U. S. TROOPS READY TO MOVE

President Determined That Huerta Must Go Without Delay

LIND IS MAKING A FINAL MOVE FOR PEACE, AND, FAILING IN THIS STRONGER MEASURES WILL RESULT

OUTSIDE PRESSURE STRONG FOR ACTION ON THE PART OF U. S. TO END ROW

Mexican Congress Will Meet Saturday, and Much Depends Upon the Action They Take in the Matter. United States Will Flatly Refuse to Recognize Blangquett, Huerta's Henchman, as Mexican President.

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 30.—The army and navy is in readiness for service in Mexico.

President Wilson is in hopes that they will not be needed, but has decided to take this precaution. Transports and cruisers are held in readiness at strategic points on both coasts.

Wilson has positively decided that Huerta must go. He agrees with his advisors that conditions in the Southern Republic have become intolerable and must end immediately.

Outside pressure for the United States to end the fighting in Mexico is very strong.

Foreign diplomats in Mexico City have notified the White House that they see no chance for peace unless the United States resorts to force.

Ambassador Lind plans to make a final effort to deal with Huerta. Should he fail, Wilson will either resort to armed intervention to restore order, or recognize the Carranza rebels as the de facto government, and permit him to import arms.

It is not known how Lind will proceed. It is thought that he will renew the suggestion for a general armistice, and an election under surveillance of the civil authorities.

Meanwhile, the powers are reluctantly upholding America's policy. It is not believed that recognition of Carranza will satisfy them, as it involves further fighting.

Wilson has prepared his complete declaration to the powers, but has decided not to submit it to his cabinet until next week. He wishes to see what the Mexican congress will do. If either Huerta or Blangquett will refuse to recognize him. In making this notification, Wilson defines a new policy that may involve intervention.

SUFF SOLDIERS LATEST PROJECT

LONDON MILITANTS ARRANGING TO DRILL AND ARM MEN AND WOMEN WHO ARE FIGHTING FOR THE BALLOT

LONDON, Oct. 30.—A suffrage army, well drilled and armed, ready, if necessary, to literally fight for the vote, is the latest scheme of the militant suffragettes. Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, who is out of jail on a "mouse" license, has expressed her readiness to personally lead the army, and she is appealing for volunteers to instruct her followers in jiu-jitsu and regular military drill.

LISTEN, LOVERS OF LITERATURE

THERE'S A TREAT IN STORE FOR YOU AFTER THE NEW YEAR THAT YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO MISS

Opie Read, that delightful delineator of the quaint Southern character, will visit Klamath Falls the latter part of January. This is the good news that will gladden the hearts of all lovers of one class of the leading American literature.

Read is an exponent of the Old South, and years of residence among the characters that he so faithfully portrays has given a grasp of the mannerisms and modes of a character that is now seldom found that has never been equaled.

Arrangements have been made with the Redpath-Priest Lyceum Bureau to have Read appear here about the 21st of January, and on that occasion he will appear in the character of "The Old Story Teller."

COURTHOUSE JOB TO STOP; LIBRARY TO BE HURRIED

WORKINGMEN WILL HAVE ALL-WINTER JOB

Court House Construction More Than Half Finished at an Expenditure of Less Than $80,000—Court is Certain Work Will Be Finished Within the Limit of Cash Specified—Present Fund is About Exhausted.

Construction work on the new $165,000 county court house will stop in a few days. Workmen are now engaged in covering up the walls preparatory to suspending building for the winter.

With the cessation of work on the court house, the workmen are to be started on the construction of the $24,000 Carnegie library building, which is to be built on the court house block. This is to be rushed with all possible haste, and completed as soon as possible.

"The work on the court house will cease for the winter because we have nearly exhausted the fund for its construction raised by special levy," said Judge Worden today. "As soon as this fund is replenished work will be resumed."

"Work on the building has reached such a stage that people need have no fear of the structure being in any way damaged by weather conditions. There is no possible danger."

"The court house is now more than half finished, and so far less than $80,000 has been expended. The court is positive that the cost of the completed court house, etc., will be well within the $165,000 limit."

"With the suspension of work on the court house, work will be started on the Carnegie library. This will be rushed this fall, as it is the intention to get it under roof before winter sets in."

"Work on the library will continue all winter, until the building is finished. This will give employment to a number of artisans, carpenters, etc., all winter, who otherwise would be idle."

"The court, in the library construction, will follow the same policy as in the court house work. We will insist on local people being given employment."

