

Caminetti Is Denied an Instructed Verdict Engineer and Flagman Under Arrest

MRS. DIGGS TELLS COURT OF TALKS WITH CAMINETTI

BLAMED HIM FOR LEADING HUSBAND AWAY

Wife of Convicted Sacramento Is a Witness for Government Against Husband's Pal—Believed That the Case Will Go to the Jury by Tomorrow Afternoon—Mrs. Diggs' Story Refutes Caminetti.

United Press Service SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—Federal Judge Van Fleet this afternoon denied the motion of the defense in the Caminetti trial to instruct the jury to bring in a verdict of acquittal.

"There has been sufficient evidence introduced to convict Caminetti, if the jury finds it to be true," said the judge.

It is expected that the case will go to the jury tomorrow.

Caminetti gave evidence today designed to show that he and Diggs were frightened by the threats of killing made by the older Diggs and Thomas Warrington. He was not cross examined, as he did not attack the testimony of Miss Warrington and Miss Norris.

In describing a conversation with Mrs. Diggs, he testified that she addressed him as follows:

"You have long been a snake to me. Now I am going to take action."

Caminetti said he finally induced her not to take any action. He said that she was nervous, and had not slept for a week.

The witness declared that it was Miss Warrington, not he and Diggs, who persuaded Miss Norris to go to Reno.

"I told Caminetti that he was responsible for Maurey's running around with those girls," said Mrs. Diggs. "They are nothing but home-wreckers, and I told Caminetti that if I caught Maurey with them I would shoot him like a dog."

"Caminetti begged me to refrain." Following the testimony of Mrs. Diggs, Prosecutor Roche opened the arguments to the jury.

Carl Browne Is an Inventor

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 2.—Carl Browne, who won fame more than twenty years ago as the first lieutenant of Jacob Cooey in Cooey's army, is trying to become an inventor in Washington. In fact, he has a machine which he calls the "octoplane," which he believes will fly better than anything so far made.

Now Browne describes himself as the "Admiral of the Aerial Ocean."

"Perhaps I am. I never made any money at it, but I have lived a full life."

HORSEFLY PEOPLE SEEK GOVERNMENT AID FOR DISTRICT

WILL TAKE MATTER UP WITH DIRECTOR NEWELL

Plan as Outlined at Present is to Have the Reclamation Service Take Up the Construction of Part of the Project on a Co-operative Basis—The Water Users Will Build Their Own Laterals, It is Said.

Government aid in the construction of the Horsefly irrigation district is one of the matters which will be presented to Director Newell of the reclamation service when he visits here, says a local rumor.

It is said that the officials of the organization which is working for the irrigation of Longhill and Yonma Valleys, plan to ask the reclamation service to construct the main reservoir and the main canal for their system. The laterals and other waterways, the land owners plan to build themselves.

This, it is argued, could be done much cheaper by the water users themselves, who could utilize in this way the time when work is slack on the ranches.

Another matter that will come before Newell while here will be the marsh land reclamation matter. It has been figured that it will require $60,000 to change the canals in order to furnish the Van Brimmer ditch with water from the Upper Lake, instead of from the Lower Lake, in accordance with the water rights of the land owners.

The marsh land owners believe that the land under the Van Brimmer ditch will be greatly benefited by getting a better quality of water for irrigating, and they believe they should bear a share of the expense.

THREE KILLED BY AIRSHIPS

THE SAN DIEGO ARMY AVIATION SCHOOL IS SCENE OF FATALITY—TWO GERMAN OFFICERS PERISH

United Press Service SAN DIEGO, Sept. 4.—Lieutenant Moss Love of the United States Army Aviation corps, was killed by a fall from a monoplane here today.

Love fell 200 feet, landing in the center of North Island in San Diego Bay, where the army aviation school is located.

The cause of the accident has not been discovered.

United Press Service BRIDGE, Germany, Sept. 4.—Lieutenants Eckenbrecher and Prince were killed today when their monoplane capsized in mid air.

It has been discovered that the waste from dogwood shuttle blocks can be profitably made into handles for steel knives and forks.

South African creameries produce 8,000,000 pounds of butter yearly.

