COATICOOK, Sept. 6.—Harry K. Thaw will probably be detained here until September 14th, the day before the Montreal court reviews his case.

Prosecutor Jerome of New York did not appear this morning for his hearing on a charge of gambling.

Jerome's counsel entered his appearance, and upon their motion the case was continued until September 11th.

"Jerome may think that Coaticook is a suburb, and that he can play poker if he wants to, but we will enforce the law," said Judge McKee, in continuing the case.

"We will show Mr. Jerome that he can't play cards for money here. He will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law."

An affidavit by Thomas Belle McGinnis, who framed the immigration law, was attached to the writ of habeas corpus issued yesterday.

This asserted that the board of immigration commissioners had proceeded illegally in its inquiry when it held Thaw deportable. He said the board had filed no complaint with the minister of the interior, as the law requires.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 6.—Denouncing the navy board which investigated the riots resulting from the speech of Secretary Daniels of the navy department at Seattle, Congressman James W. Bryan of Washington this afternoon tried to force a congressional investigation.

He was defeated on a point of order.

During the debate period Bryan, Congressman William E. Humphrey and Congressman Albert Johnson, both also from the Evergreen state, made remarks so bitter that they were on the verge of a fist fight on the floor.

After a wild tumult, Speaker Clark finally restored order after much wailing of the gavel.

BERLIN, Sept. 6.—Work was begun today in the City of Duisburg, on the Rhine, on what will be the first municipally owned hotel in the German empire.

There has been need of a first class hotel in the city for some time, but no one cared to build it owing to unfavorable financial conditions. The city council therefore decided last week to build it and run it. The plan will be closely watched by other cities in Germany.

Senators Who Oppose the Administration's Bill

Senator Owen, Senator Hitchcock, Senator O'Gorman

Strong men on the democratic side of the senate have made up their minds that the currency bill as now framed will not do.

Among them are Senator Owen of Oklahoma with Representative Glass of Virginia, an author of the bill; Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, and Senator O'Gorman of New York. Yet the president has come forth in endorsement of the measure.

The fight will probably not become interesting while the Mexican situation holds the spotlight. But since the president has said he wishes congress to act on the measure before adjournment it is considered in Washington a fight will be had with the three senators among the democratic senators against the democratic president.

TEACHERS ARRIVE FOR YEAR'S WORK

SCHOOL BELLS WILL BE RINGING ALL OVER THE COUNTY MONDAY MORNING—MANY LEAVE CITY TODAY

If Klamath Falls has been more than "long" on any one thing in the last few days, it has been education, for every incoming train has brought pedagogues from other places who have been engaged to teach the three R's and other subjects to Klamath county's embryo citizens.

Miss Hilda Brooten, who is to teach at Fort Klamath, arrived last night from Corning, Calif. Miss Theresa Beckett, who is also to teach there, came in Friday. Today both left for the Fort.

Miss Ava Holmes is here from Reno to teach the primary grade at Malin. Miss Della Major, who is also to teach at Malin, came in on Friday's train with her sister, Mrs. Leo Marovich, who will teach at Merrill. They are from Nebraska.

Miss Rose Quast is expected this evening from Minnesota. She has been engaged to teach the Plevna school. Miss Neria McKee of Independence, who will teach at Fairview, is also due to arrive this evening.

The instructors who have been arriving here during the week are leaving today for the districts where they are to teach. In nearly every district school will commence Monday morning.

COUNTY SCHOOL HEAD PURCHASES PROPERTY AT THE CORNER OF EIGHTH AND FRANKLIN STREETS

That Fred Peterson, superintendent of county schools, has faith in the future of Klamath Falls was evidenced this afternoon when he purchased, through the R. E. Smith Realty company, the J. L. Longdon property at the corner of Eighth and Franklin streets.

The former owner of this property lives in Washuena, Wash., and had instructed the Smith Realty company to dispose of the entire property, lot, house, and complete furnishings.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson will take possession of their new home immediately.

CAMINETTI WILL FIGHT AGAINST HIS CONVICTION

MAY CARRY CASE TO THE U. S. SUPREME COURTS

New Trial Will Be Asked for Wednesday, the Day Set for Sentencing of Young Sacramentan, Says Attorney Conducting the Defense—Objection Is Made to Van Fleet's Instructions to the Jury Before Retiring

United Press Service

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—Attorney Woodworth, representing Drew Caminetti, who was yesterday convicted on one count of the indictment charging him with a violation of the Mann white slave law, says that the case will be carried higher.

