

LANGELL FARMERS BUILDING A ROAD

NEW HIGHWAY RUNS TO THE BRYANT MOUNTAIN — HOUNDING UP HORSES FOR U.S. — OTHER NEWS NOTES

(Special Correspondence)

LORELLA, Aug. 29.—Quite a number of ranchers in Langell Valley have organized themselves into a road crew and have been building a road to the sawmill on Bryant Mountain. The sawmill, which is only about four miles distant, has hitherto been almost impossible to reach on account of the rough road and round about trail. A new grade has now been laid out, however, and it is hoped that a trip for a load of lumber will not be the heaviest that it has in the past.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Brown are the happy parents of a new boy, born last Wednesday.

The representatives of Uncle Sam who are out buying cavalry horses are expected to be at Lorella on August 30th, and the ranchers having horses for sale are busy with their ropes and saddles, getting them ready for inspection.

Mrs. H. L. Anderson left last Friday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin of Boise, Idaho.

Mr. Emil Koller of Portland is visiting his brothers, Geo. and Alfred, at their ranch on Lost River.

Mrs. Fred West has been on the sick list for the past week, but is now improving.

Wife of Acting Governor of N. Y.

ALBANY, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Martin H. Glynn, one of the most beautiful women of Albany, where some of the old Knickerbocker families furnish beauty, has been injected into the remarkable squabble about the governorship of New York state. Her husband, publisher of the Times-Union of that city, and lieutenant governor, is now trying to gain possession of the office of governor which Sulzer lost by impeachment. Mrs. Glynn will become the leader of Albany society if her husband succeeds. But what position she will ultimately occupy is puzzling the women of the capital.

She joins the meeting to her further consideration of bids. Bidders will be required to submit their bids and proposals upon blanks prepared by the city engineer, and no bids will be considered unless so submitted. Blanks may be obtained either at the office of the city engineer or at the office of the Police Judge on application. Said improvement to be completed on or before the — day of — 1913. The successful bidder will be required to give a bond in the sum of $ —; such amount to be filed by the common council, for the faithful performance of the work of such improvement.

Each bid or proposal must be accompanied by a certified check upon some responsible banking institution for 5 per cent of the amount of the proposal, as a guarantee that the successful bidder will enter into contract with the city for making such improvement, in strict accordance with the plans and specifications therefor. The city council reserves the right to reject any and all bids and proposals.

FINLEY MEETS THE SPORTSMEN

STATE GAME WARDEN AND LOCAL MEN GO OVER THE GAME SITUATION — MANY CHANGES ARE SUGGESTED

An enthusiastic gathering of the members of the Sportsman Association of Klamath Falls met Tuesday night in the offices of D. B. Campbell, Hunter Savidge, president of the association, was present and presided over the meeting.

State Game Warden W. L. Finley, who had made the trip from Salem to attend the meeting, warmly praised the work being accomplished by the local organization.

One of the objects for which the association is striving, and all indications favor its accomplishment, is the lifting of Oregon in Zone No. 3 of the national game law. This will give Oregon a more suitable season than is now enjoyed under the laws of Zone No. 1.

Another matter of much importance to local hunters, has to do with the rigid enforcement of the Roosevelt act in the matter of the boundary line of the reservation on the Lower Lake.

Since its enactment the law has never seriously affected the duck shooting in this section, for the reason that the line has been more or less an imaginary one, with a generous elasticity to fit the requirements of the hunters. Now, however, there is a movement on foot to have the letter of the law conformed with in every detail.

The Sportsman Association will make every effort to have conditions in this respect unchanged from what they have been in past years. To accomplish these desired results they called the hearty co-operation of State Game Warden Finley, who has promised to render all assistance possible.

This headress was recently worn by the chorus of a London light opera production. It is a creation of Lewis, of London and Paris, who makes a specialty of catering to the members of this profession, so well noted for their beauty and good style. It is made of filmy silver cloth, and is held in place by strings of pearls extending from ear to ear under the chin and caught at both sides with cabochons of the material edged with pearls. A larger cabochon of the same ornaments the center. Two immense white wings project from the back, each going in a different direction.

Section 19, Township 27N, Range 7E, Willamette Meridian, has filed notice of intention to make commutation Proof, to establish claim to the land above described, before C. B. DeLap, County Clerk of Klamath county, Oregon, at Klamath Falls, Oregon, on the 23rd day of August, 1913.