NEW STREET IS BEING OPENED

THOROUGHFARE CONNECTS THE MILLS ADDITION WITH MAIN STREET NEAR THE RAILROAD CROSSING

Work of opening New Main street was commenced this morning by the city. This street runs from Stabel street in Mills addition diagonally across the Klamath Development company's property to Main street at the railroad crossing.

The opening of this thoroughfare gives the Mills addition people a shorter route to the business part of the city. The street will also be used by much traffic while Sixth street is torn up for improvement work.

CRUELTY CHARGED IN DIVORCE SUIT

WIFE OF LOST RIVER RANCHER SAYS SHE HAS BEEN SUBJECT TO MEAN TALK BY THE HUSBAND

Alleging cruel treatment, Mrs. Clara Ream today commenced a suit for separation from Edward Ream, a well known Klamath county rancher. Mrs. Ream is represented by Stone & Gale.

In her complaint she alleges that her husband has habitually addressed her in sneering and insolent terms, and that he has permitted the ranch hands to do so.

She asks a third interest in the ranch on Lost River.

MRS. GRIGSBY W.C.T.U. LEADER

LOCAL WOMAN ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE COUNTY UNION. THE CONVENTION AT MERRILL IS INTERESTING

The following officers were elected at Wednesday afternoon's county convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, held at Merrill:

President—Mrs. B. S. Grigsby. Vice President—Mrs. J. P. Harter. Secretary—Miss M. M. Carleton. Treasurer—Mrs. O. A. Stearns. In addition, Mrs. Harter was elected delegate to the state convention, to be held at Corvallis this month.

Wednesday's meetings were of great interest to those in attendance. At the afternoon session, Rev. Mrs. McCollough of Medford, who presided, talked of the department work of the organization, telling of the flower mission, soldiers' and sailors' missions, white ribbon work, etc.

Rev. Carle of Medford spoke on the prospect of congressional prohibition of the sale and manufacture of liquor. Miss Carleton took up the question of teaching temperance through the schools and the Sunday schools.

In the evening Rev. Mrs. McCollough's subject was "The Value of Temperance, Right Living and High Ideals."

MANY CHANGES MADE IN THE LOCAL SCHOOL

MANUAL TRAINING AND DOMESTIC SCIENCE ADDED

Teachers Will Meet Saturday to Get Acquainted and to Discuss Work for the Coming Year—Primary Pupils Will Attend Only Half a Day—Assembly Will Be a Feature of Seventh and Eighth Grade Work

With the opening of school but a few days away, members of the school board, and especially City School Superintendent R. H. Dunbar, are busily engaged in arranging details.

A meeting of all the city teachers will be called to order at the Central school at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. At this meeting pertaining to the year's work will be discussed, and the teachers will become acquainted. With the exception of grades 7 and 8, the boundaries will be the same as before, viz.: Mills—South of Main and east of the railroad. Riverside—West of Sixth street. Central—East of Sixth street. Shippington—Shippington and Pelican City.

The Seventh and Eighth grades will attend the Central school, where the pupils will be in direct touch with the manual training and domestic science departments, inaugurated this year.

It is the idea of the head of the school to more fully develop the interesting and valuable features of the assembly for the older pupils. At stated intervals the two higher grammar grades will gather to hear talks by local men and women of prominence as well as by visitors.

The work of the Seventh and Eighth grades will be departmental this year. This will be handled by Miss Augusta Parker, Miss Clara Elmer, domestic science; D. C. Morris, manual training, and Miss Gail Ross, principal.

"There has been almost a complete change of textbooks this year," said Mr. Dunbar this afternoon. "However, it has been arranged that pupils will be given the privilege of turning their old books in for part payment on the new sets. All the pupils should exchange in this way as far as they can."

"Pupils will convene in the various rooms occupied last year on Monday morning. Those who were regularly promoted will be moved on in order." "The primary grades at the Riverside and Central schools will only have half day sessions this year," continued the superintendent. "We feel that school is hard for the little fellows, and under the hours they have been attending heretofore they have been in school only forty minutes more than half a day. All the primary pupils are requested to meet at the various schools Monday, in order to allow the arrangement of the plan."

