

SAYS HUMPHREYS IS A DISGRACE TO THE BENCH

SMITH DENIES ANY CONSPIRACY TOWARD HIM

Jurist Engaged in Battle Against Socialists Writes a Note to Judge Smith, Resenting Latter's Action in Releasing Prisoners on Habeas Corpus Proceedings—Smith Says It Was Only Fair Treatment.

United Press Service SEATTLE, Oct. 3.—Judge Humphreys disgraces the bench. There is no conspiracy against him. I acted alone in releasing the prisoners, as I thought it was the just course. Judge Humphreys will make this a public scandal.

This statement was made this morning by Superior Judge Smith, who late yesterday released on habeas corpus proceedings a number of socialists arrested at Humphrey's order. This morning Judge Smith received from Judge Humphreys a note saying that Smith's action in releasing the prisoners on habeas corpus was contrary to law, and warning him against disobeying the statutes.

In this, Humphrey asserted that the other two superior judges are conspiring against him.

"Do you remember how Judge Smith acted in the cases where the striking tailors were picketing the Vollman shop?" asked Judge Humphrey this morning. "Go down among the business men, and you will find that Judge Smith is not thought much of by them."

Charles Skinner, a barber, admitted in court to Humphrey that he signed the defendant affidavit. He was fined $100.

Robert Smith told Judge Humphrey that he signed the petition with malice aforethought, because he did not want the fact that he and Humphrey were personal friends to prevent punishment. Smith was fined $100.

The court room is so crowded that it is impossible to enter or leave.

Pennsylvania Prohibits Meet

United Press Service HARRISBURG, Penn., Oct. 3.—National Chairman V. G. Hinshaw of Chicago, Eugene W. Chafin, Prohibition candidate for the presidency in 1908 and 1912, Dan Polling and others nationally prominent in the party were expected to be on hand when the Prohibition State Committee met here today to plan its fall campaign in Pennsylvania. The Prohibitionists named their own county tickets and held aloof from any alliance this year. In line with the policy expected to prevail in the next gubernatorial election.

TO TAG PET PELICANS

Mrs. Bath Will See if Unique Pets Return in Spring

Will pelicans that have become tamed, be as tame when they return next year, or will they shun the approach of humans?

This is a question that Mrs. Louis Bath, Klamath Falls' woman game warden, is seeking to answer by fastening identification tags to the feet of several birds.

During the present summer, half a dozen big white pelicans that have remained close to the bridge, have been accustomed to go to the Navigation dock in answer to a call from Mrs. Bath, knowing that there was always a fish for them.

Following this, the birds have become real affectionate, and they daily visit the dock, follow Mrs. Bath around, and have even tried to enter the house. And on several occasions, when they had fishhooks lodged in

"SKEETER" AND DOBBINS HERE

COWPUNCHERS RETURN AFTER PARTICIPATING IN A NUMBER OF SHOWS—WILL SPEND THE WINTER IN KLAMATH

"Skeeter Bill" Robbins, the elongated broncho buster, who instills good humor and gameness as well as good riding into every appearance he makes, and his sidekick, Johnnie Dobbins, returned last night, after an absence of several months. They will spend the winter on a Klamath county ranch.

Immediately after the Elks' Rodeo, in which they both participated, the pair, accompanied by Jess Johnson of Merrill, went to Salinas, where they took some of the prizes at the Rodeo held there. From there they contested at the Toppenish, Wash., show, the Pendleton Round-Up, the Malheur county fair and the Boise Rodeo.

"Skeeter" was unable to compete at the Round-Up, owing to an injury. At all of the other shows he and his pals got in on the money, Dobbins taking all sorts of bulldogging prizes.

Jess Johnson will be here in a few days. He is entered in the competitions at the Wasco county fair.

MORGUE SELLING BODIES, CHARGE

HUNGARIAN MEDICAL STUDENTS FURNISHED WITH DISSECTION SUBJECTS AT DOLLAR-TWENTY THE CORPSE

United Press Service BUDAPEST, Oct. 3.—A sensation has been caused here by the formal charge today that the employees of the morgue have been selling human corpses for $1.20 each to medical students for "scientific purposes." When Frau Franziska Voros went to the morgue to claim the body of her mother, who had died suddenly, she was advised that it had been sold to the Anatomical Institute of the University of Budapest. Upon going there the body was refused her until she refunded the $1.20 paid to the morgue. When the body was sent home for burial, Frau Voros was horrified to find that the supposed body of her mother was the corpse of a man.

Investigation showed that the Anatomical Institute had "made a mistake" and sent the wrong corpse. An official investigation was started today.

LAND OFFICE AROUSES LANE

OREGON'S JUNIOR SENATOR PROTESTS AGAINST THE RED TAPE AND NUMEROUS CHANGES BEING MADE

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 3.—Senator Lane has grown weary with the methods of the government land office. He complained on the floor of the senate that about nine-tenths of his time was occupied trying to find out why some constituent is not allowed to prove up on his land and secure a title to it.

As a rule, he said, he found that the interior department had changed the rules and regulations after the settler had gone on the land, and that after complying with the law as he knew it when he entered the land, he found on proving up that there was a different set of regulations to comply with.