Wife of New York Governor, Who Would Take Blame

ALBANY, Aug. 29.—Mrs. William Sulzer, wife of the governor who has been impeached for using campaign funds for speculation in Wall street, has offered to take all the blame on herself, and has thus brought about a remarkable situation. Friends of hers say that for many years she has handled the governor's funds because he knew little about business affairs. She had power to endorse his checks. She is said to have taken campaign checks for many thousands of dollars and used them in Wall street operations about the time of the election last fall. The governor, her friends say, knew nothing about this until recently.

Tammany opponents of the governor insist that there is no truth in the story, but was given out as the act of a discredited politician, who in a last desperate attempt to hold his office is hiding behind a woman's skirts.

Diggs Is Scorched to Cinder by Prosecutor

United Press Service
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—"The defense in this case is a remarkable one," said Attorney Roche of the prosecution during his argument to the jury in the trial of Maurey F. Diggs this afternoon.

"Ordinarily the defense is based upon the innocence of the defendant. In this case it is based upon his depravity, and Diggs hides behind the skirts of his wife and child."

"There is no conclusion possible," he continued, "but that he coerced promise of marriage."

"When Diggs got to Reno, he intended to abandon the girl, and by the same promise of marriage he tried to get Miss Warrington to swear falsely to save him.

"Diggs showed his character by his relations with the Warrington girl in his own home, in the sanctuary of his own wife, while she was absent," thundered Roche. "He might have been forgiven for this, but when he afterward requested his wife to invite into that same home the girl, that was the most cowardly crime on the character."

"The case will go to the jury this evening."

In case of a mistrial or a hung jury, Roche says there will be an immediate new trial.

TOWN TOPICS

Game After Deer.—E. H. Lawrence, the cigar manufacturer, and Dr. West-erford left this afternoon for Round Lake, where they expect to slay a deer or two. They are making the trip in Lawrence's big runabout.

Kip VanRiper Sick.—Kip VanRiper of VanRiper Brothers is absent from his post of duty in the store today, owing to illness. He has been feeling unwell for several days.

Free Art Exhibit.—Of more than usual interest is a collection of paintings representing the buildings under course of construction at the exposition grounds in San Francisco, which are on display at the White Pelican hotel. The paintings were brought by Director of Exhibits Colvin Brown, and the public is invited to see them.

Return to S. P.—Arthur Arlett and U. G. McDougall, contractor and architect of the White Pelican Hotel and the Klamath County court house, have returned to San Francisco, after a visit of several days here.

Some Drive.—D. C. Barker, the Princeton speed fiend, brought over a load of Development segue delegates from Redmond in his big Chalmers car Tuesday, but did not clip any time from the record he established on his return trip from Klamath Falls July 4th. On that trip Mr. Barker made the 217 miles in 7 hours and 55 minutes. This was not the actual running time, but included all stops, and is considered by all car drivers to be a record that will stand for some time to come.

CENTRAL OREGON LEAGUE SESSION

A response to the welcoming words of the Judge and Mayor was made by the president of the league, William Hanley of Burns. On the platform Mr. Hanley looks a great deal like William Jennings Bryan, and has the same easy pose and ready flow of words as the "Boy Orator."

With much suppressed merriment—and some that wasn't suppressed—he recalled the days when Klamath Falls was known as Linkville—"a little burg of a few snakes and a frog or two—maybe three. But it was a good place, even in those days." He spoke of the idle waters in our rivers, the wasted moisture in our skies, and told of the wonderful things to be when the rivers had been properly harnessed and the moisture conserved and utilized.

Mrs. Don J. Zumwalt sang "Carmena," a beautiful selection, splendidly rendered. In response to an insistent encore, Mrs. Zumwalt touchingly interpreted "The Last Rose of Summer." Both selections were vastly pleasing. The piano accompaniments were skillfully rendered by Miss Almee Wing.

The next speaker was A. W. Orton of Portland, former register of the land office for this district, who had made himself useful during the song recital by holding the music for Miss Wing. "I'd rather listen to the music, or hold the music," said Mr. Orton, while the audience laughed. "However, I'll tell you about the Oregon land laws, and suggest a few changes." He then explained Homestead, Desert, Timber and Stone, Isolated Tract and Adjoining laws. He made a strong plea for the doing away with the residence clause of the homestead law.

Dr. James Withycombe of the Oregon Agricultural College, talked on development work in general, making the farm attractive in particular. "Not 'back to the farm,' but 'stay on the farm,' should be our slogan," said the speaker. "We have 45,000 farm boys in Oregon, and let's keep them there. There is where they should be, not in the cities." The doctor swatted the "powers that be" for cutting down the appropriation for normal schools.

After the program for the evening had been concluded, the committee of arrangements held a session, at which the program for today and Thursday was altered to conform with the arrival of the different speakers from a distance.