Despite the conviction, he says, the case will go further.

"The first step will be a motion for a new trial," said Woodworth. "This will be made Wednesday, the date set for sentencing my client."

"I am pretty sure that this motion will be denied by Judge Van Fleet. In that case we will go to the Federal court of appeals, which will reach the case by February."

"I am positive," he concluded, "that this tribunal will reverse the ruling of Van Fleet."

Caminetti is the son of Andrew Caminetti, United States immigration commissioner. Prior to his appointment to this place, Caminetti Sr. was a member of the California legislature.

The defense bases its hope of reversing the case on the exceptions they made to the instructions of Van Fleet. They hold that these were somewhat biased.

FINDS PROPERTY OF SOME VALUE

TRACT PURCHASED BY WOMAN THIRTY YEARS AGO IS FOUND BY HER SON TO BE CLOSE TO THE CITY LIMITS

Coming to Klamath Falls to look up property bought by his mother more than thirty years ago, Osmond Royal was astonished to find the property situated a scant half mile from the city limits.

Mr. Royal arrived Friday, and at once commenced looking up the records.

"My mother bought this land thirty years ago, and none of us had ever seen it," said Mr. Royal. "When my mother died some time back, and the property passed into my hands, I decided to investigate and find out just what it amounted to."

"I fully expected to find a tract of land way off on the mountain side, and was agreeably surprised to find it so near such a thriving city as Klamath Falls. I shall take steps to have it improved and cultivated."

Mr. Royal is the Oregon representative for the Simplex and Mercer cars, and while in Klamath Falls may establish a branch agency for his machines.

Project Engineer W. W. Patch of the Reclamation service leaves tomorrow for Lookout, Calif., where he will attend a convention of farmers, etc., called by Congressman Baker.

TESTIMONY SHOWS THAT STEEL CARS WERE FURNISHED TO RICH COMMUTERS BY RAILWAY COMPANY

Representative Ragsdale of North Carolina

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 6.—Representative Ragsdale of North Carolina has lost his fight against the administration currency bill; but he made the kind of fight which proved to members of congress that he must be reckoned with. The adoption of the bill by the democratic caucus, virtually in the form in which it was written, marks the end of the new representative's fight.

Ragsdale, a banker, elected to congress last fall, went to Washington with the idea that his training had fitted him to deal with the currency question. He could not convince many that a first term, even if a banker, knew the question. But he began an attack, and it was not long before Leader Oscar W. Underwood had to bring his heaviest guns to bear to head off the new member. In the fight the house organization learned that Ragsdale is a man who must be taken into account when the house comes to the consideration of currency questions.

The body was half buried in the sand. Nearby were found a pillowcase and a sheet, both stained with blood.

BY RENTING CARS FOR THE YEAR MILLIONAIRES WERE GIVEN STEEL COACHES

Engineer Miller Tells Interstate Commerce Commissioner That for a Week Before the Wreck, He Was Also Making the Run for Another Locomotive Pilot Who Was Sick. Hearing Completed Today

United Press Service

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 6.—Interstate Commerce Commissioner McChord this morning recalled to the stand Engineer Miller, who had charge of the engine in the White Mountain express, which collided with the Bar Harbor express in Tuesday's fatal wreck.

Miller, when questioned, admitted that he did two men's work for a week before the wreck.

He stated that in addition to covering his own run, he also made the run for another engineer who was ill. G. L. Bardo, general manager for the New Haven Railroad, followed Miller.

He produced a statement showing that from August 1911, to July 1913, the directors of the company authorized the expenditure of $324,000 for the increase of the safety of its passengers. He said it had decided to hereafter buy nothing but steel coaches.

A. M. Smith, general passenger agent for the New Haven, testified that the railroad had ordered "club cars" of steel, to be used exclusively by rich commuters. These, he says, rent them annually for $3,000 a year. Millionaires summering along the New Haven's lines thus escape using the same equipment as the rest of the traveling public.

The hearing was closed immediately after this by Commissioner McChord.
