Robert A. Johnson deems it appropriate to his best interests to resign from the local management of our company, as his work and worth are more than fully appreciated, and comes as a distinct regret to our directorate and officers; the choice of a competent successor will be given careful consideration, with a view to having such selection one that, when announced, will be a valuable acquisition to Klamath county. Ample time will be taken to make this important choice. As General Grant said: "If it takes all summer," and, I may add, "if it takes all winter included," to the end that we will not make a mistake in this important matter.

As the public are much interested as to the choice we make for this important position, I shall be glad to receive any suggestions our friends in Klamath county may have to offer, and they will be given mature consideration.

EXPERTS GIVING DAILY LECTURES IN HOME ECONOMY THAT WILL BE OF BENEFIT TO EVERY HOUSEWIFE

One of the most popular as well as most practical departments at the Central of Oregon League convention is the Home Science department, being conducted by Professor Ava B. Milam, assistant professor of domestic science at O. A. C., and Mrs. Orin Bixton, in charge of the rural home work at the same institution.

These sessions are held forenoon at the high school, and practical home questions are taken up in a practical manner by these instructors. Much that will save expense as well as time and labor has been taught to experienced housekeepers of the city, and all the women who have attended have returned home full of enthusiasm, and have urged their neighbors also to hear the lectures.

The meeting of this department tomorrow afternoon will be one of the most instructive of the series. There will be practical demonstrations of domestic science.

EMBARGO WILL REMAIN AWHILE

PRESIDENT WILSON DECIDES THAT THIS IS FOR THE BEST INTERESTS OF AMERICANS IN MEXICO

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29.—Owing to the latest communication from President Huerta of Mexico, the administration has emphasized its decision not to remove the embargo against the shipment of arms into Mexico.

Wilson believes such a move would inflame the anti-American feeling, and perhaps provoke reprisals from the Huerta faction.

Lillian Russell in Welfare Work

Films will also be made of similar conditions in the United States.

THAW RELEASED, BUT REARRESTED IN QUEBEC TOWN

BIG LEGAL FIGHT COMES TOMORROW

Unless Man Escaping From Mattawan Asylum Can Show a Ticket to Detroit, Mich., He is in Danger of Being Deported From Canadian Soil by the Home Routs Over Which He Has Fought

By JOHN C. NEVIN (Star Correspondent)

SHERBROOKE, Quebec, Aug. 29.—Owing to the fact that the immigration inspectors will depart Harry K. Thaw from Canada as soon as he is released, Thaw's attorneys prefer to have the notorious Mattawan prisoner remain in jail temporarily.

In the meantime, they are preparing an injunction to prevent his deportation.

Thaw is in the most comfortable cell in the prison hospital. He is very cheerful, and says he will never return to Mattawan, and will demonstrate that he is not insane.

It is expected that his legal fight against deportation will last for weeks.

This afternoon Thaw had his ticket to Detroit photographed, fearing that it might be lost. Should he be unable to produce it, he would be deported by the same route over which he entered Canada.

United Press Service NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Thaw's brother-in-law, George Carnegie, accompanied by his wife, lawyer and head of money, left for Sherburne.

"You bet we're going there. There'll be some fight, too," he shouted to the reporters.

Church Starts Legal Aid Bureau

The Interchurch Federation of Wichita, Kans., has started a bureau of free legal aid for those who are unable to pay for counsel. This is an outcome of the evil practice of loan sharks and others. A central office will be opened. A number of the city's best lawyers have volunteered their services.

In presenting the chairman of the evening, J. W. Brewer, vice president of the league, Mr. Chapman said, "The great success of the Central Oregon Development League is based on the tireless and unswerving efforts of just such efficient and capable men as Mr. Brewer."

In talking the chair, Mr. Brewer explained that his speech-making would come later, and that for the evening he would consider his share of the program.

HUERTA STALLS CHARGE MADE BY WHITE

RECORD IMPROVEMENT BY NAME HERE

Mexican Dictator Has Not Yet Answered Charge of Being a Communist

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29.—

It is believed by officials here that Huerta is intentionally delaying his second installment of his $1,000,000 salary, and that he will not pay it until he is in a position to make a statement.

It is known that he is spending time in making all preparations for his escape to Europe, and would be glad to receive any information.

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29.—

Over and over again the government has been accused of being a Communist, and would be glad to receive any information.

Government Sends Entomologist Here to Assist Timber Owners in Eradicating the Pine Beetle

To prevent the pine bark beetle from infesting the forests of Klamath county, the government has stationed an expert here, who is ready at any time to inspect any timber holdings, determine whether or not it is infested, and give advice for prevention and eradication.

The man designated for Klamath county is W. E. Glendonning, agent in charge of field operations of the bureau of entomology of the department of agriculture. He is here now on a trip of reconnaissance, and after August 29th will be stationed here as long as needed.

"According to statistics, the United States yearly pays a toll of $100,000,000 to the ravages of timber destroying insects," said Mr. Glendonning, "and the pine bark beetle is the worst offender. The government is therefore determined to eradicate this pest."

"I have been sent here to see to what extent, if any, the pest has taken hold, to give information regarding the amount of infestation, and the methods of control to every timber owner, large or small, desiring my services, which are without cost. In Risky county timber owners in the last year spent $250,000 in the fight against the beetle. Good results were obtained, the destruction of beetles in some isolated tracts being as high as 95 per cent."

The stations of the bureau of entomology in Washington, Oregon, California and Nevada have been combined into one, which is to be located at Ashland, according to Mr. Glendonning. This will be known as the Pacific Field station, and will be in charge of Professor H. T. Surr, entomologist.