MANY DANCING TICKETS SOLD

HALLOWEEN AT MOOSE HALL PROMISES TO BE A SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR — CARDS WILL ALSO BE PLAYED

The sale of tickets for the Halloween dancing party to be given at Moose hall tomorrow night indicates that the party to be given by the ladies of Sacred Heart church will be a great success financially. The program arranged insures the social success.

The Tindal orchestra has been engaged to play for the dancing, which will continue until midnight. For those not caring to dance, cards will be a feature. A luncheon will be served during the evening.

KLAMATH COWBOY RIDES 'GRIZZLY'

JACKSON COUNTY'S UNRIDABLE BRONCHO FAILS UTTERLY IN TRYING TO THROW COBURN TO THE DUST

At the bucking contest held at the ball park Tuesday afternoon, Coburn, one of Klamath county's riders, succeeded in riding "Grizzly Murphy."

Coburn is without a doubt the best rider ever seen in this section. He rode the outlaw until both man and horse were dripping with sweat. With the exception of one critical moment Coburn rode straight up, without using any four holds.

It could not be called a straight up ride, yet everyone agreed that Coburn did the best riding seen here this season. The rider was put at a disadvantage in not wearing boots. Having a sore foot, from being stepped upon, he was compelled to ride with ordinary shoes, in this way losing strength in gripping.—Medford Sun.

SECOND CAVALRY ORDERED TO LEAVE HORSES AT FORT BLISS AND EMBARK

Second Division of the Army is Held in Readiness at Galveston—Destination of the Army Transports is Kept Secret by the Commanding Officers, But Preparations Indicate That it is Vera Cruz.

United Press Service GALVESTON, Oct. 30.—Colonel Frank West, commanding the Second Cavalry stationed at Fort Bliss, was today ordered to proceed here with his entire command, leaving the horses at the barracks.

Army transports are waiting in the harbor here for the troops to embark. It is problematic where the transports will go. It has been stated that they will go either to New York or to Vera Cruz.

Officers are silent on this matter. The preparations being made indicate that Vera Cruz is the port of destination.

The second division of the army is here, kept in readiness to move at a moment's notice.

LEAVENWORTH, Oct. 30.—The second squadron of the Fifteenth Cavalry has been ordered to proceed at once to Fort Huachuca on the Arizona border.

This leaves only twenty detached men at the post here to do police duty.

The rest of the 1,500 troops formerly stationed here are in Texas.

Oils distilled from the needles of spruce and fir trees are being used to scent petroleum floor oils which are sometimes objectionable on account of their odor.

Partly owing to heavy purchases of cigarette tobacco, the United States of late has become Turkey's best customer, next to Great Britain, France ranking third and Germany fourth.

No Salmon Below Dam

Hatchery Responsible For Shortage Felt Here

The question of why the annual run of salmon has not made its appearance in the Klamath River as usual has been investigated and the cause determined beyond any question of doubt. There has been discussion as to the cause of a lack of salmon run into the headwaters for the purpose of reproduction; and as a result the California-Oregon Power company was insisted on an investigation to determine if the cause lay in any way at the Klamath River dam under construction in California.

At the request of this company, and in the interests of the fishing industry in Southern Oregon, a most thorough investigation was made. No

DOAK RANCH IS A BUSY PLACE

FOUR MILLION FEET OF LOGS WILL BE PLACED IN THE WATER—RECLAMATION AND CONSTRUCTION CREWS BUSY

(Herald Special Service) ODESSA, Oct. 30.—Much business is in evidence along the shores of Ball's Bay. D. P. Doak is moving along fine with his part of it.

James Douglas, Doak's efficient foreman, plans to put 4,000,000 feet of logs in the lake this winter. Thirty tons of mill feed have been taken to the bay to feed the stock used in the work.

In addition to this big logging enterprise, much other work is being done at the Doak ranch. This includes the reclamation of swamp land and the building of roads and fences.

Refuses $500 an Acre

Nitschelm Believes Tract Worth More For Garden

The value of a truck garden in Klamath county is shown to a certain extent in the refusal of Fred Nitschelm of an offer for $500 an acre made for his ten acre garden plot just outside the city limits, in Mills addition.

The land was purchased a few years ago at a figure much lower. He started gardening in a scientific manner, and has raised produce enough to net him a comfortable income, as the Nitschelm garden truck is always in demand.

The Enterprise Land and Investment company, whose holdings adjoin the Nitschelm garden, have been after this tract for some time. Last year an offer of $5,000 was made for the plot by the company, but it was refused.

Again this year the company renewed its offer to Mr. Nitschelm. And again he refused to consider it.