"Now in a civil contract," remarked the senator, "if one party to an agreement changes it, the other party has the same right. But the government reserves the right to change its rules and the settler cannot resist it. We are getting from day to day dozens of letters from my constituents involving such considerations. Now, if you grant wide discretionary powers to the president, the carrying of them out will fall upon the heads of bureaus in the interior department, or some one there. I think they have too much work, and too much discretionary power now. We should keep the legislative power of this government where it was legitimately intended to be in the first place, and not delegate these large grants of authority, to make rules and then allow somebody to change those rules, and so on, ad infinitum, until no man—not even a Philadelphia lawyer—can figure them out, and the settler is left up in the air."

PETROSKY TO MEET CLABBEY

WINNER WILL BE MATCHED WITH BOB McALLISTER, SAY SAN FRANCISCO BOXING AUTHORITIES

United Press Service SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Sailor Ed Petrosky of San Francisco and Jimmy Clabbeay are scheduled to meet here tonight in a twenty round contest.

The winner probably will be matched to meet Bob McAllister, who already has fought two twenty round draws with Petrosky.

Joe Griffin will referee.

WILSON TO SIGN TARIFF MEASURE AT NINE TONIGHT

WILL BE MADE CEREMONIOUS OCCASION

Underwood, Simmons and Others Instrumental in Framing Measure, Will Be Invited to Be Present at the Signing—Speaker Clark and Vice President Marshall Will Sign the Bill During the Afternoon.

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 3.—The house adopted the conference tariff report by a viva voce vote. This followed the speaker's ruling that despite the senate's action on the bill last night, a re-approval would be necessary before Clark and Marshall signed it.

The bill reached the White House at 2:32.

Those invited to witness the signing of the bill include members of the ways and means committee, senate finance committee, Vice President Marshall, Speaker Clark and members of the cabinet.

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 3.—President Wilson expects to attach his signature to the Underwood tariff revision measure at 9 o'clock this evening.

As this is one of the greatest measures of the administration and the democrat party, it has been arranged to make the signing at the White House a ceremonious occasion.

Congressman Oscar Underwood, who introduced and helped to frame the bill, Chairman Simmons of the senate finance committee, and others who were instrumental in the framing and passage of the statute, have been invited to attend.

The bill was engrossed today as it was passed by the senate last night by a vote of 26 to 17. It was presented to the house.

The only remaining step is the house approval of the confere's report of the recession from the cotton futures section.

After this Vice President Marshall and Speaker Champ Clark will sign the bill and send it to the president.

'PRIEST' STARTS PANIC

Hurls 2-Dollar Bill, Wrapped in Beads, at Coroner

United Press Service NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—At the coroner's inquest today over the remains of Anna Aumiller, it was decided that the portions of her body which were found in the Potter's field unless some one came forward with the necessary funds to secure interment in consecrated ground.

Hans Schmidt, her murderer, who sat huddled up on the reporter's bench, when he heard this decision, jumped to his feet, with staring eyes, trembling with rage. He jerked something from his pocket, wrapped his rosary around it and threw it toward the coroner. His aim was bad, however, and he struck one of the reporters present in the face.

The spectators, alarmed at the man's action, and fearing some desperate act on his part, made frantic

GASOLINE EXPLOSION RESULTS IN COMPLETE DESTRUCTION OF BUSINESS HOUSE

Clapp Auto Company of This City Loses a Car, and White Falcon Auto Stage Is Also Burned Up. Seven Automobiles were Destroyed, in Addition to Entire Stock and the Firm's Accounts and Money

LAKEVIEW, Oct. 3.—As a result of a gasoline explosion late yesterday, the Baldwin & Gordon garage was completely destroyed by fire. Seven automobiles, all of the stock and the equipment and the company's books and collections were burned.

Among the cars destroyed were the two used by the Clapp Auto company and the Baldwin-Gordon company on the stage run between this city and Klamath Falls. J. M. Hanson, Dr. Daly, Manager Turman of the IT ranch and Dan Malloy all kept their autos at the garage, and these were all burned up.

In addition, there was an Overland car belonging to a party of tourists from California, whose names have not been ascertained.

The fire started at about 6 o'clock, as employees of the garage were filling a car's tank with gasoline. It is thought that some of the gasoline overflowed, and was set fire by some heated part of the automobile.

Immediately the machine was enveloped in a sheet of flame, and the blaze, fed by gasoline, spread rapidly. The volunteer fire department was unable to cope with the blaze, and the frame building and its contents was soon reduced to ashes.

Baldwin & Gordon's loss is figured at about $5,000. On this they have $1,000 insurance. In addition to the loss of their car, accessories, etc., the company also lost considerable electrical machinery, which recently arrived.

Another serious loss to the company is all of its account books. Manager Crosby yesterday afternoon collected considerable money due the firm, and as it was too late to put this in the bank, it was left in the garage, and was destroyed.

The building was the property of Dr. Daly. The loss of this and of the private cars in the garage will swell the damage list considerably.

"We do not know whether we will reopen a garage at Lakeview or not at present," said Mr. Gordon today. "Mr. Baldwin and I will go to Lakeview tomorrow and decide this."