There are 765 heroes on the Carnegie hero fund commissions list. The oldest person on this roll of honor is Martin D. Wade of Bradford, Pa., age 87; the youngest is R. Kenneth Oliver of Tampico, Ill., age 11. Both of these heroes rescued people who were in imminent danger of being run over by trains.

They Fight the Currency Bill

Representatives Hardwick of Georgia and Henry of Texas, two of the best known members of the house of representatives, have refused to accept the suggestion of President Wilson that all democrats there vote for the Owen-Glass currency bill. They will not have it in its present form, and there does not seem to be any chance for Leader Underwood to control them.

They have been backing up Representative Ragsdale, a new member, and a banker, who has begun a fight on the measure. Whether or not they, with the senatorial opposition against the bill, will cause its defeat or radical change is an open question in Washington.

The water of the Nile is reported to be lower than ever at the present time and some fears are felt over the cotton crop.

ENGINEER AND FLAGMAN HELD FOR BIG WRECK

BONDS FOR BOTH REFUSED BY AUTHORITIES

Both Men Are Kept Away from the Newspaper Men—Inquest Tomorrow Will Be Behind Closed Doors. Fireman's Brotherhood Offers Bail for Engineer. But This is Refused. Are Denied Right to Counsel.

United Press Service

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 4.—Engineer Miller of the White Mountain express and Flagman Murray are held in jail in connection with the collision of the White Mountain express and the Bar Harbor express Tuesday morning, when over a score were killed while in their berths.

Both men have been refused bonds. They have not been permitted to make statements.

The inquest will be held tomorrow. This will be secret, and the list of the witnesses has not been announced.

The reporters have been barred from interviewing Murray and Miller. The two will speak for the first time regarding the accident tomorrow morning at the investigation being conducted by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Coroner Mix admitted today that the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen had offered to post bonds for Miller's release, and that this was refused by the authorities.

No formal charges have been placed against the men. They are held at the order of the coroner, and have been denied the right to counsel.

Brooklyn Grooms Ohio Motorcyclists

United Press Service NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Ohio members of the State Federation of American Motorcyclists, who left Cleveland Tuesday on their annual reliability tour, received a rousing reception when they arrived here today. They will remain for the celebration of the anniversary of the birth of the Federation of American Motorcyclists, which is to be held in Brooklyn tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday, and knows fully its needs.

In addition, he has just returned from the International Sunday School Conference at Lake Geneva, Switzerland, where the most successful ideas used all over the world were brought out in discussion. He will tell of this meeting while here, and make suggestions regarding carrying on the work locally.

The sessions will be held in the Presbyterian church. The program arranged follows: (Continued on page 2)

Have Anderson and Dick Donald Parted Company? Local Friends Are Unable to Determine This

Whether Bud Anderson, the Van cover lightweight, and Dick Donald, his manager, have parted, or whether Donald, like other Astoria magnates, is expanding, are matters that puzzle the local fight fans, all of whom are string boosters for the two boys.

Word has been received from Medford that Donald is there with Bud Boyd, a young lightweight of promise, who is matched to meet Frankie Edwards of Oakland there during the Jackson county fair. Edwards was defeated twice by Anderson in Klamath Falls.

Letters received from Donald are to the effect that young Boyd is a comer, and has all the appearance of being built out of championship stuff. Dick says he is clever for a youngster, has a good punch, and with a little experience ought to become a top-notch.

In all of the epistles penned by Donald to Klamath Falls friends there is no mention made of Anderson in any way. As the relationship between them has always been that of fast friends, rather than that of fighter and manager, this causes some to wonder.

Interesting Program Arranged for County Sunday School Convention Which Will Be Held Here Saturday

The fourth annual county Sunday school convention, which will be held here Saturday and Sunday, will be the largest and most important in the history of the movement, say those who are locally in charge of the session. A program has been arranged, including addresses by representatives from all parts of the county.

Rev. Charles A. Phipps, field secretary of the Oregon State Sunday School Association, will be here from Portland to address the meeting, and to conduct some of the department work. Rev. Phipps has long been associated with this work in the state.
